

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, Jan. 20, 1898.

To the Honorable Senate and the House of Representatives.

I have the honor to submit, in accordance with section 2 of chapter 262 of the Acts of 1892, the sixth annual report of the transactions of this office, covering the year ending with the 31st of December, 1897. Accompanying this report are the sheriffs' returns and the returns of liquor licenses. As stated in my report of last year, the returns of registers of deeds, which formerly appeared with this report, are no longer made to the Secretary, the act requiring such returns having been repealed by chapter 443 of the Acts of 1896.

In addition to the duties previously assigned to this office, the Legislature of 1897 commissioned the Secretary to print the Bradford History; to investigate and report whether or not the rolls of the colonial forces engaged in the Louisburg expedition of 1745 are in England, and copies thereof can be obtained (chapter 16 of the Resolves); and by the act to provide for the payment of bounties to Massachusetts soldiers in certain cases (chapter 179), he was made a member of a commission to adjudicate claims for such bounties under that act.

The regular work of the office has steadily increased, necessitating some additions to the clerical force.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

The receipts from fees, etc., amounted to $59,566.54, and were from the following sources:—

Commissions,	$10,590 00
Corporation certificates,	22,436 70
Limited partnerships,	42 00
Licenses,	21,671 50
Sale of early laws, blank books, etc.,	1,357 74
Labels, trade marks, etc.,	242 00
Miscellaneous, { Certificates,	$655 25
Revolutionary Records,	1,634 95
Copies,	936 40
	3,226 60
	$59,566 54

These fees were paid into the treasury monthly, and a quarterly report thereof was made to the Governor and Council, as required by law.

The expenses for salaries were $37,257, of which $1,860 was for the publication of the early laws. The incidental expenses of the office were $3,609.24.

COMMISSIONS.

The number of commissions issued was 2,338 (an increase over 1896 of 153), of which 572 were without fee. The different classes were as follows : —

Justices of the peace,	1,492
Notaries public,	579
Trustees, commissioners, etc.,	96
Commissioners in other States,	24
District police,	23
Justices of the peace to issue warrants and take bail,	21
Trial justices,	17
Justices and special justices, municipal, district and police courts,	14
Masters in chancery,	11
Special commissioners,	10
Medical examiners,	10
Commissioners to qualify,	10
Public warehousemen,	10
Clerks, municipal, district and police courts,	9
Pilots,	4
Public administrators,	2
Commissioners in foreign countries,	2
Supervisors of registration,	2
Judge of probate and insolvency,	1
Sheriff,	1

There were also issued 354 commissions to supervisors of election.

Certificates to the number of 3,004 were issued (an increase of 22 over 1896), of which 383 were without fee.

I recommend the passage of an act requiring county commissioners to return to this office a certificate of the qualification of officers taking their oaths of office before them.

I also recommend the passage of an act requiring each State board and commission to report its organization to this office, together with the name of its secretary or principal executive officer.

I suggest for the consideration of the Legislature the advisability of prescribing certain qualifications which shall be necessary to obtain a commission as justice of the peace. There is at present no such requirement in the statutes, although it is true that the executive department prints on its form of application for appointment a certificate that the person recommended is a citizen of the United States, a resident of Massachusetts, more than twenty-one years of age, and of high standing and character. Many papers are received at this office executed by justices of the peace in a manner which betrays gross incompetence on the part of the magistrate, and it would seem proper to enact that a justice of the peace shall be a citizen of the United States, a resident of Massachusetts, more than twenty-one years of age, of high standing and character, and fully competent to discharge all the duties of the office.

I recommend that the acts providing for the appointment of women as special commissioners (chapter 252 of 1883, 197 of 1889 and 476 of 1896) be amended by limiting the term of such commissioners to seven years, and requiring a fee of five dollars, as in the case of justices of the peace. These commissioners are practically justices of the peace; but, as the law now stands, the justices are obliged to pay a commission fee of five dollars, and their term is limited by the Constitution to seven years, while the commissioners are required to pay no fee and are appointed for life. The original act providing for the appointment of special commissioners confined such appointments to women who are attorneys-at-law. The law so remained from 1888 to 1896, during which period, nine years, only ten appointments were made. In 1896, however, the qualification referred to was removed, and during the years 1896 and 1897 the number of appointments more than doubled. There are now thirty-six of these commissions in existence; and I recommend that, in case the Legislature sees fit to limit the term of new appointments, those which have run seven years or more be terminated and a new appointment required, and that none shall extend beyond the term of seven years.

CORPORATION DIVISION.

The total number of certificates of incorporation issued under general laws to new corporations was 508 (an increase from 1896 of 36), classified as follows : —

Manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under Public Statutes, chapter 106, section 21),	259
Religious, charitable, social, educational, musical, athletic, etc., corporations (under Public Statutes, chapter 115, section 4),	184
Churches (under Acts of 1887, chapter 404),	31
Fraternal beneficiary corporations (under Acts of 1894, chapter 367),	20
Street railway corporations (under Public Statutes, chapter 113),	9
Labor organizations (under Acts of 1888, chapter 134),	2
Mutual insurance company (under Acts of 1894, chapter 522),	1
Co-operative bank (under Public Statutes, chapter 117),	1
Library (under Public Statutes, chapter 40),	1

One certificate of incorporation was filed by a Roman Catholic Church, under Public Statutes, chapter 38, sections 48, 49 and 50.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and recorded was 3,005 (an increase of 164). Of these, 2,141 were certificates of condition of Massachusetts corporations (under section 54, chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); 259 were certificates of organization of manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); 184 were certificates of religious, charitable and other organizations (under chapter 115 of the Public Statutes); 246 were certificates of payment of capital in manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); and the remainder were distributed among 13 different classes.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and not recorded was 955 (an increase of 78), of which 856 were certificates of condition of foreign corporations, and the remainder were divided among 12 other classes.

There were issued 18 certificates of change of name of corporations (a decrease of 7).

Returns were received of the dissolution of 36 corporations by the supreme judicial court (a decrease of 15).

Details of all these statistics appear in the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations, published by this office (Public Document, No. 10).

Under the act relating to the incorporation of clubs, one certificate of incorporation which had been issued to a club was declared void and no further effect, upon evidence that the premises of the club were used for illegal purposes. A charter was refused applicants in one case under said act, and there were 3 withdrawals by the parties originally making the application for incorporation.

Section 8 of chapter 105 of the Public Statutes provides that a corporation created by charter, if no time is limited therein, shall be organized within two years from the passage of its act of incorporation. As there is no provision of law for a public record of the organization of corporations above referred to, and it is of importance in connection with matters of record pertaining to corporations in this office to know whether a corporation has been duly organized under its charter, and what amount of capital stock, if any, has been fixed upon with which to commence business, I recommend the passage of an act requiring some evidence of the organization of such corporations to be filed in this office.

Under the provisions of section 31 of chapter 106 of the Public Statutes and chapter 500 of the Acts of the year 1894, a corporation authorized to carry on any mechanical, mining, manufacturing, mercantile, co-operative trade or fishery business, also to erect and maintain a hotel, public hall or building for manufacturing purposes, or to carry on any lawful business not hereinbefore mentioned, may change the par value of its shares, provided that a certificate of such change shall within ten days thereafter be filed in this office.

Also, under the provisions of section 51 of chapter 106 of the Public Statutes, a manufacturing or mercantile corporation is permitted to alter, add to or change the business for the transaction of which it was incorporated, upon the vote of all its stockholders at a meeting duly called for the purpose; but such a corporation shall not engage in any business which is not authorized by the provisions of said chapter 106. Said section provides further that a certificate of such alteration, addition to or change of business shall be filed in this office.

In view of the fact that certificates pertaining to the payment, increase and reduction of capital, the annual certificates of condition, and certificates of authority granted corporations to open canals, etc., for the introduction and propagation herrings and alewives, filed under the provisions of sections 46, 54, 56, 57 and 58 of said chapter 106, are required to be submitted, before filing, for approval to the Commissioner of Corporations, by section 59 of said chapter 106, I recommend the passage of such legislation as will require the certificate of change of par value of shares and the certificate of alteration of addition to or change of business referred to in said sections 31 and 51 of chapter 106 of the Public Statutes, to be likewise submitted, before filing, to the Commissioner of Corporations for his inspection and approval.

The question is sometimes asked this office whether our laws permit charitable, benevolent, literary, scientific, educational and similar corporations to alter, add to or change the purpose for which they were incorporated, by a proper vote at a meeting of the corporation called for the purpose, and the filing of a certificate in this office, in the same manner as manufacturing, mercantile and other business corporations are enabled to do under section 51 of chapter 106 of the Public Statutes. To illustrate: An historical or scientific corporation, unable at the time of its incorporation to foresee the need of a place for a reading-room, a library or a place for social meetings, to advance the interests of the corporation does not make any provision for such in its purpose, but later on recognizes the advisability of providing such a place. There is no way under existing laws whereby such a corporation can amend its purpose to attain the desired end, unless it incorporate anew, which many are reluctant to do. I therefore recommend the passage of an act which will enable such corporations to amend their purpose of incorporation.

Requests to surrender to this office certificates of incorporation of corporations are sometimes received. This happens generally in the case of corporations created under chapter 115 of the Public Statutes for charitable, benevolent, social and such purposes, and is due chiefly to the fact that they have either outlived their usefulness, or because active interest in the corporation on the part of the members has waned. Dissolution in such cases under existing laws by application to the supreme judicial court is not sought, owing principally to the lack of funds on the part of the corporation to pay the necessary expenses. I therefore recommend the passage of an act which will enable such corporations to become dissolved through this office.

Limited partnership certificates to the number of 42 were filed and recorded (an increase over 1896 of 7).

LABELS, TRADE-MARKS, ETC.

By chapter 462, Acts of 1895 (which repealed chapter 443, Acts of 1893, as amended by chapter 285 of the Acts of 1894), entitled "An Act to protect manufacturers from the use of counterfeit labels and stamps," the duty was placed upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth of receiving, filing and recording such labels, etc., and of issuing certificates of such filing and recording. Under this law, labels, trade-marks, stamps and forms of advertising were received and certificates of record issued in 121 cases (a decrease of 21).

MARKS AND DEVICES ON CANS, ETC.

By chapter 440 of the Acts of 1893, entitled "An Act to protect the owners of cans, bottles, boxes, siphons and fountains used in the sale of milk, cream, soda water, mineral and aerated waters, ale, beer, ginger ale or other beverages," it is made the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to receive and file descriptions of marks, devices, etc.; and under this law 38 such descriptions were received and filed (a decrease of 32).

REGISTRATION RETURNS.

The returns of births, marriages and deaths from the various cities and towns for the year 1896, which were received in 1897, cover 72,343 births, 23,651 marriages and 49,381 deaths,—a total of 145,375. This is an increase, as compared with the returns for 1895, of 4,798 births, 549 marriages and 1,841 deaths.

The medical examiners' returns cover 2,416 cases,—an increase of 99, as compared with the returns for 1895.

The returns by the clerks of the courts of the decrees of divorce number 1,610,—an increase of 469 over the last report.

All of these figures are compiled and presented fully in the Fifty-fifth Registration Report (Public Document, No. 1).

Six hundred and fifty certificates of records of births, marriages and deaths were issued during the year 1897 (143 births, 295 of marriages and 212 of deaths), principally used in State aid and pension claims.

The number of persons who consulted the returns during the year was 1,874, or an average of 156 monthly.

The card index to the registration returns, authorized by the Legislatures of 1893 and 1895, in accordance with recommendations in the first and third annual reports of this office is now complete and accessible for use. Serious delay in placing these cards in the metallic cases was caused by the failure of the contractors to deliver the cases seasonably, and I understand that the contractor for the work of writing and placing the cards suffered considerable loss thereby, and will probably bring in a bill for damages.

ARCHIVES.

No important additions to the archives have been made during the year, but the work of preservation and of the improvement of their condition has been done with conscientious care. Seventeen volumes of the revolutionary series and volumes of the archives proper have been newly mounted and bound; and the work will be continued from year to year, and every volume has been placed in excellent binding, and all wear and tear caused by the frequent handling hitherto necessary shall have been repaired as far as possible. The number of volumes in the archives series remains at 320 last year.

The third volume of the records of Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War was completed during the year, and over 300 pages of the fourth volume are now in type. It can reasonably be expected that Volume IV. will be issued by midsummer, and Volume V. before the close of the year 1898. Volume III. contains all names between Captain and Corporal.

The work of making a card record index of the French and Indian war records, which will form a part of the general index to the archives, is progressing favorably. The number of cards written, reviewed and sorted alphabetically during the year was 56,018, which, with the number finished in 1896, makes a total of 78,989 completed to Jan. 1, 1898. The nine volumes of muster rolls, etc., covering the period from 1710 to 1774, from which this record index is being compiled, will be finished the latter part of 1898, at the present rate of progress. These cards will then be placed in file boxes, accessible in the same manner as the revolutionary record index.

The number of visitors to the archives room is continually on the increase, and emphasizes more distinctly from year to year the requirement of more ample accommodations for this division of the office. There is a deficiency not only of space, but of light; and within a few years a change for the better in both these respects will be absolutely necessary.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed under the direction of this office during the year 1897, in the Public Document series (numbering fifty-seven different reports), 182,650 volumes, — an increase of 2,400 over 1896. Of this number, 111,750 (an increase of about 8,000) were handled and distributed in the document division, being supplied to members of the General Court, to cities and towns, public officers, libraries and to the public generally.

In addition to the Public Document series, there were printed and distributed 25,000 copies of the pamphlet edition of the laws, 10,500 copies of the Blue Book, 10,000 copies of the Manual for the General Court, 906 copies of the term reports, and 700 copies each of the Senate and House Journals; and there were also received and distributed 2,000 copies of the Early Laws (two new volumes); 1,000 copies each of volumes II. and III., Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War; 1,600 copies Volume I., Massachusetts in the Army and Navy, 1861–65; 11,000 copies Census of Massachusetts, 1895 (two volumes); 2,000 copies of the Supplement to the Public Statutes of Massachusetts, 1889–95; 2,000 copies of the Report upon the Sanitary Condition of the Neponset Meadows; 1,900 copies of the Report of the Commission to investigate the Public Charitable and Reformatory Interests and Institutions of the Commonwealth; 2,900 copies of the Report of the State Board on Docks and Terminal Facilities; 5,000 copies of the Report of the Joint Special Committee of the Legislature appointed to investigate and report upon post-mortem examinations of certain cows condemned as tuberculous under the order of the Board of Cattle Commissioners (House, 1341); 5,000 copies of the Supplement to the Laws relating to Elections; 4,000 copies of Laws concerning holders and Common Victuallers; 2,000 copies of the Report of the Commission on Taxation; and 1,400 additional copies of the fourth report of the Massachusetts Highway Commission, — making a grand total of 202,356 volumes which passed through the document division during the year, — an increase of 46,025 over 1896.

On account of an increased demand for certain reports, I recommend an increase of editions as follows: Report of the Chief of the District Police, from 2,000 to 2,500 copies; Report of the Commissioner of Public Records, from 1,500 to 2,000 copies, and that 500 be for the use of the commission.

I also recommend, upon the request of the State Board of Lunacy and Charity, that there be printed annually 500 copies of so much of the annual report of said Board as relates to city and town almshouses, together with that portion constituting an appendix to the report called "The Pauper Abstract."

I recommend that such copies of Massachusetts in the Army and Navy, 1861–65, as shall not be called for by the duties designated in the law shall be subject to distribution at the discretion of the Secretary.

I recommend that the distribution of the recently published supplement to the Public Statutes, 1889–95, be subject to the provisions of chapter 60 of the Resolves of 1891, in that such distribution may be uniform with that of the Public Statutes and of the first supplement thereto (1882–88); further, that a limited number of copies of the 1889–95 supplement, say ten, be placed at the disposal of the compiler thereof.

REGIMENTAL HISTORIES.

No new histories have been presented for acceptance under the act of 1893, "to authorize the purchase of historical documents relative to the services of Massachusetts Volunteers during the late war." I am informed, however, that there is a to expect two, if not three, of these histories during the current year, and I have recommended an appropriation accordingly.

STATE PRINTING.

It has been the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth since 1893 to supervise the State printing, and I have accordingly inspected the State printing office from time to time during the past year, and have had the work constantly under observation. In addition to this general supervision by the Secretary, all bills are carefully examined and all printed matter measured by an expert employed by the auditor. The largest item of expense was that for the series of Public Documents, — $66,512.88. The greatest cost for a single report was for that of the Board of Agriculture, — $6,100.13; the report of the Board of Health coming next, with $4,557.30. The smallest item was that for the report of the Board of Registration in Pharmacy, — $26.93. The Blue Book cost $6,217.96, the Manual $2,810.95, and the printing of ballots $6,895.36.

The House printing cost $13,866, exclusive of the cost of the House Journal, which was $1,385.45. The Senate printing amounted to $4,860.22, exclusive of the Senate Journal, which cost $1,046.36. This was a material reduction from the bills of 1896. The Supplement to the Public Statutes (3,000 copies) cost $8,788.25. Of this amount, however, $3,562.50 will be returned to the Commonwealth for copies sold.

There is, of course, a general tendency toward an increase of the printing bills, caused by the natural increase in the work of the different officers, boards and commissions. I have accordingly increased the estimate for appropriations for this purpose, my estimate for 1898 being $60,000, as against $55,000 for 1897.

BRADFORD'S MANUSCRIPT HISTORY.

By chapter 91 of the Resolves of 1897, the Secretary of the Commonwealth was ordered to print Bradford's History of the Plymouth Plantation, from the original manuscript, together with a report of the proceedings of the joint convention of the Senate and House of Representatives held on the occasion of the presentation of the Manuscript to the Governor, in May last. It was found upon careful examination that the sum of $2,000 appropriated for the purpose was insufficient to produce the book in a style befitting the importance of the subject and of the dignity of the occasion to be commemorated. In order to avoid unnecessary delay, however, orders were given to proceed with the work, relying upon the Legislature to provide the necessary increase of means. The matter is now in type and the illustrations are prepared, but work is suspended for the present until authority can be obtained to proceed further. In my judgment, an edition of at least 6,000 copies will be required, and the estimated cost thereof is $4,500. I therefore recommend that an appropriation of $2,500 be made, in addition to the $2,000 appropriated by the Legislature of 1897. If all copies of this book are free, the demand will undoubtedly be greatly in excess of the supply; I recommend, therefore, that authority be given to the Secretary to sell copies at a reasonable price, to be determined by him.

EARLY LAWS.

Chapter 104 of the Resolves of 1889 required the Secretary to cause to be collated, indexed and published, in a style similar to that in which the Blue Books, so called, were then published, all the Acts and Resolves of the General Court from the adoption of the Constitution to the year 1806, together with such portion of the Acts and Resolves of that year as he might find necessary in order to make such publication complete to the time when full publication of the Acts and Resolves has already been made. Under this resolve volumes 10 and 11, containing the legislation of the years 1798-1801, have been issued during the past year, and volume 12 is now in press. The work will be brought to a close with volume 13, the editing and probably the publication of which will be completed during the current year. Both of these latter volumes will, however, contain a larger number of pages than those immediately preceding. In the preparation of copy for these volumes the original acts, resolves, addresses, etc., on file in the archives, have been always at hand, and have furnished the only recognized standard of authenticity and completeness. Careful comparison with these original sources has corrected many errors in the early pamphlet editions, and led to the addition of considerable matter not therein contained. Having in mind the fact that these volumes will be consulted by those interested in historical research, as well as by the student of early legislation, care has been taken to make the index full and complete.

RECORD INK.

It was stated in my last report that, under the law providing for a standard record ink, advertisement had been made for new proposals for furnishing such ink, and that the samples received were undergoing analysis and test. During the past year the tests were completed and a new ink chosen, made in accordance with a formula carefully prepared by a competent chemist, and submitted to all bidders. One of the chief objects in view in obtaining the new ink was to insure freedom from smirching and failure to dry and harden quickly, concerning which some complaint was made of the former ink. It is hardly necessary to say that it is impossible to obtain an ink which will fulfil all the requirements for records, and yet dry instantly and leave no more deposit upon the paper or pen than the thin fluids which are generally popular; but an effort has been made to obtain an ink with the least possible tendency to smirch, consistent with absolute permanency.

The new ink has been in use since the first of November. So far no complaint has reached this office, although it must be taken for granted that it is impossible to please the thousands of officials with a single kind of ink.

I renew my recommendation that a penalty be attached for failure to comply with the just provisions of this law. There was recently received at this office a return from a town clerk which was written with an ink which from all indications will have absolutely disappeared within twenty years, — and this in plain and palpable violation of the requirement that the officer should make all records with the official standard ink.

	Gallons.	Quarts.	Pints.	Half Pints.
Cities, . . . {	31 old. 14 new.	353 old. 413 new.	140 old. 198 new.	12 old. 48 new.
Towns, . . . {	4 old. 11 new.	82 old. 89 new.	102 old. 277 new.	54 old. 354 new.

The receipts from these sales amounted to $1,069.09, as against $551.72 in 1896.

There have been issued free to State officers, boards and commissions, 7 gallons, 254 quarts, 90 pints and 27 half-pints.

ROLLS OF COLONIAL FORCES IN THE LOUISBURG EXPEDITION.

By chapter 16 of the Resolves of 1897, the Secretary of the Commonwealth was instructed to ascertain and report to the General Court whether or not there are in existence in England rolls of the Fifth Massachusetts Colonial Regiment, and of all the colonial forces engaged in the Louisburg expedition of the year 1745, and whether or not certified copies of such rolls can be obtained, and the cost of obtaining the same.

In the performance of this duty, I addressed a letter to the State Department at Washington, requesting that the proper inquiry might be made through the regular official channels, deeming that course to be more effectual than any other. The following letters from Ambassador Hay to the State Department, and from Mr. B. F. Stevens, United States Despatch Agent at London, to Ambassador Hay, fully show the result of this quest.

It seems to be established that the desired rolls are not to be found in England, but there is a possibility of their discovery in Halifax, and it is suggested that action be taken by the General Court for a search in that direction. It has been supposed by some that copies of these rolls, or possibly the rolls themselves, are in the possession of the Massachusetts Historical Society; but I am informed by the librarian, Hon. Samuel A. Green, that the society has only a few scattering rolls, which appear among the papers of Sir William Pepperell, and which that society intends to publish in the near future.

[COPY No. 140.]

AMERICAN EMBASSY, LONDON, Oct. 9, 1897.

The Honorable JOHN SHERMAN, Secretary of State.

SIR:— Referring to your Instruction No. 233 of the 21st ultimo, enclosing a copy of a letter from the Secretary of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, together with a copy of a Resolve of the General Court of that State, relative to the records of the colonial forces of Massachusetts engaged in the Louisburg expedition of the year 1745, I have the honor to enclose herewith a copy of a letter from Mr. B. F. Stevens, the United States despatch agent at London, to whom the matter was referred as an expert on such subjects, setting forth exhaustively and fully the result of his investigations, which it is hoped may be of value to Mr. Olin.

It will be observed that Mr. Stevens states, in his letter above mentioned, that every facility and information was afforded him by the officers of the record office in his careful search among the documents of the colonial, admiralty, audit and war offices, and, though his search for the desired rolls was unsuccessful, he nevertheless obtained certain collateral information as to the colonial forces engaged in this expedition; and I have the honor of transmitting herewith a copy (in pencil) of the register of the commissions in the army under the command of Colonel Pepperell for an expedition against the French settlements at Cape Breton, giving the names of the officers of the forces sent out by Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Connecticut, that captured Louisburg on the seventeenth day of June, 1745, which came enclosed in Mr. Stevens' letter already referred to.

I am convinced that no fuller information could be obtained through an application to the foreign office upon the subject than that contained in Mr. Stevens' enclosed report.

I have the honor to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

JOHN HAY.

Enclosures: 1, a copy of a letter, Mr. Stevens to Mr Hay, Oct. 5, 1897;
2, a copy of a register, as above.

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT DESPATCH AGENCY,
4 TRAFALGAR SQ., W. C., LONDON, Oct. 5, 1897.

His Excellency JOHN HAY, United States Ambassador,
U. S. Embassy, 123 Victoria Street, S. W.

SIR : — I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt on the 2d instant of your request to me to ascertain and report whether or not there are in existence in England rolls of the Fifth Massachusetts Colonial Regiment, and of all the colonial forces engaged in the Louisburg expedition in the year 1745, and whether or not certified copies of such rolls can be obtained, and the cost of obtaining the same. I respectfully report that : —

1. It is assumed that, if such rolls exist in England, they would be in Her Majesty's public record office.

Many historical students, American and English, as also many of the record office officials, have within the last score of years searched for the rolls of the colonial forces, soldiers and sailors, engaged in the 1745 Louisburg expedition, without finding them.

3. I have now carefully searched among the documents of the colonial, the admiralty and the war offices, and of the audit office, on the chance of finding that the rolls had been used as vouchers there. Every facility and information was afforded to me by the officers at the record office, but I regret to add that my search was not successful.

4. In the absence of the desired rolls, I have sought for collateral information as to the colonial forces engaged in this expedition. There are four thin books in the audit office, unique of their kind, giving the skeleton "establishment" of the Cape Breton forces in 1745-48. The number of men is given, but not the names, and it seems that the Georgian Rangers were Shirley's Regiment, or the main colonial regiment of the period. It is evident that the colonial force is not included in the imperial establishment.

5. Among the colonial office papers is a register of the commissions in the army under the command of the Hon. William Pepperell for an expedition against the French settlement at Cape Breton. This register gives the names of the officers of the forces sent out by Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Connecticut, that captured Louisburg, June 17, 1745.

I respectfully enclose copy of this register. This copy is made in pencil, as the use of ink is not allowed in the public reading-room of the record office.

6. There was another Louisburg expedition in 1758, but this has not been a subject of the present search.

7. Mr. Douglas Brymer, the official archivist of the Canadian government, Ottawa, some three or four years ago felt considerable hope that he would find some 1745 Louisburg papers among the Halifax archives ; but I have never heard any definite results, if any, of his searches there.

I am quite aware that I have exceeded your instructions in going further than to look for rolls, but if this information is thought to be useful, I shall be a willing recipient of seven dollars for my search and report.

I have the honor to be, etc.,

B. F. STEVENS.

THE COAT-OF-ARMS OF THE COMMONWEALTH.

There is now in the hands of the artist, nearly completed, a drawing of the coat-of-arms of the Commonwealth, the first of an official character ever made. I expect to be able to submit it for formal approval and adoption by the General Court at its present session ; and I recommend the passage of an act requiring strict conformity to this design in the use of the coat-of-arms and the seal of the Commonwealth on all official documents, and prohibiting the use of such coat-of-arms or seal, or any representation thereof, for any other than official purposes. This suggestion is in accord with the sentiment which holds the flag of the country too sacred for commercial use, and which, it seems to me, requires that the emblem of the Commonwealth should be held in equal respect.

CHANGES OF NAMES.

The returns of 398 names changed as decreed by the several judges of probate were received and filed, in compliance with the requirements of section 14, chapter 148 of the Public Statutes, as amended by chapter 89, Acts of 1897, and published in the Blue Book.

PEDDLERS' LICENSES.

There were issued to hawkers and peddlers, under the provisions of chapter 68 of the Public Statutes, 2,139 licenses. Of this number, 394 were for the State, 737 for counties, 690 for cities and towns and 318 for cities and towns in which the applicant resided and paid taxes on a stock in trade.

There were also issued 929 free licenses to soldiers and sailors, — an increase of 23 as compared with the previous year; and 58 free licenses to persons seventy years of age or upwards, — an increase of 4.

Two licenses were issued to itinerant vendors, under the act of 1890.

RETURNS UNDER THE "LOBBY ACT."

Under what is known as the "lobby act" (chapter 456 of 1890, as amended by chapter 223 of 1891 and chapter 298 of 1894), 223 entries were made upon the docket of legislative counsel and agents, — a decrease of 74, as compared with 1896. Returns were received at this office covering 204 of these entries. Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 11 to the Attorney-General for his information, 5 of them appearing to be irregular or defective, and the 6 others being received after the expiration of the time limit. The 19 cases of delinquency were reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

ELECTIONS.

All statements and statistics referring to elections appear, as required by law, in Public Document, No. 43 (Assessed Polls, Registered Voters, etc.), together with recommendations in relation thereto.

Under the provisions of the election act of 1893 and of chapter 242 of the Acts of 1895, relative to statements of election expenses, 131 duplicate returns were received from city and town clerks, examined and placed on file. This is a decrease of 121 in the number of returns received in 1896.

PROCLAMATIONS.

The usual Thanksgiving and Arbor Day proclamations were printed and distributed under the direction of this office. Of the Thanksgiving proclamations, about 2,300 were sent by mail to churches and about 100 to institutions; and of the Arbor Day proclamation, 1,050 were distributed by mail.

PARDONS, REQUISITIONS, ETC.

The number of pardons made out and issued in 1897 was 37; requisitions upon other States, 41; warrants issued upon requisitions from other States, 13; transfers from prisons, etc., to lunatic hospitals, 22; recommitment for violating condition of pardon, 1.

INSOLVENCY RETURNS.

Under the provisions of section 143, chapter 157 of the Public Statutes, as amended by chapter 89, Acts of 1897, the returns of 1,054 cases of insolvent debtors (an increase of 194 over 1896) were received during the year from the several registers of probate and insolvency, and entered in this office for convenient reference.

NATURALIZATION RETURNS.

Under the provisions of section 5, chapter 345 of the Acts of 1885, as amended by chapter 36 of the Acts of 1887, returns were received of the naturalization of 4,318 persons before the various courts of the Commonwealth during the year 1896, an increase of 1,786, as compared with the returns for 1895. These returns were indexed and bound in convenient form for reference, as required by law.

MISCELLANEOUS.

As required by law, the return of the Surveyor-General of Lumber of the various kinds and quantities of lumber surveyed and the amount of fees received by him and his deputies in the year 1897 was received and filed Jan. 20, 1898.

The return of the Inspector-General of Fish for the year 1896 was received and published in the Boston "Daily Advertiser" of April 2, 1897.

The four special reports from this office which form a part of the Public Document series, namely, Returns of Births, Marriages and Deaths (Public Document, No. 1), Abstract of Certificates of Corporations (Public Document, No. 10), Aggregates of Polls, Property, Taxes, etc. (Public Document, No. 19), and Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters and Persons who voted, etc. (Public Document, No. 43), have been made, as required by law.

Respectfully,

WM. M. OLIN,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

FOR THE

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, BOSTON, Jan. 18, 1898.

HON. JOHN L. BATES,

Speaker, House of Representatives.

SIR : — I have the honor to transmit herewith, for the use of the Legislature, the annual report of the Treasurer and Receiver-General.

Very respectfully,

WM. M. OLIN,
Secretary.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

TREASURY, BOSTON, Jan. 18, 1898.

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives.

The following annual report of the Treasury for the year ending Dec. 31, 1897, is respectfully presented for your consideration and information.

THE PUBLIC DEBT.

The Total Funded Debt, Dec. 31, 1897, was . . .	$51,563,729 40
The Total Sinking Funds, Dec. 31, 1897, was . . .	13,889,893 30
The Total Net Debt, Dec. 31, 1897, was . . .	$37,673,836 10

The Funded Debt is divided into two classes, the Direct Debt for the payment of which the Commonwealth is directly and entirely responsible; and the Nominal or Contingent Debt, for which the Commonwealth has loaned her credit to sundry cities and towns for various purposes, the payment of which is guaranteed by sinking funds, sufficient to pay the debt at maturity, provided by a direct annual tax on the cities and towns for whom the debt has been incurred, the division being as follows, viz. : —

The Direct Funded Debt, Dec. 31, 1897, was . . .	$19,643,729 40
The Sinking Funds for the same, Dec. 31, 1897, amounted to	7,181,350 58
The Net Direct Debt, Dec. 31, 1897, was . . .	$12,462,378 82
The Nominal or Contingent Debt, Dec. 31, 1897, was . .	$31,920,000 00
The Sinking Funds for the same, Dec. 31, 1897, amounted to	6,708,542 72
The Net Nominal or Contingent Debt being at that date	$25,211,457 28

All the Sinking Funds are of ample size and several of them exceed the amount needed at this date for the purpose for which they were created.

The average rate of interest paid by the Commonwealth on the entire public debt at the rates at which it was issued is 3.482+ per cent. per annum, including $3,623,729.40 on which the rate is 5 per cent. ; and if the prices obtained for loans and the premiums received on them be taken into account, the rate paid on the entire public debt, both direct and contingent, would, in all probability, be 3.25 per cent. or less.

The Gross Funded Debt Jan. 1, 1897, was . . . $40,636,729 40 and has been reduced in the year by payment

Danvers Lunatic Hospital, due Sept., 1897,
5 per cent.,	$150,000 00
Danvers Lunatic Hospital, due Sept., 1896,
5 per cent.,	3,000 00

5 per cent.,	370,000 00

It should be noted that, in the preceding statement, those sinking funds that are smallest in proportion to the debts to be paid by them are the newest, and, although ample at the present time for the purpose for which they are intended, they do not show as favorably as the older ones, some of the latter amounting to more than the debts they are to pay, years before the debts are due, and are contributing their surplus income to other sinking funds, thus reducing the tax needed for their fulfilment.

The sinking funds of the Commonwealth, as at present computed, are calculated at such a rate of interest that, with proper care in the investment of their funds, under any reasonable forecast of our financial future, they cannot fail to be equal to the full amount of the debts they are to pay, before the same are due.

TEMPORARY LOANS.

There was borrowed for the use of the Commonwealth, in anticipation of the Revenue of the year 1897, in amounts and at rates as follows :—

March 17, $1,000,000 payable on demand, with interest at 2½ per cent., $21,465 27 paid
December 28.
May 27, 1,000,000 payable November 5, with interest at 2½ per cent., 11,142 12 paid
November 5.

Interest paid, . . . $33,607 39

The amount borrowed on this account in 1896 was $3,385,000 and interest on the same of $45,456.34.

LIQUOR LICENSES.

In accordance with recommendations made in my report for 1896, an Act was passed by the Legislature, by which treasurers of cities and towns granting licenses are required to make return to the Treasurer of the Commonwealth of all sums received on this account within thirty days of the granting of such licenses, and at the same time pay over to him one-quarter part thereof.

The effect of this law has been signally favorable, as of the entire income from licenses in 1897, $780,977.52, more than $731,000 was received previous to July 1, thus giving the Commonwealth the use of this large sum for half the year, and so reducing the amount of Temporary Loans. I would suggest, however, that the Act of last year be amended so that legal interest (six per cent.) may be collected from such treasurers of cities and towns as fail to make return and pay over the amounts due the Commonwealth at the time prescribed in the Act of 1897, from that time until the same is paid.

ISSUE OF LOANS.

In drawing bills and passing Acts authorizing the borrowing of money and issuing loans therefor, it is important and necessary that great care should be used in making the terms of such bills and Acts to correspond with and assimilate properly with the existing debt of the Commonwealth as to the due date, rate of interest, etc., and I would suggest that in such matters consultation should be had with this department, whose duty it is to be familiar with the debt of the Commonwealth in all its details.

COLLATERAL LEGACY TAX.

The amount of Collateral Legacy and Succession Taxes paid into the treasury during the year, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 425 of the Acts of 1891, as amended, is five hundred one thousand three hundred sixty and 42/100 dollars ($501,360.42), and for interest on certain delayed payments, a further sum of six thousand seven hundred ninety-one and 85/100 dollars ($6,791.85), making a total of revenue received from this source of five hundred eight thousand one hundred fifty-two and 27/100 dollars ($508,152.27).

The expenses of collection, including the salary of the legacy tax clerk, were one thousand nine hundred ninety dollars ($1,990).

The following table will be of interest for purposes of comparison : —

	Tax.	Interest.
1892,	$13,854 54	—
1893,	59,429 51	—
1894,	239,368 55	$7,760 85
1895,	419,428 36	11,679 40
1896,	275,373 24	3,344 48
1897,	501,360 42	6,791 85

It will readily be seen that the amount received on account of the tax exceeds by nearly eighty two thousand dollars ($82,000), the largest sum hitherto received in a single year, and is greater by about two hundred twenty-six thousand dollars ($226,000) than the receipts for 1896.

Reference was made in the report of last year to the fact that some taxes, larger than any previously paid, had accrued during the years 1895 and 1896.

These have, in part, been paid, and nine estates have yielded, in sums varying from eight thousand dollars ($8,000) to sixty thousand dollars ($60,000) each, an aggregate of two hundred fifty-three thousand two hundred sixty-eight and 4/100 dollars ($253,268.04), a sum considerably in excess of the amount of this year's receipts over those of the last.

There are but two or three instances of estates of this class from which the taxes will be due, so far as known, in 1898.

In the collection of the tax many curious and interesting facts are brought to the attention of this department.

In the case of one of the larger estates above mentioned, the inventory disclosed personal property amounting to eight hundred thousand dollars ($800,000) carefully invested in securities of a high grade, whereas, it is stated for a fact, that the assessors of a town in which the decedent was domiciled a year or two prior to his decease (which occurred in another town), refrained from assessing him even for a poll tax, fearing that he might become a public charge !

In a more recent instance, strenuous objection was made to a local assessment on personalty valued at ten thousand dollars ($10,000) — death ensuing shortly thereafter, the decedent was found to have been possessed of personal estate valued at about three quarters of a million dollars, upon the devolution of a portion of which the collateral inheritance tax attaches.

In the history of this tax in other States, it is probable that many parallel cases may be found ; these are the first that have come to our notice.

If the present statute is to remain in force there are two matters which require attention.

It is provided by Sec. 10 of St., 1891, C. 425, that

“ A copy of the inventory of every estate, any part of which may be subject to a tax under the provisions of this act, or if the same can be conveniently separated, then a copy of the inventory of such part of such estate, with the appraisal thereof, shall be sent by mail, by the register of the probate court in which such inventory is filed, to the treasurer of the Commonwealth within thirty days after the same is filed. The fees for such copy shall be paid by the treasurer of the Commonwealth.”

I regret to state that the practice of the various registers of probate under this Section is not uniform, and results frequently in depriving this department of the notice in these cases which, it would appear, was the primary object of the requirement as to furnishing copies of inventories, and I respectfully request that further legislation be had, if necessary, to secure a compliance with the provision of the statute in this particular.

And I would further suggest that Section 3 of Chapter 142 of the Public Statutes be so amended that a foreign executor, administrator or trustee, who may be entitled to any personal property situated within this Commonwealth, shall be required to set forth in his petition under said Section, a description of the property he desires to remove, convert, transfer, convey or otherwise dispose of; and the amended

Statute shall provide for notice to the treasurer of the Commonwealth on all such petitions, in order that he may be enabled to cause to be determined whether such property is within the jurisdiction of the Commonwealth, for the purposes of taxation, under St., 1891, C. 425.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

The treasurer of the Commonwealth is, ex officio, Sealer of Weights, Measures and Balances and is the custodian of the standard implements used in the duties of that office; these had become practically useless from various “movings” and lack of facilities for their proper care. During the past year a place has been fitted up for the reception and custody of those implements, and they are now in a state befitting the importance of their accuracy and preservation.

All the weights, measures and balances have been thoroughly renovated and readjusted; the United States government having performed a large share of the work with no cost to the Commonwealth except express charges to and from Washington.

At the present time Massachusetts may be congratulated for possessing facilities for verifying weights and measures unexcelled in this or any other country. The following is the report of my Deputy of the work for the year 1897:—

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, BOSTON, Jan. 12, 1898.

HON. EDWARD P. SHAW, Treasurer and Receiver-General.

DEAR SIR:—In compliance with the requirements of section 8 of chapter 426 of the Acts of 1890, I hand you herewith my annual report:—

During the year ending Dec. 31, 1897, I have visited the following named cities and towns for the purpose of adjusting the standard weights, measures and balances furnished by the Commonwealth, and have also examined in many of the places mentioned, the weights, measures and scales in use by dealers for the sale of goods, wares and other commodities, and all instances of neglect and violations of the law have been reported to the proper officers.

Considerable attention has been given to the equipment of the local officers, which in some instances, even in large cities, was found to be poor and limited, and of little value for the purpose for which it was intended. Where this was found to be the case, the sealer was supplied with a new equipment by the local authorities, at my recommendation.

The readjustment of the standards authorized by chapter 66, Resolves of 1896, have, with a few exceptions, been completed and returned to this department, where they are now placed in cases which are securely locked.

The Legislature of 1897 enacted a statute (chapter 443, Acts of 1897) establishing a standard of Apothecaries' weights and measures.

Arrangements have been made with the National Office of weights and measures at Washington, and these standards are now being manufactured. Necessary delay has occurred owing to the accumulation of work in that department. I would suggest the following changes in the statute above quoted : —

(1). Two of the wine measures in customary use were omitted from the list of standards prescribed by this act, and I recommend that their use be again legalized, by insertion of the words “gill” and “half pint” after the word “ounces” in line ten.

(2). The statute provides for furnishing a set of standards of Apothecaries’ weights and measures. I recommend in addition thereto a provision for supplying also a balance of sufficient delicacy for use in connection with said weights.

Respectfully submitted,

DANIEL C. V. PALMER,
Deputy Sealer of Weights and Measures.

CONCLUSION.

The work devolving on this department for the past year has been largely in excess of that of previous years and has been performed with no additional expense to the Commonwealth.

I desire to express my appreciation of the hearty and cheerful co-operation of the clerks in my employ, whose faithful performance of their duties redounds to their credit and to that of the civil service generally.

The following tables and statements show in detail the transactions of the Treasury for the year 1897.

Treasurer and Receiver-General.

The State Prison at Boston (Charlestown district), the Massachusetts Reformatory at Concord and the Reformatory Prison for Women are the only State institutions in which the prisoners have been employed, under the requirements of chapter 447 of the Acts of 1887, and acts in amendment thereof, during the year 1897.

The books and accounts of the seven institutions above named have been kept under the supervision of the Auditor since 1887, as is required by chapter 87 of the Acts of that year. Under the system adopted, very satisfactory results have been secured. The receipts and expenditures of each institution are entered in detail, and all information concerning the financial transactions therewith is easily obtained from the officer in charge.

The farm accounts required under the law indicate successful management, showing a profit in favor of the farm at the following institutions : —

At Westborough,	$716 61
Lancaster,	1,883 98
Bridgewater,	2,565 44

Acts 1891, chapter 384, provides that the accounts of the boarding houses of the State normal schools shall be kept under the direction of the Auditor of the Commonwealth, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 87 of the Acts of 1887. I find the accounts in good condition, and a disposition on the part of the officers thereof to conform to the requirements of this office, as the law provides.

STATE AND MILITARY AID AND BURIAL EXPENSES OF INDIGENT OR FRIENDLESS SOLDIERS, SAILORS AND MARINES OF THE LATE WAR.

The following statements, showing the disbursements of State and military aid, and for the burial of indigent soldiers and sailors, under chapters 301 and 279 of the Acts of the year 1894 and chapter 279 of the Acts of 1896, were furnished by State Aid Commissioner Charles W. Hastings, and cover the expenditures under those chapters for the year 1896, reimbursements being made to the cities and towns on or before the first day of December in the year next after the year in which the expenditures were made.

Under chapter 301 (State aid),	$582,355 05
Under chapter 279 (military aid),	52,101 49
Burial expenses of soldiers and sailors,	16,678 25
Total for 1896,	$651,134 79

The persons aided under chapter 301 during the year 1896 are classified as follows:—

Invalid pensioned soldiers and sailors,	6,083, an increase of	284
Wives of pensioned soldiers and sailors,	693, an increase of	22
Widows of pensioned soldiers and sailors,	5,848, an increase of	184
Widowed mothers of soldiers and sailors,	429, a decrease of	59
Dependent fathers of soldiers and sailors,	21, same as previous year.
Army nurses,	6, an increase of	3
Number of recipients,	12,580
Net increase of cases during 1896,		493
Average cost to State per person aided,		$46 29

The above figures show an increase of payments made to the classes before mentioned, in 1896, of $27,907.33, and a net increase of 493 persons over the number aided in 1895.

Under chapter 279, Acts of 1894, known as military aid, cities and towns expended for the relief of 1,091 indigent and disabled soldiers the sum of $104,202.98, one-half of which amount, $52,101.49, was reimbursed by the Commonwealth.

The number of military aid cases decreased during the year by 181 and expenditures decreased $4,160.62.

Applications for military aid will gradually decrease, as the men will receive pensions, and then, if further aid is deemed necessary, State aid can be granted under chapter 301.

The medical examinations of applicants by Surgeon-General Edward A. Forster, who died May 15, 1896, and Surgeon-General Robert A. Blood, who succeeded him May 28, 1896, have been of much assistance to the commissioners in determining the nature and extent of the disability claimed and the amount of aid to be awarded.

Burial Expenses of Indigent Soldiers and Sailors and their Wives and Widows.

The law relating to the burial expenses of soldiers was repealed by the Legislature of 1896, and chapter 279, approved April 14, 1896, was substituted. This law, enlarged in its scope, provides that the burial agent may be applied to within one week of the date of death, and if upon investigation he shall find the deceased was eligible to receive the benefits of the act, he may authorize an expense not exceeding $35.

It also provides for the burial expenses of certain wives and widows, provided they were married prior to the final discharge of the soldier from the service.

Under the provisions of this law there were returns of 480 burials, including 15 widows and 5 wives, involving an expense to the Commonwealth of $16,678.25.

The increase of burials in 1896 over 1895 was 81, an increased expense of $2,843.45.

Of the 352 cities and towns, there are only 10 towns that pay neither State nor military aid, and 301 cities and towns have appointed burial agents.

The three agents of the commissioners have been steadily employed in visiting the different municipalities, examining into the methods of disbursing aid and the burial of soldiers, correcting faults of administration and making personal examinations of recipients. It is intended to have every city and large town visited and the disbursements for State aid thoroughly examined once in two years, and oftener if possible. About 5,000 individual cases were examined during the year 1896.

Expense of the office, $11,469.63.

Estimated revenue,	8,075,669 48
Total to be provided by taxation,		<hr/> $1,382,169 33

The amount to be provided for by taxation is less by $397,155.24 than was the amount as appears by the Auditor's estimates in 1897. Although the estimated expenses for 1898 are $171,307.89 more than those of 1897, the estimated revenue for 1898 is $147,527.53 more than in 1897, but the cash on hand Jan. 1, 1898, is $420,935.60 more than was the cash on hand Jan. 1, 1897. It is apparent by these figures that with due economy the Legislature of the present year can close its session with a State tax of about the same as the year 1897, that is to say, $1,750,000. It will be observed that there is included in the estimates of expenses a large item of $925,000 unexpended appropriations, a large portion of which will be needed during the present year in meeting outstanding claims. Such appropriations are available for two political years, and are required to form a part of the Auditor's estimates.

DUTIES OF THE AUDITOR.

Among the other duties devolving upon the Auditor of Accounts are the following: —

Section 6 of chapter 16 of the Public Statutes says: "The Auditor shall annually, in the month of January, examine the books, accounts and vouchers of the Treasurer." The books, accounts and vouchers of the Treasurer were examined by the Auditor during the month of January, as is required by law, and found to be correct. The receipts, payments and bonds were found to conform to the records kept in the Auditor's department.

By chapter 279 of the Acts of 1894, section 9, the Auditor of the Commonwealth is a member of the State Aid Commission, and considerable time has been devoted during the past year to the consideration of State and military aid cases.

And chapter 179 of the Acts of the year 1897 intrusts the Auditor with the duty, in connection with the Secretary of the Commonwealth and Adjutant-General, of acting upon claims for unpaid bounties. A very large number of claims have been presented during the past year to the commission, involving a great deal of labor and research, which has added very materially to his duties.

LEGISLATION SUGGESTED.

The appropriation for clerical services in this department outside of salaries fixed by law amounts to $2,500 (Acts 1894, chapter 397), out of which is paid a stenographer and messenger. The work of this department has increased to such proportions as to make it necessary to employ extra assistance during the fall and winter; and I feel justified in asking that the Legislature increase the amount for clerical assistance in this department to the sum of $3,000 annually.

This statement shows the aggregate amount of State scrip now outstanding; but the actual debt of the Commonwealth is $31,920,000 less than is named, viz.: $19,643,729.40. The deductions are made on account of the armory loan, $1,460,000, which is to be paid from a sinking fund sustained and increased each year by the taxation of the cities in which the armories are located; the metropolitan sewerage loan, $6,710,000, which will be paid by a sinking fund created and endowed by the taxation of the several cities and towns benefited by the sewer; the metropolitan parks loan, $4,700,000, which will be paid by a sinking fund created and endowed by taxation on what is known as the metropolitan district, and the metropolitan park loan, series II., one-half of which, that is, $1,050,000, will be paid in the same manner; the metropolitan water loan, $13,000,000, which will be paid by a sinking fund created and endowed by the taxation of the several cities and towns in what is known as the metropolitan water district benefited thereby. In all these, the Commonwealth, having the credit and the facilities for borrowing at better rates than the towns and cities, provides the money for these enterprises without adding any general burden to those cities and towns not especially benefited; also the Fitchburg Railroad securities loan, $5,000,000, principal and interest, will be paid by the Fitchburg Railroad Company bonds, which, with the Fitchburg Railroad company's stock, constitute the sinking fund established for their redemption.

NEW LOANS IN 1897.

They are issued under authority of Acts of 1890, chapter 428; 1892, chapter 433; 1896, chapters 257 and 439. The expenditures by the Commonwealth for grade crossings up to

Jan. 1, 1898, amount to $4,273,832.68. Of this amount, there was paid during the year —

1894,	295,161 17
1895,	902,066 49
1896,	1,570,619 70
1897,	1,322,787 06
Total,	$4,273,832 68

Of this amount the Commonwealth is entitled to recover, from cities and towns where the law provides that the cost against the city or town, as well as the proportion of cost the Commonwealth is to bear, shall primarily be paid by the Commonwealth, the sum of $1,183,623.68, making the net expenditure $3,090,209.

There are two laws under which these expenditures have been made, the first of which is Acts of 1890, chapter 428, which provides for an expenditure by the Commonwealth of $5,000,000. Under this act the expenditures have been $2,452,269.80, and the amount the Commonwealth is entitled to recover from the cities and towns under this act amounts to the sum of $637,086.75, leaving the net amount expended up to Jan. 1, 1898, $1,815,183.05. The other acts are Acts of 1892, chapter 433, and Acts of 1896, chapter 257, which provide for the abolition of a grade crossing in the city of Boston on the line of the Boston & Providence Railroad and crossings in Hyde Park and Dedham, of which amount the Commonwealth pays 31.5 per cent. The total expenditure under these acts up to Jan. 1, 1898, has been $1,821,789.70. The Commonwealth is entitled to recover from the city of Boston and the towns of Hyde Park and Dedham under these acts the sum of $546,536.93, making the net expenditure of the Commonwealth $1,275,252.77.

The act provides that the amount required each year to pay the interest and sinking fund requirements for the loan contracted for such erection shall be included in and made a part of the sum charged to the city in which such armory is located, and shall be assessed upon it in the apportionment and assessment of its annual State tax.

The following is a statement of the loans issued and the cost of each armory to date:—

Fitchburg Railroad Securities Loan.

This loan was established under authority of chapter 408 of the Acts of the year 1893, and is for $5,000,000, bearing interest at the rate of 3½ per cent. per annum, to run twenty years. It was issued to purchase from sinking funds the Fitchburg Railroad Company bonds, and where the bonds for which those sinking funds were created had become due, making it necessary to have the cash with which to redeem them. The Fitchburg Railroad Company bonds are fifty-year bonds, drawing interest at the rate of 3 per cent. for the first five years, 3½ per cent. for the second five years and 4 per cent. for forty years. These bonds commenced to draw interest at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum Feb. 1, 1897. Under authority of chapter 408 of the Acts of the year 1893, the excess of the income of said bonds being more than sufficient to pay the interest on the same by $12,500, this amount was transferred to the income of the Massachusetts school fund for the year 1897.

Also, Acts 1897, chapter 513, provides for the construction of a pier and dock on the Commonwealth's flats in South Boston, and a loan of $400,000 is authorized.

Under authority of these acts, scrip was issued to the amount of $500,000, with interest at the rate of 3½ per cent. per annum, due Jan. 1, 1937. I do not understand any land has been purchased or taken, but a contract has been let, and the dock provided for is in process of construction.

In this amount is included the sum of $300,000, authorized by chapter 509 of the Acts of 1894, “for open spaces along or near Charles River;” also the further sum of $900,000, authorized by chapter 311 of the Acts 1897, chapter 121, being “ An Act to further define the authority of the Metropolitan Park Commission,” in section 1 gave the commission authority to maintain upon any land or reservations under its care suitable accommodations for bathing and boating, and for the use of the same to establish rules and regulations and make reasonable charges, and the cost thereof to an amount not exceeding $100,000. Section 2 provided that “ All sums of money hereafter collected or received by said commission, including sums received for rentals, sales or use of property under its care, and all fines recovered for violations of law within the limits of the lands, roadways or boulevards under its care, shall be accounted for and paid to the Treasurer and Receiver-General of the Commonwealth, and shall be placed by him to the credit of and added to the funds provided by law for meeting the expenses of said commission, and may be expended by said commission in addition to any loans or appropriations authorized for park purposes.” Under this act a large bath-house was erected at Revere Beach, and opened on the thirty-first day of July in the year 1897. It proved to be quite a success, and receipts from bathers amounted to $10,720.50. The receipts from sales of old material, rents, etc., including fines received under authority of this act and credited to the loan, amounted to $8,525.66, making a total receipt for all purposes of $19,246.16.

Metropolitan Sewerage Loan.

There has been issued during the present year additional scrip to the amount of \$80,000, bearing interest at the rate of $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. per annum, due Jan. 1, 1930; \$10,000 to provide an additional outlet for the sewage of the town of Stoneham, as authorized by chapter 436 of the Acts of 1897, and \$70,000, as authorized by chapter 520 of the Acts of 1897, "to provide for the addition of a portion of the town of Lexington to the metropolitan sewerage system." Also, under authority of chapter 83 of the Acts of 1897, scrip to the amount of \$300,000 was issued, at the rate of $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. per annum, to complete the system known as the Neponset River valley system of sewage disposal. The total issue of bonds under the several acts for sewerage purposes amounts to \$6,710,000. Chapter 88 of the Acts of 1897 authorized the issue of scrip to the amount of \$5,000 to complete the addition of a portion of the town of Wakefield to the system. This scrip will be issued early in 1898.

Metropolitan Water Loan.

These bonds were sold at a substantial premium, which has been put into the sinking fund. The expenditures up to date have been $8,841,684.10. The total loan authorized for this great enterprise is $27,000,000.

Under authority of chapter 481 of the Acts of the year 1896, an additional issue of scrip has been made for the construction of State highways, amounting to \$700,000, bearing interest at the rate of $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. per annum, due in 1927, making a total issue of scrip for highway purposes of \$2,000,000. The law provided for an expenditure of \$600,000 in 1897, leaving \$200,000 of the amount authorized to commence the year 1898.

The act authorizing the building of State highways provides that "one-quarter of any money expended under the provisions of this act in any county for a highway, with interest on said quarter at the rate of 3 per cent. per annum, shall be repaid by said county to the Commonwealth, in such reasonable sums and at such times within six years thereafter as said commission, with the approval of the State Auditor, shall determine, taking into consideration the financial condition of the county." In accordance with this act, the State Highway Commission have made up their assessment on the various counties in the State, and they have been submitted to the State Auditor, who has approved them, and the counties are paying the assessments into the treasury of the Commonwealth. The amount received in 1897, including interest, was $114,471.73. The law provides for the amounts so paid being credited to the loan to be used by the commission as a part of the amount authorized to be expended. The act of 1897 authorized $800,000; only $700,000 was issued, the balance coming from payments made by various counties. The expenditures to date are:—

1895,	542,335 95

The total amount issued is $2,335,000. There has been received in addition, from income on investments, rents of houses, sales of old material, etc., authorized by chapter 409, Acts of 1890, the sum of $15,925.81, which, added to the amount of the loan, makes available up to Jan. 1, 1898, $2,350,925.81; of which there has been expended the sum of $2,260,843.07, leaving an amount now available of $90,072.84.

State House Construction Loan.

Under authority of chapter 489 of the Acts of 1897, scrip was issued to the amount of $125,000 to complete the State House extension. It was issued bearing interest at the rate of 3 per cent. per annum, and is due in 1917. This makes the total issue on this account to Jan. 1, 1898, $3,175,000. Of this amount there has been expended the sum of $3,144,367.52, leaving a balance of $30,632.48.

During the year the Bulfinch portion of the State House has been restored and furnished, and is now occupied by the Senate and the Governor and Council; and very soon the entire building will be occupied. The scrip issued for this purpose was $375,000, and, by authority of chapter 470 of the Acts of 1897, $100,000 of this amount was used for furnishing the building. The total amount expended to date is $198,170.04, leaving a balance on hand of $176,829.96.

Owing to the occupancy of that portion of the extension to be fitted up as a "Memorial Hall" by the Senate of 1897, work on this portion of the building has been necessarily delayed, but work has now commenced upon it. The scrip issued for this purpose was $250,000, of which there has been expended $60,212.01, leaving a balance on hand of $189,787.99.

TROY & GREENFIELD RAILROAD LOAN.

On Sept. 1, 1897, the last instalment of scrip issued for building the Troy & Greenfield Railroad and Hoosac Tunnel, amounting to $370,000, became due, and was paid from the sinking fund, closing the expenses on account of this great enterprise.

There still remain outstanding 659 shares of stock of the old Troy & Greenfield Railroad Company, which the Commonwealth is authorized to buy at $8 a share.

The transactions in 1897 were as follows:—

The sinking fund being more than enough to pay the scrip referred to, the balance, amounting to $78,745 35, was, under authority of chapter 259 of the Acts of the year 1891, transferred to the State House loans sinking fund. The total interest paid on the scrip issued for expenses of this enterprise amounts, on Jan. 1, 1898, to the sum of $14,762,-033.52.

Chapter 259, Acts of 1891, provides that “whenever the accumulations of any of the sinking funds of the Commonwealth are sufficient to extinguish at maturity the indebtedness which such fund was established to pay, the subsequent accumulations of such fund may be added by the Treasurer and Receiver-General to any of the sinking funds which are not sufficient to meet the indebtedness for which they were established.” By authority of this act the Treasurer and Receiver-General has made the following transfers:—

CAPITAL CASES.

Indictments for murder, pending at the date of the last annual report, have been disposed of as follows :—

HERBERT A. WILLIS of Taunton, indicted in Bristol County, Nov. 7, 1896, for the murder of Fred Strange at Taunton, June 22, 1896. Henry J. Fuller and Frederick V. Fuller were assigned as his counsel. On Feb. 1, 1897, he retracted his former plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty of murder in the second degree. The plea was accepted by the Commonwealth, and he was thereupon sentenced to the State Prison for life. The case was in charge of District-Attorney Andrew J. Jennings.

In August last the prisoner was killed in a desperate attempt to escape from the State Prison.

ISAAC F. SAWYER of Boston, indicted in Suffolk County, December, 1896, for the murder of an unnamed infant child at Boston, Jan. 6, 1896. He was arraigned Dec. 17, 1896, and pleaded not guilty. On Jan. 28, 1897, he was discharged on his personal recognizance, the evidence in the possession of the Commonwealth being deemed insufficient to warrant a conviction. The case was in charge of District-Attorney Oliver Stevens.

HENRY STEWART, alias HARRY STEWART, alias HENRY SWEENEY, of Chicopee, indicted in Hampden County, December, 1896, for the murder of Patrick J. Murray at Chicopee, Nov. 14, 1896. On Feb. 16, 1897, he was arraigned and pleaded not guilty, and S. S. Taft of Springfield and James H. Loomis of Chicopee were assigned by the court as his counsel. On May 3, 1897, he retracted his former plea of not guilty, and pleaded guilty of murder in the second degree. The plea was accepted by the Commonwealth, and he was thereupon sentenced to the State Prison for life. The case was in charge of District-Attorney Charles L. Gardner.

SYLVESTER ROUNDTREE of Boston, indicted in Suffolk County, January, 1897, for the murder of Anna White, alias Annie White, alias Betty White, at Boston, Dec. 12, 1896. On Jan. 26, 1897, he was arraigned and pleaded not guilty, and E. G. Walker of Boston was assigned as his counsel. On April 22, 1897, he retracted his former plea of not guilty, and pleaded guilty of murder in the second degree. This plea was accepted by the Commonwealth, and he was thereupon sentenced to the State Prison for life. The case was in charge of District-Attorney Oliver Stevens.

Indictments for murder found since the date of the last annual report have been disposed of as follows : —

SAMUEL WHITTAKER of Cambridge, indicted in Middlesex County, February, 1897, for the murder of Catherine Whittaker at Cambridge, Jan. 1, 1897, was arraigned Feb. 18, 1897, and pleaded not guilty. Henry H. Winslow and Addison C. Burnham were assigned by the court as his counsel. On April 12, 1897, he retracted his plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty of murder in the second degree. The plea was accepted by the Commonwealth, and he was thereupon sentenced to the State Prison for life. The case was in charge of District Attorney Frederick N. Wier.

LORENZO W. BARNES of Maynard, indicted in Middlesex County, February, 1897, for the murder of John Dean of Maynard, Dec. 17, 1896, was arraigned Feb. 23, 1897, and pleaded not guilty. J. C. Burke and J. L. O'Neil were assigned as his counsel. On May 7, 1897, he was tried by a jury before Blodgett and Dewey, J.J., and a verdict was rendered of guilty of murder in the first degree. Exceptions were filed by counsel for the prisoner, which were afterwards waived. On Dec. 21, 1897, he was sentenced to death, sentence to be executed March 4, 1898. The case was in charge of District-Attorney Frederick N. Wier.

JOHN O'NEIL of Buckland, indicted in Franklin County, March, 1897, for the murder of Hattie Evelyn McCloud at Buckland, Jan. 8, 1897, was arraigned March 20, 1897, and pleaded not guilty. On July 19, 1897, he was tried by a jury before Mason, C.J., and Fessenden and Sheldon, J.J., and a verdict was rendered of guilty of murder in the first degree. Exceptions were filed by counsel for the prisoner, and were argued before the Supreme Judicial Court in Springfield in October. The exceptions were overruled, Nov. 13, 1897. On Nov. 24, 1897, he was sentenced to death, and sentence was executed Jan. 7, 1898. Charles J. Parkhurst, Enoch H. Beer and Fred F. Dowlin were counsel for the prisoner. The trial of the case was conducted by the Attorney-General, ably assisted by District-Attorney John C. Hammond, and also by Frederick L. Greene in the preparation of the case.

This was a case of peculiar atrocity. The victim was a woman of high character, a widow, well known and universally respected in the community. She lived with her daughter at the summit of a high hill in the suburbs of Shelburne Falls. She was assaulted in the early part of the evening, while travelling up the steep hill in the direction of her home. Her body was discovered the next morning, in the woods near the road, and it was apparent, even without medical evidence, that she had been outraged, robbed and murdered. Few cases in recent years have excited more universal indignation; and yet, from the first discovery of the crime, that respect for the orderly proceedings of the law which is content to abide by the results reached by the investigations of prosecuting officers and the judgment of the courts has honorably characterized even those most deeply affected by the crime.

The trial occupied eight days. The prisoner was ably defended, but the mass of evidence, both direct and circumstantial, which the diligence of the officers charged with the investigation of the case had accumulated, left no room for reasonable doubt of the guilt of the prisoner.

In view of the wide-spread interest in the matter and the many important and interesting questions of law and evidence raised during the trial, I have asked and received the approval of the Governor and Council for the publication of the case, and ask that an appropriation be made therefor.

DOMINIQUE KRATHOFSKI, alias DOMINIQUE KFIOTOSKI, of Springfield, indicted in Hampden County, May, 1897, for the murder of Victoria Pinkos at Springfield, Jan. 17, 1897.

On May 24, 1897, he was arraigned and pleaded not guilty. Thomas W. Kenefic and John T. Moriarty were assigned by the court as his counsel. On Jan. 5, 1898, he was tried by a jury before Dewey and Maynard, J.J., and a verdict was rendered of guilty of murder in the first degree. Certain exceptions taken by counsel for the prisoner are now pending. The trial was conducted by District-Attorney Charles L. Gardner, and the case is in his charge.

MINNIE MOONEY, alias MINNIE DOHERTY, alias MINNIE JENNINGS, of New Bedford, indicted in Bristol County, June, 1897, for the murder of her infant child at Fairhaven, March 18, 1897. She was arraigned June 25, 1897, and pleaded not guilty. Frank A. Milliken and Robert F. Raymond were assigned by the court as her counsel. On Nov. 1, 1897, she retracted her plea of not guilty, and pleaded guilty of murder in the second degree. The plea was accepted by the Commonwealth, and she was thereupon sentenced to the House of Correction at New Bedford for life. The case was in charge of District-Attorney Andrew J. Jennings.

JOHN M. HARRIS of Concord, indicted in Middlesex County, October, 1897, for the murder of Emma F. Butters at Concord, Sept. 4, 1897. On Dec. 17, 1897, he was arraigned and pleaded not guilty. Melvin O. Adams and Henry S. Milton were assigned by the court as counsel for the prisoner. On Jan. 8, 1898, he retracted his plea of not guilty, and pleaded guilty of murder in the second degree. The plea was accepted by the Commonwealth, and he was thereupon sentenced to the State Prison for life. The case was in charge of the Attorney-General, assisted by District-Attorney Frederick N. Wier.

The plea of guilty of murder in the second degree was accepted by the Commonwealth after careful investigation of the circumstances attending the homicide, and upon the belief that a trial would result in the rendering of such a verdict by the jury. The prisoner had been using intoxicating liquors to excess not only on the day of the murder but for several days previously. At the time of the murder he also attempted to kill the son of Mrs. Butters, and also himself.

He was seriously wounded, and for a time recovery was uncertain. There was nothing in the case to show that the act was deliberately premeditated. On the contrary, all the evidence indicated that the prisoner was acting upon a sudden impulse.

The following indictments for murder are now pending:—

GILBERT PETERS of Winchendon, indicted in Worcester County, August, 1897, for the murder of Bell Rollins of Royalston, June 18, 1897. On Aug. 12, 1897, he was arraigned and pleaded not guilty. Charles F. Baker and Sydney P. Smith were assigned by the court as his counsel. The case is in charge of District-Attorney Herbert Parker.

ALFRED C. WILLIAMS of Lynnfield, indicted in Essex County, September, 1897, for the murder of John Gallo at Lynnfield. On October 4 he was arraigned and pleaded not guilty. Charles A. Sayward and Nathaniel N. Jones were assigned by the court as counsel for the prisoner. This case has been assigned for trial on Feb. 7, 1898. The case is in charge of District-Attorney Alden P. White.

JEREMIAH MANCHESTER, Jr., of Westport, indicted in Bristol County, November, 1897, for the murder of Holder A. Tripp at Westport, July 11, 1897. On Nov. 19, 1897, he was arraigned and pleaded not guilty. Edward Higginson and Charles R. Cummings were assigned by the court as counsel for the prisoner. The date for trial has not been fixed. The case is in charge of District-Attorney Andrew J. Jennings.

FRANCIS McLAUGHLIN of Boston, indicted in Suffolk County, December, 1897, for the murder of Margaret McLaughlin at Boston, Nov. 15, 1897. On Dec. 23, 1897, he was arraigned and pleaded not guilty. William N. Sullivan of Boston was assigned by the court as counsel for the prisoner. The date for trial has not been fixed. The case is in charge of District-Attorney Oliver Stevens.

The number of capital cases requiring the attention of this office, or of the district attorneys, though greater than in the two years next preceding, is less than the average of recent years. The assertion has often been made that the crime of murder is increasing in this Commonwealth. I believe that statistics show this to be untrue; and I append herewith for reference a table showing the number of cases requiring the attention of the law department during each year since 1875. This table shows that the number of indictments for murder in proportion to the population of the Commonwealth has decreased rather than increased during that time, and that the record of the past year is not exceptional.

CASES OTHER THAN CAPITAL.

The tables herewith submitted show the cases argued, tried or conducted by the Attorney-General, or by his assistants, in the supreme judicial and superior courts during the year. The number of civil cases of all kinds conducted by this office, in which there was an actual trial or argument, is probably much greater than in any previous year.

It would be impracticable to report in detail other than by the accompanying tables the work done in the various departments in charge of this office. A fair illustration may be furnished by a brief statement of the cases arising from the taking of land by the Metropolitan Park Commission. These cases have been in charge of Mr. Travis. On Jan. 20, 1897, there were pending in court thirty-six petitions against the Commonwealth for damages caused by taking of land, or rights in land, by the Metropolitan Park Commission; and during the past year one hundred and fourteen additional petitions have been entered in court, making a total of one hundred and fifty. Of this number, seventeen have been disposed of by trial and fifty-three by agreement of parties. There are now pending in court eighty cases.

THE OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

The wisdom of the Legislature in providing that the law business of the Commonwealth be done by the Attorney-General, or under his direction, has been sufficiently demonstrated. The saving to the Commonwealth has been considerable, and the law department has been so organized that the work is done to much better advantage. Before the passage of the statute (St. 1896, c. 490) special counsel were retained by the several commissions and boards, who, though competent and able, were not expected to give the interests of the Commonwealth their exclusive attention, nor to co-operate each with the other nor with the Attorney-General. Under the present system, the business formerly thus distributed and scattered, at the expense both of harmony and economy, is now entrusted to assistants acting under the immediate direction of the Attorney-General, who give practically their entire attention to the interests of the Commonwealth. It is but simple justice to say that the success of the present system is largely due to their energy, fidelity and ability in the discharge of the duties devolved upon them.

In consequence of the growth of the business of the office, it was found necessary to increase the number of assistants; and accordingly on the first day of July, 1897, Mr. Arthur W. DeGoosh of Boston was added to the force already employed. Elsewhere I have given a table showing the assistants employed and the duties specially assigned to each. These assignments do not comprise all of the work devolving upon them, but such only as can be conveniently classified.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

Under the authority of Public Statutes, chapter 17, section 7, providing for a report by the Attorney-General, and in accordance with the usage that has prevailed, under which attorneys-general have been accustomed in their reports to consider questions relating both to the judicial department and to practice and proceedings in courts, I submit the following recommendations:—

Larceny, Embezzlement and Cheating.—These offences may well be consolidated into the single crime of larceny. The technical distinctions between larceny by trick and false pretences on the one hand, and between larceny and embezzlement on the other, turning, as they do in many instances, upon exceedingly technical questions of title and possession, result sometimes in a miscarriage of justice, to the scandal of the law. There is no good reason why these distinctions should not be abolished. A commission appointed by the Governor under the authority of the Legislature is now engaged in the investigation of the subject of criminal pleadings, and is preparing a schedule of forms. The consolidation I suggest would tend to simplify their work in this department of criminal law.

Privacy of Trials involving Indecent Matter.—It has been the wise policy of Massachusetts to provide that the proceedings of her courts should be open to the public without discrimination. The fulness, however, with which trials of general interest have come to be reported has resulted in some cases in the publication of matter so indecent that, if it were not protected by the fact of being the report of proceedings in open court, it would be indictable under the statute prohibiting the publication of matter manifestly tending to the corruption of the morals of youth. There should be a law authorizing the presiding justice in his discretion to exclude from the trial of cases involving such matter all persons excepting those directly interested therein. An existing statute (Pub. Sts., c. 160, § 16) gives this discretion to courts in the case of minors; and there is no constitutional objection, that I am aware of, which prevents the Legislature from extending its provisions to all persons not interested in the proceedings, whenever the interests of public morals so require.

Enforcement of the Law against Illegal Seining in Buzzard's Bay. — Seining for fish is prohibited in the waters of Buzzard's Bay by St. 1886, c. 192. The statute in question provides that apparatus used in illegal seining shall be forfeited, and that upon being seized it may be detained and libelled; and a steamer has been provided for the use of the District Police in enforcing its provisions. The law as it stands is reasonably capable of enforcement against inhabitants of this Commonwealth. It happens, however, that the principal violaters are residents of other States, who come into the bay in swift steamers equipped for the taking of menhaden in large quantities. Those in charge of such illegal expeditions, however, often escape from the jurisdiction without seizure, and, inasmuch as the statute does not authorize a libel for forfeiture excepting against a vessel already seized, the steamers so engaged which escape may return with impunity. If it is desired to make the law effective, a provision should be made authorizing the filing of a libel for forfeiture, whether the vessel and apparatus have been seized or not, and the issuing of a warrant upon such libel for the seizure of such vessels and apparatus whenever and wherever found within the jurisdiction.

Declarations of Deceased Persons as Evidence. — Nearly every lawyer in the course of his practice has been annoyed, and his client been indignant, at the rule which forbids the admission as evidence of declarations of deceased persons, especially parties in interest, made in good faith before the beginning of litigation. Thus the accident of death has sometimes resulted in failure of justice by the exclusion of evidence vital to the issue. The rule is in conflict with the modern tendency, which is to produce before the court and jury everything which tends to assist in the discovery of the truth. This tendency long ago led to the repeal of the law excluding the testimony of parties and of witnesses interested in the result of the cause, and prohibiting the defendant in a criminal case from testifying in his own behalf. The rule I have referred to has been so far modified by the court as to make competent in any case evidence of what a deceased witness testified to at a former trial of the same issue between the same parties. Yale v. Comstock, 112 Mass. 267. St. 1896, c. 445, has also created another exception to the general rule. This statute provides that, in the trial of an action against an executor or administrator, the evidence of statements made by the deceased shall, under certain circumstances, be admissible.

The latter statute has now been in operation nearly two years. The main criticism that can be made of it is that it does not go far enough. If that statute was a wise provision there seems to be no good reason why the law should not be extended so far as to admit as evidence all declarations of deceased persons made before the beginning of the suit, if they appear to the satisfaction of the presiding justice to have been made upon the personal knowledge of the declarant. In Sugden v. Lord St. Leonards, L. R. 1 P. D. 154, 250 (1876), Lord Justice Mellish said: "If I was asked what I think it would be desirable should be evidence, I have not the least hesitation in saying that I think it would be a highly desirable improvement in the law if the rule was that all statements made by persons who are dead respecting matters of which they had a personal knowledge, and made ante litem motam, should be admissible." I am informed that such is now the law of Scotland. If a statute should be enacted permitting declarations of deceased persons to be used in evidence, limited in its provisions to declarations made in good faith before the bringing of the suit, and to those made upon the personal knowledge of the declarant, I believe that it would tend to promote that discovery of truth which is the main purpose for which judicial tribunals are established.

Arrest on Mesne Process. — It is a singular fact that there is no statute authorizing the court to reduce an excessive ad damnum in writs authorizing arrest on mesne process. Writs of attachment on mesne process are carefully guarded by statute, authorizing the courts to reduce, or even to discharge, excessive or unreasonable attachments. St. 1897, c. 460. If, however, a person is arrested on mesne process, he is required to give bail to an amount equal to the damages claimed, and can only obtain relief from unreasonable abuse of process by the cumbersome process of a writ of habeas corpus. Writs authorizing arrest and writs of attachment should be put upon the same footing in this respect.

Under existing statutes an arrest cannot be made after sunset, except by special authority of a magistrate. This provision is probably accounted for by the fact that a person arrested after sunset is likely to experience much difficulty in finding a magistrate authorized to discharge him from arrest by taking bail. The same reasoning would apply to a provision prohibiting, except by special authority, arrests after business hours on Saturdays. The custom of a Saturday half holiday has become so fully established that, in cities especially, it is often difficult to find a magistrate at his place of business Saturday afternoons authorized to take bail. The same considerations apply to arrests made on legal holidays.

I understand that both these matters were presented to the Legislature of last year, and were postponed for the consideration of the next General Court. I recommend the subject to the consideration of the present Legislature.

Compelling the Testimony of Witnesses before Magistrates upon the Taking of Depositions. — Under the existing law (Pub. Sts., c. 169, §§ 1-6), such magistrates have the power to summon witnesses and to commit for contempt in case of their failure to attend. Although a witness can thus be forced to attend, however, there appears to be no provision for forcing him to testify after he has attended. St. 1883, c. 195, has conferred this power upon the court in the case of tribunals which do not have the power to compel the attendance of witnesses. I see no reason why this should not be extended to magistrates and tribunals who do have the power to compel the attendance of witnesses. In fact, the difficulty in the existing system seems to be a mere oversight, as the power to compel the attendance necessarily implies the purpose to compel their testimony. I do not favor vesting this power in the magistrates themselves, but recommend an act upon the same lines as the statute of 1883, giving the power to the court to compel the testimony upon application.

Expert Testimony.—There is undoubtedly a feeling in the community that the use of expert testimony both in criminal and in civil cases should be limited and regulated. Witnesses called merely for the purpose of giving their opinions as experts upon hypothetical or agreed facts are very likely to have their views affected, consciously or even unconsciously, by reason of their employment. As a result, it often happens that two sets of experts are called to testify, both of equal ability and honesty, but whose testimony differs diametrically. Such disagreements, especially when induced by partisan bias, tend to confuse the issue and to throw discredit upon the value of this kind of testimony. It has been suggested that a statute might be enacted, authorizing the court, upon application of either party, where expert testimony is pertinent, to appoint an impartial expert to examine the facts and make report of his opinion, to be used in the trial of the case with like effect as the report of an auditor; giving perhaps the right to either party to call him as a witness for examination or cross-examination. Another suggestion is that the number of experts to be called on either side upon any given issue be limited. There is no doubt that the court has power so to limit the number of witnesses whose testimony is merely cumulative, but it is a power that is rarely exercised, and, while an act authorizing such a limitation of the number of experts would be merely declaratory, it would assist the court in reducing the expense and length of trials involving such testimony. I recommend the matter for the consideration of the Legislature.

Proceedings in Probate Courts.—Under existing statutes, re-trials of all issues both of fact and law heard in the probate court may be had in the appellate court. The result is that in many cases trials of questions of fact in probate courts are entered into for the mere purpose of obtaining the evidence of the opposing party, and without seeking in good faith for the judgment of that court. It is an evil which ought to be, and in part at least can be, remedied by appropriate legislation. To occupy the time of judges of the probate courts for the purpose I have indicated is derogatory to the dignity of the court, and is a needless and improper expense both to the parties and to the county.

I see no reason why, in cases where the right of trial by jury exists, parties desiring such trial may not be required to file their claims therefor seasonably in the probate court. Thereupon the probate court may suspend further hearings on questions of fact involved, and frame issues for a jury to be tried in the supreme judicial or superior courts without removing the case itself. This proposition was urged last year, but no action was taken. I desire to call it again to the attention of the Legislature.

Such a statute, however, should not limit the right of examination of the witnesses to wills by any party interested. The law having provided for the attestation of wills by three disinterested witnesses, all persons having rights under a will, or whose rights of inheritance are cut off thereby, ought to be allowed to examine those witnesses without being limited thereby as to their subsequent proceedings.

Another amendment which has been suggested is, to provide by law that decisions of the probate court upon questions of fact shall be final; giving, however, either party the right to remove the issue before trial into the supreme court. It is obvious that serious objections might be urged against such a statute. I feel warranted, however, in calling the attention of the Legislature to the question of how far the procedure in probate courts may be reformed in the direction I have indicated.

Under the present laws a guardian cannot be appointed to care for the property of an aged person, feeble in body and mind, however much he may desire it, without placing upon him the stigma of legal insanity,—a stigma which may not only affect his own previous acts, but imperil, also, those of his posterity. It is practicable to provide for legislation that a guardian may be appointed whenever a person by reason of extreme age or physical infirmities so desires, or when his mind is so greatly weakened by age or disease that he needs a guardian to care for his estate, though not in a condition that may properly be characterized as insanity. Similar legislation exists in other States.

Probate courts are empowered by law to appoint auditors to hear disputed accounts. Courts of insolvency should have similar powers regarding disputed claims and accounts of assignees.

Under Pub. Sts., c. 141, § 27, as amended, and St. 1891, c. 415, § 1, probate courts are given jurisdiction in equity, concurrently, with any other court having jurisdiction of proceedings in equity, of all cases and matters relating to the administration of estates of deceased persons, or to wills or other written instruments and trusts created by either. I recommend that those powers in equity be extended so as to embrace matters relating to guardianship.

Answers of Persons summoned by Trustee Process. — A person summoned in a trustee writ as having goods, effects or credits of the plaintiff in his possession, is required to answer under oath in all cases with one exception. In police, municipal and district courts an answer that he has no funds in his possession may be made not under oath. I see no reason for the distinction, and recommend that the law may be made uniform in this respect.

Judicial Salaries. — The salaries of the justices of the higher courts of the Commonwealth are inadequate to the amount of work required and to the dignity and importance of their offices. Every intelligent lawyer has long known this; and I think it is due, not only to the court, but to the bar, that the Attorney-General should call the attention of the Legislature to the matter. The fact that, notwithstanding the present scale of salaries, the Executive has been fortunate thus far in having been able to obtain the services of competent and able men for judicial positions, does not dispose of or affect the question. If the present inadequate salaries are continued, it is doubtful if such good fortune may be expected in future appointments. There has been manifested, already, considerable reluctance to accept positions on the bench on account of the salary of the office. This should not be. The acceptance of judicial appointment ought not to involve a serious pecuniary sacrifice. Comparisons are not always legitimate as arguments; but it is a fact that the salaries paid the justices of our higher courts average much less than those paid in other States of equal rank and population; and the salaries of many subordinate offices in this State very nearly equal the salaries established for the judges of the superior court. Justice to an important and honorable department of the government of the Commonwealth, as well as wise economy, demands that the compensation of those holding high judicial positions be made more nearly commensurate with the value of their services.

Report of the Attorney-General. — The statute requiring a report to the General Court by the Attorney-General provides (Pub. Sts., c. 17, § 9) that he shall include in his report "such . . . information in relation to the criminal laws, and such observations and statements as in his opinion the criminal jurisprudence and the proper and economical administration of the criminal law may warrant and require." It will be observed that this section limits his report to matters relating to criminal law and procedure. It was enacted at a time when the principal business of the Attorney-General was with capital and other criminal cases. I have already referred to the fact, however, that it has been the custom of attorneys-general to include in their report suggestions relating to practice and procedure in both civil and criminal cases. The reason for this undoubtedly is that the judiciary has no proper avenue of communication with the Legislature, and no department of government is charged with the duty of reporting suggestions relating to the business of the courts. In view of the fact that criminal cases, while still the most important, are by no means the principal business of the office of the Attorney-General, there is no good reason why the limitation to matters relating to the criminal side of the courts should longer be retained in the statute. I recommend that the section be redrafted to conform to the existing custom; and that the Attorney-General may be formally authorized to include in his report suggestions and recommendations relating to the judiciary, and to practice and procedure in the courts of the Commonwealth.

OPINIONS.

I append to this report copies of such opinions as may be of public interest or of importance for future reference. The custom of printing official opinions was begun by Attorney-General Pillsbury in 1891. In his report for that year he gave, as a reason therefor, “the frequent inquiry which is made for the official opinions of the Attorney-General and the difficulty of procuring them even from the files of this department.” The same reasons warrant me in recommending that the opinions already published be collected into a single volume, properly indexed and digested. The number so far published, including those of this year, is sufficient to make a book of the ordinary size of the Massachusetts reports. Inquiry for opinions of previous years is often made, and it frequently requires a search through several annual reports to find the one desired. I recommend that a resolve be enacted providing for collecting in a single volume the opinions heretofore published.

OPINIONS.

An act providing that any town in which a high school is not maintained may grant and vote money to pay the tuition of children residing in said town and attending an academy situated in the town, but not under the control of the town authorities, is unconstitutional.

For the same reason it is unconstitutional for a town to grant and vote money to pay the tuition of children attending such an academy outside of the said town.

MARCH 18, 1896.

HON. GEORGE P. LAWRENCE, *President of the Senate.

DEAR SIR:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of a copy of an order adopted Feb. 18, 1896, requesting the “opinion of the Attorney-General upon the following important questions of law:—

“1. Is it constitutional for a town to grant and vote money to pay the tuition of children attending an academy in said town in accordance with chapter 94 of the Acts of 1895?

1. The act referred to in the first question (St. 1895, c. 94) is as follows: “Section 1. Any town in which a high school is not maintained, but in which an academy of equal or higher grade is maintained, may grant and vote money to pay the tuition of children residing in such town and attending such academy: provided, such academy is approved for that purpose by the state board of education.”

So far as this act is in the exercise of the general power conferred by the legislative department to raise money by taxation for public purposes, there is no reason to doubt that it is within the authority of the Legislature. The education of the young has been from the earliest times regarded as one of the highest and most useful public purposes for which taxes may be levied. But the method by which money raised and appropriated for educational purposes may be expended was regulated and limited by

* This opinion and the one following were omitted inadvertently from the report for 1896.

Art. XVIII. of the Amendments to the Constitution, which is as follows: Art. XVIII. All moneys raised by taxation in the towns and cities for the support of public schools, and all moneys which may be appropriated by the state for the support of common schools, shall be applied to, and expended in, no other schools than those which are conducted according to law, under the order and superintendence of the authorities of the town or city in which the money is to be expended; and such moneys shall never be appropriated to any religious sect for the maintenance, exclusively, of its own school."

I am of opinion that the statute in question purports to authorize the expenditure of money raised by taxation in a manner prohibited by this article, and is therefore unconstitutional.

I assume that by the word "academy" is meant a school, incorporated or otherwise, which is not under the control of the municipal authorities. If the control is vested in the town to such an extent that it is "conducted according to law, under the order and superintendence of the authorities of the town," then it becomes a public school, and tuition may not be collected from the children of the town in whose control it is vested; but if the control of the school is not vested in the authorities of the town, it is a private school, against which the prohibition of the constitutional amendment was plainly directed.

Pub. Sts., c. 44, § 2, provides that "every town may, and every town containing five hundred families or householders, according to the last public census taken by the authority either of the Commonwealth or of the United States, shall, besides the schools prescribed in the preceding section, maintain a high school," etc. It has been held by the Supreme Judicial Court (Jenkins v. Andover, 103 Mass. 94, 97, 98) that high schools are a part of the system of public schools which the towns of the State may be required to provide for and maintain. The Legislature, however, has seen fit not to require of certain small towns the duty of maintaining high schools. The obvious purpose of St. 1895, c. 94, is to provide a means of high-school education for the children of such towns. This purpose is accomplished by authorizing the payment of money raised by taxation for the high-school education of the children in any such town in a private educational institution of equal or higher grade, which is approved by the State Board of Education.

The academy so approved, therefore, becomes in such a town a part of the system of education of the children of the town. It takes the place of the high school. For all practical purposes it is the high school of the town, supported, so far as the pupils of the town are concerned, by money raised by taxation. But it is still a school which is not “under the order and superintendence of the authorities of the town or city in which the money is to be expended.”

It is of no consequence that the tuition of such pupils may not be paid from money especially appropriated by the town for the support of its public schools. The question is not one of mere appropriation. The purpose of the constitutional amendment was to prohibit the use of public funds for the education of the children of the Commonwealth in any institution, however conducted, and whether sectarian or not, the control of which is not in the municipal authorities. If the expenditure be for the purpose of the education of the children of the town, it is within the spirit of the prohibition of the amendment. Jenkins v. Andover, 103 Mass. 94.

Undoubtedly the statute in question may be in some cases of great benefit to the children of small towns, and, incidentally, to the tax payers of the towns, who are thus relieved from the disproportionate expense of maintaining a high school established for the benefit of a few pupils. The question, however, is not to be determined by considerations of mere convenience in special cases. If this statute is allowed to stand, the policy of paying the tuition of school children may be further extended, and it might even be possible to provide for the education of all the children of a town in sectarian schools and at the public expense; a proposition which the people of the Commonwealth would be slow, I apprehend, to accept, and against which, indeed, the amendment in question may be said to have been principally directed.

2. For the reasons already stated, I am of opinion that it would be unconstitutional for a town to grant and vote money to pay the tuition of children attending an academy outside of said town.

Very respectfully yours,

HOSEA M. KNOWLTON, Attorney-General.

A bill conferring authority upon a cemetery association to take land by right of eminent domain, said association being subject to § 3, c. 82, Pub. Sts., is unconstitutional.

MAY 5, 1896.

HON. GEORGE V. L. MEYER, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

DEAR SIR:—At the request to the committee on rules, I have examined the bill entitled “An Act to enable the Central Cemetery Association of Randolph to take and hold additional real estate.”

This is a bill authorizing the selectmen of the town of Randolph, upon the request of the directors of the Central Cemetery Association, to take a tract of land by right of eminent domain, to be used by the cemetery association as a part of its burial ground. I understand the question upon which you request my opinion is as to the constitutionality of the bill.

The Central Cemetery Association was incorporated by St. 1878, c. 96, which provides that the corporation shall "have all the powers and be subject to all the duties, restrictions and liabilities set forth in all general laws which now are . . . in force applicable to similar corporations." Pub. Sts., c. 82, relates to cemetery corporations. It provides that ten or more persons who are desirous of establishing a cemetery, or the majority of the proprietors of an existing cemetery, may organize as a corporation. Section 2 provides that every such corporation may take and hold real and personal estate, such as may be necessary for the objects of the corporation, "may lay out such real estate into lots; and upon such terms, conditions, and regulations as it shall prescribe, may grant and convey the exclusive right of burial in and of erecting tombs or cenotaphs upon any lot, and of ornamenting the same." Section 8 provides that such lots shall be held indivisible, and upon the decease of a proprietor his heirs or devisees shall succeed to his privileges.

It follows, therefore, that, if the Central Cemetery Association is permitted to take land for the purposes of a cemetery, the land so taken will be its property, within its exclusive control, and which it may hold or grant to such individuals as it pleases for their own exclusive use, and under such restrictions as it may impose. There is no public right of burial in its cemetery.

I understand that it is claimed that this association has adopted a policy under which all persons, without discrimination, have the right to purchase burial lots. But the question of public use cannot thus be determined. The rights of the public cannot depend upon the liberality of individuals or of corporations. However generous the policy may be, it still remains a use by the public as matter of grace and not of right. If, under its charter and the laws applicable thereto, it may, if it sees fit, discriminate, there is no right of public use.

The right of eminent domain can only be exercised for the benefit of the public. The Declaration of Rights, Art. X., expressly limits the right of taking the property of private citizens to cases where it is appropriated "to public uses." For example, it has been held that under the authority of the Legislature land may be taken for a railroad, a sewer, a school-house, a highway, a post-office, a park or for water works, or the abatement of a nuisance. In each class of cases enumerated, and in all others in which the right of eminent domain has been upheld, the taking is for a use in which all citizens have the right, under reasonable conditions, to share, and the benefits of which they may enjoy. This is the condition of the right of taking the land of a private citizen. This test has always been applied when the attempt has been made to invade the rights of private property.

Pub. Sts., c. 82, §§ 10–14, provide that “when there is a necessity for a new burial-ground in a town, or for the enlargement of a burial-ground already existing in and belonging to a town,” the land of a private citizen may be taken therefor. But these sections relate wholly, as will be seen, to cemeteries belonging to a town, and which, therefore, are for the use of all citizens of a town. This statute has been upheld by the court as within the authority of the Legislature. But there is no statute authorizing the taking of land by the right of eminent domain by a cemetery association, nor is there any decision of the court indicating that such authority would be upheld as constitutional.

Some confusion of thought has arisen over the peculiar status of burial grounds, and the sacredness with which they are properly regarded. The customs of civilized society not only sanction, but require, the burial of the dead. The same customs forbid that land which has been so appropriated, shall afterwards be used for any other purpose; and it has been uniformly held that there is no authority but an act of the Legislature that can authorize an encroachment for other purposes upon a tract of land which has been dedicated to burial purposes. Once used as a cemetery, the land so used is perpetually devoted to the purposes of burial, and cannot be sold or appropriated to other uses. Mt. Auburn Cemetery Association v. Cambridge, 150 Mass. 12, 17.

In Evergreen Cemetery Association v. City of New Haven, 43 Ct. 234, it was held that land which had been appropriated to the purposes of burial could not be taken for a public street, under the general power given to towns and cities to take land for such a purpose, but that there must be authority specially granted by the Legislature. In this case it was said by the court (on page 241) that “the use of land for a burial ground is a public use, and for such purpose it may be taken, if need be, under the right of eminent domain.” But the sentence quoted was not necessary to the decision, and must be regarded as obiter dictum. All that the decision of the court required was the position that the sanctity of burial grounds could not be invaded for other uses, public or private, without the direct authority of the Legislature. And in a subsequent suit between the same parties (53 Ct. 552), in which the corporation, apparently relying upon the dictum in the former opinion, undertook to acquire the land of the defendant by right of eminent domain, it was clearly held that no such right could be given to a corporation unless the cemetery was one in which there was a public right, to the extent, at least, that "all persons have the same measure of right for the same measure of money."

But this dedication of land for burial purposes to the extent that it must thereafterwards be used only for such purposes and for no other is very far from being a "public use," as that expression is used with reference to the taking of land by the right of eminent domain. It may well be that, however dedicated, whether by public or private act, land once appropriated to the purposes of burial must be regarded as sacred, and not to be used for any other purpose whatever, excepting by authority of the Legislature. This, however, is not because it has been devoted to public uses, but from the peculiar nature of the use to which the land has been applied.

It cannot be said that a cemetery, the use of which is controlled by an individual or a corporation, rights of burial in which may be limited or prohibited at the pleasure of the corporation owning the land, or of the owners of lots therein whose rights have been obtained from the original proprietors, is devoted to a public use. It is still private in its nature. The public have no rights in it whatever. The use of it may be confined to persons of a particular religious faith, or even to the original incorporators. It is not a public use, because the right of burial is not vested in the public, or in the public authorities. In re Deansville Cemetery Assn. 66 N. Y. 569.

In my opinion, therefore, the Legislature has not the authority to grant to a cemetery association, however deserving, or however liberal the policy of its management, the right to take the land of private citizens without their consent. I am aware that such acts have been passed by the Legislature heretofore, and my attention has been expressly called to Sts. 1888, c. 185, which was an act similar in its purposes to the present bill. But I am not aware that the question now presented has been raised or passed upon.

Very truly yours,

HOSEA M. KNOWLTON, Attorney-General.

The aids employed by the State Fire Marshal are not entitled to witness fees while attending the trial of a criminal case.

JAN. 9, 1897.

CHARLES W. WHITCOMB, Esq., Fire Marshal.

DEAR SIR:—Pub. Sts., c. 199, § 36, provides that “no person employed as a district police officer, and no officer of the State whose salary is fixed by law, shall be entitled to a witness fee before any court or trial justice of this Commonwealth in a cause where the Commonwealth is a party.” In some cases the word “officer,” as used in the penal statutes, includes only officers authorized to serve process; but, in my opinion, the section the language of which I have quoted gives to the word a broader signification, and is to be construed according to the usual and obvious signification of the words used.

The salaries of your aids are fixed by St. 1895, c. 452, § 1. They are officers of the State, because the positions are created by the Legislature and their compensation is payable from the treasury of the Commonwealth. They are, therefore, not entitled to witness fees.

Yours very truly,

HOSKA M. KNOWLTON, Attorney-General.

Under the provisions of Pub. Sts., c. 89, § 22, a court or magistrate is not authorized to place juvenile offenders in the custody of the State Board of Lunacy and Charity except upon its request.

JAN. 11, 1897.

S. C. WRIGHTINGTON, Esq., Superintendent.

DEAR SIR:—Confirming my oral opinion to you given this day in reply to the question contained in your letter of the 8th, I have to say that in my opinion Pub. Sts., c. 89, § 22, which provides that the court or magistrate before whom a boy or girl is brought “upon request of the state board may authorize said board to take and indenture . . . such boy or girl,” does not authorize such courts to place juvenile offenders in the custody of the State Board of Lunacy and Charity excepting upon its request. The object of the statute is to authorize the Board to become practically guardians of such offenders whenever in its judgment their welfare will be thereby promoted. The discretion as to whether it shall assume such duties is vested in the first instance in the Board, and if it does not desire to assume the charge of the boy or girl, the court has no right to impose the duty.

Yours very truly,

HOSKA M. KNOWLTON, Attorney-General.

At a meeting of the Hampden Agricultural Society, at which proceedings were held for the election of a member of the State Board of Agriculture, the balloting resulted as follows: the whole number of votes cast was 46, of which B had 41, F 4 and P 1. Of the votes cast for B, 39 were cast by proxy.

There being no provision in the charter or by-laws of the society regulating the mode of voting by proxy, or conferring the right so to vote, no member had such right; and, since no quorum voted, the votes cast by proxy being thrown out, no person was duly elected by said society as a member of the State Board of Agriculture.

JAN. 16, 1897.

HON. WILLIAM R. SESSIONS, Secretary.

MY DEAR SIR:—In obedience to your request for my opinion upon the legality of the proceedings of the Hampden Agricultural Society in electing a member of the State Board of Agriculture, I beg leave to reply as follows:—

Pub. Sts., c. 20, § 1, provides that certain other persons and “one person appointed from and by each agricultural society” shall constitute the State Board of Agriculture.

The Hampden County Agricultural Society is one of those described in Pub. Sts., c. 114, § 1. Section 9 of the same act provides that it “shall admit as members, upon equal terms, citizens of every town in the county in which it is located.”

The Hampden County Agricultural Society was incorporated by a special act, St. 1844, c. 56. It is not a stock company, and there is no capital stock. The constitution provides in Art. 3 that “any male may become a member of this society by paying to its treasurer the sum of five dollars; females by the payment of two and fifty one-hundredths dollars.” Art. 4 provides that ten members shall constitute a quorum. Art. 5 provides for the election of officers, and further provides as follows: “all of whom shall be elected by ballot or otherwise, as the society shall direct, at the annual meeting.” There is no provision with regard to the mode of election of the member of the State Board. By-laws, Art. 8, provide that the delegate to the State Board of Agriculture shall be a member ex officio of the board of directors.

The annual meeting of this society was duly called and held Nov. 18, 1896. The records do not show the number present. The presiding officer states that a quorum was in fact present. The election of president was first had, and the records show whole number of ballots cast 49, of which Abbe had 42 and Sanford 7. At this stage of the proceeding the tellers reported that, of the 49 ballots cast, 39 of them were represented by proxies, which were placed on file. Abbe was declared elected. Ballot for two vice-presidents was recorded as follows: whole number of votes cast, including 39 proxies, 48; Hawkins and Wright each had 42. Porter had 5, Smith had 4, 2 scattering. The first two were declared elected. The treasurer was chosen by viva voce vote, also the secretary, without opposition. Balloting for the member of the State Board resulted as follows: whole number of ballots cast, including 39 proxies, 46; Bernie had 41, Fowler 4, William H. Porter 1. Bernie was declared elected.

No protest against the use of proxies was made until the close of the meeting, when Mr. Clark of Wilbraham said that he believed the proceedings were illegal and void; that proxies had never been used before to his knowledge in the election of officers; and he entered his protest.

An examination of the proxies shows that they were written for the most part on forms usually used for stockholders of corporations, signed and witnessed, and were made to George H. Gould, who voted upon them in each instance for the person declared elected.

The general rule is that, in the case of elections in public and municipal corporations and in all other elections of a public nature, every vote must be personally given; but in the case of moneyed corporations, instituted for private purposes, it has been held that the right of voting by proxy may be delegated by the by-laws of the institution where the charter is silent. 2 Kent Com. 294, 295. By another eminent authority it is held that the members of the corporation must vote personally, and cannot lawfully vote by proxy unless the right to vote by proxy is expressly conferred by the company's charter or by-laws. 1 Morawetz on Private Corporations, 2d ed. sec. 486.

I know of no express authority on the subject in Massachusetts; but Pub. Sts., c. 105, § 5, provides that "every corporation may by its by-laws, where no other provision is especially made, determine the mode of voting by proxy." In section 1 of the same chapter it is said that "the provisions of this chapter, unless expressly limited in their application, shall apply to all corporations organized under or by the laws of this Commonwealth."

The provisions of section 1 are sufficient to include such a corporation as the Hampden Agricultural Society. It is, therefore, bound by the provisions of section 5. No by-laws have been made which regulate the mode of voting by proxy, or which confer the right so to vote. In the absence of such by-law it is clear that under the statutes no member has the right to vote by proxy. This is also in accordance with the general principles of law as above stated.

The person who was elected at the annual meeting of the society by proxy votes was, therefore, not duly chosen.

It would seem further that no one was chosen, for, if the proxies be thrown out, no quorum seems to have voted.

It follows that no person was duly elected a member of the State Board of Agriculture.

This opinion does not deal with the duties of the State Board in the premises. Upon this question different considerations may arise, which need not be at present discussed.

Yours very truly,

HOSEA M. KNOWLTON, Attorney-General.

Veteran. — Honorably discharged soldier. — Funeral expenses. — Sts. 1896, c. 279.

A person having enlisted and served in the United States army during the war of the rebellion, and having been honorably discharged therefrom, enlisted again before the end of the war and deserted.

Such a person does not come within the provisions of Sts. 1896, c. 279, providing that certain persons having served in the war of the rebellion shall be buried at the public expense.

JAN. 16, 1897.

Maj. Gen. SAMUEL DALTON, Adjutant-General.

DEAR SIR:— St. 1896, c. 279, provides that “any honorably discharged soldier, sailor or marine, who served in the army or navy of the United States during the war of the rebellion,” who dies without leaving sufficient means to defray his funeral expenses, shall be buried at the public expense. This statute is one of a series of acts passed by the Legislature in recognition of the services of veterans in the war of the rebellion. Other statutes have provided that veterans shall be preferred in appointments to office. All these acts without doubt have in mind the same class of persons, and are based upon the same considerations. St. 1896, c. 517, which is an act relative to the employment of veterans in the public service, defines in section 1 the word “veteran” as meaning “a person who served in the army or navy of the United States in the time of the war of the rebellion, and was honorably discharged therefrom.” The language used in this definition of the word veteran is equivalent to that employed to designate the persons who may be buried at the public expense.

The plain intent of these acts, including that in relation to the burial of veterans, is to recognize the debt of gratitude due to those who served in the army in the war of the rebellion faithfully and honorably, and deserved well of their country. Opinion of the Justices, 166 Mass. 589, 595. None of them were intended to include those who served dishonorably, or who failed in the performance of their duty. The words "honorably discharged" are used to restrict the recognition accorded by these statutes to soldiers who performed their duty, and whose honorable discharge is therefore to be taken as evidence of that fact.

This being so, the words "honorably discharged" can only fulfil the intent of the Legislature when they are taken to mean "(finally) honorably discharged." One who enlisted for a term of service and was honorably discharged therefrom, and who then enlisted again and deserted, was not finally honorably discharged, and is not within the class of persons whom the Legislature intended to recognize and reward. He was not faithful to his duty. The literal meaning of the words of the act undoubtedly apply to his case, for he was a soldier in the war of the rebellion and was honorably discharged. Statutes, however, are not always to be construed literally, especially when such construction is plainly against the intent of the Legislature. The honorable discharge in the case put was before the whole term of service in the war of rebellion was complete. Before the completion of that entire term he failed in the performance of his duty, and is not therefore within the class entitled to be rewarded.

I am of opinion, therefore, that in the case you put, to wit, of a man who enlisted and was honorably discharged, and before the end of the war enlisted again and deserted, does not come within the provisions of St. 1896, c. 279.

Yours very truly,

HOSEA M. KNOWLTON, Attorney-General.

Expenditure by counties. — Power of county treasurer. — Bills incurred in one year, but paid after the expiration thereof.

Bills for any specific county purpose incurred during a given year may be paid out of the appropriation for that year, whether before or after the 1st of January of the succeeding year.

JAN. 16, 1897.

CHARLES R. PRESCOTT, Esq., Controller of County Accounts.

DEAR SIR: — The question stated in your letter of January 9 is this. A certain sum of money is appropriated for a specific county purpose for the year 1896. Can the county treasurer, on the order of the county commissioners, after Jan. 1, 1897, lawfully pay a bill incurred for that purpose during the year 1896 out of the appropriation for that year? The second question is the same in effect, although it assumes that the books of the treasurer have been closed before the bill is ordered paid.

There can be no possible doubt that bills for any specific county purpose incurred during a given year may be paid out of the appropriation made for that year, whether before or after the 1st of January of the succeeding year, and whether before or after the closing of the books of the treasurer. While the law limits the incurring of the expenditure to the year for which the appropriation is made, it does not limit the time of payment. If money remains in the hands of the treasurer out of the appropriation, he may pay the bill upon the order of the commissioners out of that appropriation whenever it comes in, provided the expenditure was incurred during the year of the appropriation.

In view of the above, your third question does not require to be answered.

Yours very truly,

HOSHA M. KNOWLTON, Attorney-General.

Fraternal beneficiary corporation. — Right of member to vote by proxy.—

By-laws providing for voting by proxy. St. 1894, c. 367.

The members of a fraternal beneficiary corporation may not vote at its meetings by proxy, in the absence of any by-law of the corporation to that effect.

Such corporation may, however, by its by-laws determine the mode of voting by proxy.

JAN. 23, 1897.

HON. GEORGE S. MERRILL, Insurance Commissioner.

DEAR SIR: — Your letter of Jan. 20 requests my opinion as to whether, under St. 1894, c. 367, members of a fraternal beneficiary corporation can vote at the meetings of the corporation by proxy.

In the absence of any by-law to that effect, proxies cannot be used. But I understand from an oral interview that you further desire to know whether such companies may establish by-laws which shall provide for voting by proxy.

I have recently considered the subject of proxy voting in an opinion to the Board of Agriculture (p. 8). The statutes of the Commonwealth clearly recognize the right of voting by proxy, under certain conditions. As to many corporations it is either specifically authorized or specifically limited as to the number of proxies. Vid. as to manufacturing corporations, Pub. Sts., c. 106, § 27; as to railroad corporations, Pub. Sts., c. 112, § 54; street railway corporations, Pub. Sts., c. 113, § 12; as to banks, Pub. Sts., c. 118, § 10; as to stock insurance companies, Acts 1894, c. 522, § 32; and as to mutual companies, Acts 1894, c. 522, §§ 40 and 74.

There is nothing in the statute concerning the incorporation of fraternal beneficiary organizations (Sts. 1894, c. 367) which authorizes voting by proxy; but Pub. Sts., c. 105, "of certain powers, duties and liabilities of corporations," is declared in section 1 to be applicable "to all corporations organized under or by the laws of this Commonwealth, except so far as they are inconsistent with other provisions of these statutes concerning particular classes of corporations." Section 5 of this chapter provides that "every corporation may, by its by-laws, where no other provision is specially made, determine . . . the mode of voting by proxy."

Inasmuch as the provisions of this chapter are applicable to all corporations organized under the laws of Massachusetts, they must be taken to be applicable to fraternal beneficiary organizations. Such corporations may, therefore, by their by-laws determine the mode of voting by proxy.

Yours very truly,

License to fill flats. — Transfer of license. — Rights in sea-shore. — Tide waters. — History of legislation. — Pub. Sts., c. 19.

A license to fill flats in tide water, granted by the Board of Harbor and Land Commissioners under the provisions of Pub. Sts., c. 19, is not a personal trust, but the rights conferred by it pass with the property to which it relates, and are not terminated by the death of the licensee or the transfer of the property.

JAN. 25, 1897.

HON. WOODWARD EMERY,

Chairman Board of Harbor and Land Commissioners.

DEAR SIR:—Your letter of December 4 requests my opinion upon the following question, to wit: "When a license to fill upon flats in tide water within certain bounds has been granted to a person under the provisions of Pub. Sts., c. 19, does the death of the licensee or the transfer of the property terminate the license? Would the purchaser of the land have a right to fill under that license, in the absence of any attempt to assign the license to the purchaser and an assent thereto by the Board?"

By the common law of England the soil of the shore between high and low water marks, and all arms of the sea, coves and creeks, where the tide ebbs and flows, are the property of the sovereign, unless appropriated to a private person by grant or prescription.

The company which undertook the settlement of Massachusetts was made a body politic by the letters-patent and charter of Charles I., having absolute property in the land within the limits of the charter, the power of making laws for the government of the colony, and full dominion over all ports, rivers, creeks and havens, in as full and ample a manner as they had before been held by the crown of England.

Among the earliest acts of legislation in Massachusetts was an exercise of sovereignty with respect to the shore or flats of coves etc., occasioned by the desire and necessity for wharves, quays and piers. To encourage the building of such structures, the government, by the Colony ordinance of 1641-47, transferred its property in the shore of all creeks, coves and other places upon the salt water where the sea ebbs and flows to the proprietors of the upland, giving to them in fee the property of the soil to low-water mark not exceeding one hundred rods. But by this grant those who acquired this property were restricted from such use of it as would impair the public right of passing over the water in boats, and other vessels through any sea, creeks or coves, to other men's houses or lands. Under this statute the owner of flats could lawfully erect nothing on them which would obstruct or hinder such passage, though he might build wharves toward the sea, if he did not thereby straighten or interrupt the passage over the water so as to constitute a public nuisance. Shaw, C. J., in Com. v. Alger, 7 Cush. 77, quoting Com. v. Charlestown, 1 Pick. 180.

This ordinance vested the property of the flats in the owners of the upland in fee, to be held subject to the general right of the public for navigation until built upon or enclosed; and subject also to the reservation that it should not be built upon or enclosed in such manner as to impede the public right of way over it for boats and vessels. Shaw, C. J., ibid., p. 79.

The rights of the owners of flats are limited by and subservient to the general rights of the public, to have control over the shores of the sea and navigable waters, for the security and protection of rights of navigation. These rights, held by the king before the revolution, in trust for the public, and relinquished after the Declaration of Independence, vested in the several States, to be exercised by their respective Legislatures. They are founded on the consideration that all real estate derived from the government is subject to certain restraints for the general good, and that sea-shore estate, though held in fee by the riparian proprietors, is yet, on account of the peculiar nature and character, position and relation of the estate, and the great public interests associated with it, especially subject to the exercise of the rights of the public. Shaw, C. J., in Com. v. Alger, 7 Cush. 95. To declare and protect these rights the Legislature has power by a general law affecting all riparian proprietors to make reasonable regulations, declaring the public right, and providing for its preservation by reasonable restraints, and to enforce these restraints by reasonable penalties. Henry v. Newburyport, 149 Mass. 582, at p. 585; Attorney-General v. B. & L. R.R., 118 Mass. 348.

Before the passage of the statute requiring a license to be procured for the filling of flats in tide waters the owner of flats might, unless prohibited by the Legislature, reclaim them by building wharves or otherwise so as to exclude navigation, provided he did not wholly cut off his neighbors' access to their houses or lands. Note to Com. v. Roxbury, 9 Gray, 451, 519, and cases cited; Shively v. Bowlby, 152 U. S. 1, 18, et seq. For a case where flats were so filled upon by the owner apparently without a license or other authority from the Legislature, vid. Henshaw v. Hunting, 1 Gray, 203 (1854); vid. also Kean v. Stetson, 5 Pick. 492, 495.

The first general statute abridging this right to fill upon flats, or erect structures on soil beneath tide waters owned by private persons, was St. 1866, c. 149. It is true that by an earlier statute, Res. 1859, c. 103, it was provided that riparian owners desiring to use their property by extending wharves or otherwise might buy from the Commonwealth the right so to do; but no express prohibition was placed upon filling upon flats, etc., without buying such right or without license. Apparently any one so filling upon flats did so at his peril, and was liable to indictment if the work interfered with the means of access to other persons' lands. This statute of 1866 provided for the appointment of five persons, to constitute a Board of Harbor Commissioners, to have "the general care and supervision of all the harbors and tide waters, and of all the flats and lands flowed thereby within the Commonwealth . . . in order to prevent and remove unauthorized encroachments and causes . . . liable to interfere with the full navigation of said harbors . . . or cause any reduction of their tide waters."

The Board was also empowered to prescribe harbor lines, — an authority previously granted to another commission, Res. 1864, c. 46. By section 4 it was enacted that all persons that might have been or might be authorized by the Legislature to build over tide waters any bridge, etc., or to fill upon any flats, should notify the Board of the plan of work they propose to adopt, and no such work should be begun until the said plan was approved by a majority of the Board. By section 5 of the said statute all erections and works made after the enactment of the act without authority from the Legislature, or in any manner not sanctioned by the Board where their direction was required, within tide waters flowing into or through any harbor, were declared a public nuisance and liable to indictment.

The obvious reasons for the enactment of this statute were the growth of commerce, the tendency to fill upon flats and erect wharves, as had been the custom, without the authority of the Legislature, and the necessity of protecting the waters of harbors. Attorney-General v. B. & L. R.R., 118 Mass. 348-9. The right upon which the Legislature acted in passing the statute was undoubtedly the right mentioned above, viz., that of regulating the use and control of the shores of navigable waters for the protection of public interests depending upon free and uninterrupted opportunities for navigation. This statute required the procuring of a license from the Legislature for filling upon flats, whether or not such filling would cut off other persons' access to their houses or lands. To require the action of the Legislature must have been felt to be an inconvenience which was remedied by St. 1872, c. 236, § 1, referred to later.

The next statute relating to this subject is St. 1869, c. 432, which prescribed certain conditions to be attached to all licenses thereafter granted to fill upon flats; among others, that they should be revocable by the Legislature at any time, and should expire at the end of five years from their date, except where valuable structures had actually been built.

St. 1872, c. 236, § 1, was enacted apparently to relieve the Legislature of the duty of granting licenses to fill upon flats, etc., in tide waters, and to impose such duties upon the Harbor Commissioners. Section 1 of this statute provided that "any person may build or extend a wharf, or construct a pier, dam, sea-wall, road, bridge or other structure, fill land or flats, or drive piles in or over tide water below high-water mark, within the line of riparian ownership, on any shore, and within whatever harbor lines there may be at the time established by law along such shore; provided, the license of the board of harbor commissioners is first obtained in a manner provided by the fourth section of chapter one hundred and forty-nine of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and sixty-six." The statute further provided (section 2) for the granting of licenses to fill upon flats, etc., beyond the line of riparian ownership where harbor lines had been established, the license to set forth the terms and specify the limits, etc., of the work to be performed. The power to grant such licenses beyond the line of riparian ownership where no harbor line had been established, was also given to the said board by St. 1874, c. 347, subject to certain restrictions.

The later statutes relating to this subject are St. 1877, c. 213, changing the organization of the Board of Harbor Commissioners, but making no change in their powers and duties; St. 1879, c. 263, again changing the organization, consolidating the boards of Harbor and of Land Commissioners into one Board, to exercise the powers conferred upon each Board, and to be called the Board of Harbor and Land Commissioners; and St. 1878, c. 74, requiring the amount of tide water displaced by filling upon flats, etc., to be ascertained and compensation to be made.

St. 1866, c. 148, § 2, defining the general powers of the commission, substantially corresponds to Pub. Sts., c. 19, § 6; section 3 of said statute to Pub. Sts., c. 19, § 7; section 4 (first half) to Pub. Sts., c. 19, § 8. Pub. Sts., c. 19, § 9, is constructed from St. 1872, c. 236, §§ 1 and 2, and St. 1874, c. 347.

I have thus reviewed the history of legislation respecting tide waters and flats between high and low water marks, for the reason that it has, in my judgment, an important bearing in the determination of the question proposed. At common law a license, so far as the word concerns real estate, is an authority to do a particular act upon land of another without acquiring any estate therein, and is terminated at the death either of the licensor or licensee, and may not be assigned without the assent of the licensor. Cook v. Stearns, 11 Mass. 533; Johnson v. Carter, 16 Mass. 443; Ruggles v. Lesure, 24 Pick. 187; Hodgkins v. Farrington, 150 Mass. 19. The statutes of Massachusetts, however, provide for the granting of many classes of licenses, as to some of which the act licensed is regarded as a personal trust and therefore unassignable, while as to others it has been held that the right to do the act for which the license is granted may be assigned without the assent of the authority granting the license. Examples of the first class are licenses to sell intoxicating liquor, and to carry on the business of an innholder. As to such cases, it is obvious that the principal thing to be considered in the granting of the license is the character of the person to whom the trust is committed. As to these the rules of common law prevail, and they may not be assigned without consent.

On the other hand, it has been held that a license to set up and run a stationary steam engine may be assigned at the will of the licensee. Quinn v. Middlesex Electric Light Co., 140 Mass.

109. The opinion in the case quoted is brief, and the reasons of the decision reached are not given. But it is obvious that the reason for requiring a license for the running of a steam engine in thickly populated places is that those living near the place where the engine is established, as well as the general public, are concerned in the question whether the setting up and maintaining of a steam engine is hazardous. The license is granted not as a personal trust, but upon consideration of the fact that it is deemed by the licensing authority not to be dangerous to the community to operate a steam engine in the locality for which the license is granted.

Applying these distinctions to the question proposed, it is obvious that licenses to fill upon flats between high and low water marks belonging to that class where the principal consideration is the rights of the public, rather than the character of the licensee. As has already been shown by the history of the legislation upon the subject, the purpose of committing to your Board the jurisdiction of granting or refusing such licenses is so to regulate the filling upon flats by riparian proprietors that the rights of the public, and of adjoining riparian owners, may be preserved. Gray, C. J., in Attorney-General v. Boston & Lowell R. R., 118 Mass. 348, 349; Attorney-General v. Cambridge, 119 Mass. 518; Attorney-General v. Woods, 108 Mass. 436, 440. A license to fill upon flats is not granted upon any consideration affecting the character of the licensee, or as a personal trust to him, but because your Board, upon consideration of all the circumstances, is of opinion that the acts licensed will not materially interfere with the rights of the public or with adjoining riparian owners. Such a license is in the nature of a regulation of the use of flats by the riparian owner. The statute requires that the extent of the flats to be filled upon must be described by metes and bounds, and that the method of filling must be determined upon beforehand, and a plan filed with the commissioners and recorded in the registry of deeds. The period during which the acts licensed may be done is limited to five years, and is revocable only by the legislature. All these provisions add to the force of the proposition that the rights granted by the license have no necessary connection with the personality of the licensee, but are granted as appurtenant to the ownership of the soil. For these reasons I am of opinion that the license is not to be regarded as a personal trust, but that the rights conferred by it pass with the property, and are not terminated by the death of the licensee or by the transfer of the property.

Authority of town to substitute new notes for notes already issued. — St. 1889, c. 424.

The town of North Brookfield, having issued notes under the authority conferred upon it by St. 1889, c. 424, for the purpose of paying the expenses incurred under said statute in supplying said town with water, has no authority, even with the assent of the Commonwealth, the holder of the said notes, to issue new notes in substitution for those already existing.

HON. EDWARD P. SHAW, Treasurer and Receiver-General.

DEAR SIR: — St. 1889, c. 424, is an act to supply the town of North Brookfield with pure water. Section 5 of said chapter provides that, for the purpose of paying the expenses and liabilities incurred under the act, the town may issue from time to time notes to an amount not exceeding in the aggregate $100,000. By Sts. 1893, c. 326, this amount is increased to $150,000. Said section provides for the creation of a sinking fund; but under section 6, instead of establishing a sinking fund the town may “at the time of authorizing said loan, provide for the payment thereof in such annual payments as will in the aggregate extinguish the same within the time prescribed in this act; and when such vote has been passed, the amount required shall without further vote be assessed by the assessors of said town in each year thereafter until the debt incurred by said loan shall be extinguished.”

I understand by your letter that the town may desire to substitute for those notes other notes, so that the annual charge upon the town should be less; and your letter requires my opinion as to whether, with the assent of the Commonwealth, which holds said notes, such substitution may be made.

I am of opinion that the town has exhausted the authority to borrow money given it by said act. New notes cannot be issued without vote of the town; and there is no authority for the town to vote to issue such new notes. The town having exercised the authority given by the act to issue its notes, it has thereupon become the duty of the assessors to assess the amounts due upon said notes each year. No different arrangement can be made which will be binding upon the town excepting by authority of the Legislature.

Ordinarily, a debtor and creditor may agree between themselves to postpone payment of a debt, and to substitute new notes, or evidences of indebtedness, in place of those existing; but a town can only issue its notes in pursuance of legislative authority. Its authority in respect to the expenses incurred by the introduction of pure water has been exhausted. Notes to the full amount of such expenses have been issued, by vote of the town, and the payment of them has been provided for. Only the Legislature, which created, has power to alter the situation.

Authority of savings bank to spend money for bank building. — St. 1894, c. 817, § 21, par. 8.

The provisions of St. 1894, c. 817, § 21, par. 8, authorizing a savings bank to invest five per cent. of its deposits, but not exceeding $200,000, in a suitable site and building for the transaction of its business, limit the amount which such a bank may spend for such purpose, but do not prohibit it from providing for stores, hall, business offices, etc., in the structure which it is then authorized to erect.

FEB 26, 1897.

HON. STARKES WHITON, Chairman,

Board of Savings Bank Commissioners.

DEAR SIR: — I do not think that the St. 1894, c. 817, § 21, par. 8, relating to savings banks, which provides that “five per cent. of the deposits of any such corporation, but not exceeding two hundred thousand dollars, may be invested in the purchase of a suitable site and the erection or preparation of a suitable building for the convenient transaction of its business,” is to be construed as so limiting the bank that it may not provide for stores, halls, business offices, etc., in the structure which it is authorized to erect under said statute.

The intent of the statute is to limit the expenditure, not the method of occupancy. In many, if not in most cases, it would be better judgment to construct a building, part of which could be rented.

Yours truly,

HOSEA M. KNOWLTON, Attorney-General.

State paupers. — Pest house. — Expense of nursing. — Reimbursement to towns. — St. 1891, c. 153.

A city or town should be reimbursed by the Commonwealth for all reasonable expenses of caring for State paupers sick with dangerous diseases in a pest-house, and the amount of such reimbursement is not limited by the proviso contained in St. 1891, c. 153, to a sum not exceeding five dollars per week.

FEB. 26, 1897.

State Board of Lunacy and Charity.

GENTLEMEN: — Your letter of February 9 requests my opinion as to whether a hospital for small-pox patients, established under the provisions of Pub. Sts., c. 80, §§ 70–83, is “a hospital maintained for the care of the sick,” in the sense in which those words are used in St. 1891, c. 153. Under the provisions of the sections of the Public Statutes above referred to, a town may establish within its limits “one or more hospitals for the reception of persons having a disease dangerous to the public health.” Provision is made for the conduct and regulation of such hospitals in such way as to prevent the spread of small-pox or other dangerous disease. Section 83 provides that “all reasonable expenses . . . incurred by the board of health of a city or town, in making the provision required by law for a person infected with small-pox or other disease dangerous to public health, shall be paid by the person himself if able, otherwise . . . if he has no settlement, by the Commonwealth.” Chapter 86, relating to State paupers and their removal to the State Almshouse, provides in section 25 that no city or town officer shall “send to the (State) almshouse any person infected with small-pox or other disease dangerous to the public health, or any other sick person whose health would be endangered by removal; but all such persons liable to be maintained by the Commonwealth shall be supported during their sickness by the city or town in which they are taken sick.” Section 26 of the same chapter as it stood in the Public Statutes provided that the expense incurred by maintaining a person under the provisions of section 25 should be reimbursed by the Commonwealth.

Section 26 above referred to was amended by St. 1891, c. 153, by the addition of the following proviso, to wit: “provided, that when any person liable to be supported by the Commonwealth shall have received assistance in a hospital maintained for the care of the sick, the entire expense incurred by any city or town for said hospital aid, not to exceed five dollars per week, shall be reimbursed to said city or town by the Commonwealth in the manner herein provided.”

A pest house (as a hospital maintained under Pub. Sts., c. 80, §§ 70–83, is commonly called) is undoubtedly “a hospital maintained for the care of the sick.” But, if it were the intention of the proviso under consideration to modify or limit the provisions in Pub. Sts., c. 80, § 83, that “all reasonable expenses . . . incurred by the board of health in making the provision required by law for a person infected with small-pox” shall be paid by the Commonwealth, the language of the proviso is singularly ill chosen. It limits the expense of five dollars to cases where the person to be supported “shall have received assistance in a hospital maintained for the care of the sick,” and authorizes the reimbursement to the city or town of a sum not exceeding five dollars for the “expense incurred by any city for said hospital aid." The plain intention of this proviso is that when a person afflicted with a dangerous disease, or whose condition is such that he cannot be removed, is in a hospital, the city or town shall be reimbursed for the hospital charges incurred thereby; but, inasmuch as hospital charges are often considerable, no greater sum than five dollars shall be allowed. The expressions in the proviso, "shall have received assistance in a hospital," and "incurred by any city or town for such hospital aid," plainly refer to hospitals not maintained by the city, but to public or charitable hospitals where a charge is made to the city or town for patients placed therein.

The language of the proviso is not applicable to the case of a pest house, where the city does not incur the expense for "hospital aid," as contemplated in the proviso, but assumes the entire charge and expense of caring for the person infected. The statutes relating to the establishment of pest houses make special and extraordinary provisions for the care and sequestration of persons afflicted with small-pox or other dangerous diseases. They are to be cared for, and sequestered under established regulations from possible contact with the community, the Commonwealth undertaking to pay the entire expense of such care and sequestration in the case of State paupers. The expense of such care and sequestration would ordinarily be very much more than five dollars a week; and the mere cost of maintaining the pest house would be but a small portion of the whole charge for nursing and medical attendance. If the Legislature of 1891 had intended to limit the amount of such expense, apt language would have been employed for the purpose. The language of the proviso is not apt for that purpose; but, upon consideration of the language of the proviso itself, and taking it in connection with the provisions of Pub. Sts. c. 80, it obviously refers to cases where the patient is committed to a hospital not maintained by a town, to be supported there at the expense of the town.

This view is strengthened by consideration of section 75 of Pub. Sts., c. 80, under which, where diseases like the small-pox break out in a town, the board of health therein are obliged "immediately" to provide a hospital for the reception and care of persons so afflicted; and when the condition of patients is such that they cannot be removed, the house in which they are to be sick is to be considered a "hospital," and subject to all the regulations prescribed for pest houses. Having thus imposed so extraordinary and imperative a duty upon the municipality, and practically required every patient to be put in a special and necessarily expensive hospital, and having declared that all expenses of providing for such cases shall be borne by the Commonwealth, in case of State paupers, it is unreasonable to suppose that, by the proviso above quoted, it was intended to relieve the Commonwealth of a great portion of the expenses so directed to be incurred.

I am of opinion, therefore, that a city or town is to be reimbursed for all the reasonable expenses of caring for persons sick with dangerous diseases in a pest house, and is not limited by the proviso of St. 1891, c. 153, to an amount not exceeding five dollars per week.

Yours very truly,

Insurance company of foreign country. — Evidence of authority of resident manager. — Power to make annual statement.

An attested copy of a document executed by an insurance company of a foreign country, appointing a resident manager in this country, is not the best evidence of such appointment, and in court proceedings would be subject to the limitations relating to the use of secondary evidence.

A duplicate of a document executed by an insurance company of a foreign country, appointing a resident manager in this country, is not a copy, but an original document, and may properly be received by the Insurance Commissioner as evidence of the authority of the person named therein.

In proving by documentary evidence alone the appointment of a resident manager in this country by an insurance company of a foreign country, acting through an executive officer, upon whom authority to make such appointment was conferred by vote of the directors, such vote shall be proved by producing the books of the company containing the record thereof, and an attested copy of the record of such vote would be subject to the limitations relating to the use of secondary evidence.

Under the powers conferred upon the resident manager in this country of the London Assurance by a certain power of attorney, he has power to make the annual statement to the insurance department required by St. 1894, c. 522, § 96.

FEB. 26, 1897.

HON. GEORGE S. MERRILL, Insurance Commissioner.

DEAR SIR:—I have your letter of February 1, requesting my opinion upon four questions relating to a power of attorney executed by the London Assurance, conferring upon one William W. Travell authority to carry on and manage a branch office of the said corporation in New York for the purpose of transacting the business of marine insurance. The first question asked is, whether an attested copy of this document should be received by the insurance department as evidence for its own use and for possible use in the courts that Mr. Travell was duly appointed United States manager for the company.

So far as concerns the question of what your department shall regard as sufficient evidence of the authority of Mr. Travell, it is of no consequence whether the original or a copy is deposited in your office. Mere inspection of the document may be sufficient, if thereby you are satisfied with his authority. But the question of what proof you may require in case his agency be put in issue in court proceedings, should such be instituted against him or the corporation, is a more serious one.

A copy of the paper, however attested, would not be such evidence. Where a power of attorney is contained in a document the instrument itself is the best evidence of that power. To prove the contents of such an instrument in a court of law it would in most instances be necessary to produce it before the court. In certain cases, however, such proof might be had by secondary evidence, as by a copy, but these cases are limited in number and clearly defined. They are: (1) when the original writing is destroyed or lost; (2) when its production is physically impossible, or when at least highly inconvenient, as in the case of inscriptions on walls, surveyors' marks, etc., documents deposited in a foreign country the laws of which do not permit their removal, and records of a judicial court, or entries in any other public books or registers; (3) when the document is in the possession of the adverse party, who refuses, after notice, or in some cases without notice, to produce it; (4) when it is in the hands of a third party who is not compellable by law to produce it, and, being called as a witness with a subpoena duces tecum, relies upon his right to withhold it; (5) when the law raises a strong presumption in favor of the existence of the document, — e.g., the appointment of a person to a public office may be proved by showing that he has acted in fact in such a capacity, without showing the written appointment; (6) when the papers are voluminous, and it is only necessary to prove their general results; (7) when the question arises upon the examination of a witness on the voire dire, an almost obsolete process. Taylor on Evidence, § 428.

Before such secondary evidence is admitted, the foundation for introducing it must be laid by showing facts sufficient to bring the case within the exceptions above stated.

The question asked must be decided by the rules of common law. There are many statutes of this Commonwealth making what would otherwise be secondary evidence admissible equally with the original of which they are copies. Pub. Sts., c. 106, §

22, — certificates of incorporation; Pub. Sts., c. 169, § 70, — books, papers, etc., in the departments of the Commonwealth; Pub. Sts., c. 73, § 3, — power creating a resident agent of a foreign express company to receive service of process; St. 1894, c. 522, § 78, — instrument appointing the Insurance Commissioner attorney to receive service of process for foreign insurance companies. But there is no statute making admissible a copy of a power executed by a foreign insurance company to its resident manager.

The use of an attested copy of this document in court proceedings would be subject to the limitations named above. It is not the best evidence of the facts to be proved.

The second question is, whether a duplicate of this document from the home office of the company would be a proper paper for the Insurance Commissioner to receive as evidence of the authority of Mr. Travell to act as manager.

A duplicate would not be a copy, but another original document, containing the original evidence of the action of the company, and it would have all the efficacy of the original now in your possession.

The third question is, would an attested copy of the records of the company, whereby the directors give authority to an executive officer or some other person to appoint a United States manager, be a necessary document to complete the evidence?

If the fact of the appointment by the company of a United States manager is desired to be proved by documentary evidence alone, it would be necessary to show that any executive officer purporting to make the appointment had power so to do, either under the charter and by-laws of the company, or by special authority conferred upon him by the board of directors, who are presumed to have the usual powers of directors to attend to the active management of the company's affairs. But it would often be more convenient to prove the fact of appointment by showing the exercise of the powers and authority of such office openly, with the consent of the company. If documentary evidence were relied on, the actual record of any vote of the directors empowering an executive officer to appoint a United States manager would be required to be shown by producing the books of the company. An attested copy of the records of the company would be secondary evidence of their contents, and as such would be subject to the limitations mentioned above, if it were desired to be used in court.

The last question asked is, whether, under the powers conferred upon the manager as evidenced by the document above referred to, he has authority to collect and collate returns for the annual statement of the United States branch of the company to the insurance department, and to make oath to the same.

The annual statement referred to is that required to be made under the provisions of St 1894, c. 522, § 96, for the purpose of exhibiting its financial condition. The said section provides that "the annual statement of a company of a foreign country shall embrace only its business and condition in the United States, and shall be subscribed and sworn to by its resident manager or principal representative in charge of its American business."

The document referred to above, after reciting that the London Assurance have appointed William W. Travell "to be their manager or general agent for the transaction of the business of marine insurance in the State of New York, and have authorized him to appoint such other agents for the said corporation in the State of New York as he may deem necessary for the purpose of transacting the business of marine insurance in the said State, and . . . the said corporation are desirous of conferring on the said . . . Travell special and further powers," proceeds to authorize the said Travell "to institute, carry on, and manage in New York a branch office of the said corporation to carry on the business of a marine insurance . . . and for the purposes aforesaid in the name of and on behalf of the said corporation . . .", in conformity with directions to do any or all of certain specified acts. These powers are such as are necessary to carry on the business of marine insurance at the company's branch office in New York. In the fifth clause the language used is as follows: "for any of the purposes aforesaid, to sign, or sign, seal and deliver any deeds and instruments, and to do any other acts whatsoever which may be necessary or proper in reference thereto." The filing of the annual statement of the company with the insurance department is an important part of its business. If this duty is neglected, the transaction of any new business by the company is declared unlawful (St. 1894, c. 522, § 96); and the authority of such company may be revoked (§ 82). It is clear that the document referred to was intended to give power broad enough to enable the United States business of the company to be managed by the said Travell. I am of opinion, therefore, that he has power, under the document, to make the return referred to.

Yours very truly,

HOSEA M. KNOWLTON, Attorney-General.

Powers Institute of Bernardston. — Children living in one town, attending high school in another. — Tuition expenses. — State reimbursement. St. 1895, c. 212; St. 1894, c. 436.

The Powers Institute in the town of Bernardston is a school conducted according to law under the order and superintendence of the authorities of said town within the meaning of the eighteenth article of amendment of the Constitution of the Commonwealth, and may be approved by the State Board of Education as a high school under the provisions of St. 1895, c. 212, providing for the repayment to towns by the Commonwealth of the expenses for the tuition of scholars attending therein.

MAR. 8, 1897.

FRANK A. HILL, Esq., Secretary State Board of Education.

DEAR SIR:—The questions stated in your communications of March 1 and 4 relate to the authority of your Board to approve the Powers Institute in Bernardston as a high school, within the meaning of that term as used in St. 1895, c. 212, § 2. By St. 1894, c. 436, a town in which no high school is maintained shall, under certain conditions, pay the tuition of children living in that town and attending the high school of another town or city. By St. 1895, c. 212, when the valuation of such town does not exceed $500,000, the expenses of such tuition shall be repaid from the treasury of the Commonwealth, provided (in section 2) that such repayment shall not be made excepting when such high school shall have been approved by the State Board of Education.

I had the honor to advise the Senate in an opinion transmitted March 18, 1896, that it would be unconstitutional for a town to pay the tuition of children living in a town and attending a private academy, either in the same or any other town, for the reason that such payment would be in violation of the provisions of the eighteenth amendment of the Constitution. I understand your question to be whether the Powers Institute is such a private institution, or whether it is “conducted according to law, under the order and superintendence of the authorities of the town.” If the latter, then it is such a school as may be approved by the Board of Education, and one to which children may be sent by towns having no high school, at the expense of the town.

For convenience of reference I quote the article of the Constitution in question: “All moneys raised by taxation in the towns and cities for the support of public schools, and all moneys which may be appropriated by the state for the support of common schools, shall be applied to, and expended in, no other schools than those which are conducted according to law, under the order and superintendence of the authorities of the town or city in which the money is to be expended ; and such money shall never be appropriated to any religious sect for the maintenance, exclusively, of its own school."

The spirit of this amendment is undoubtedly to be drawn from the concluding sentence. It was the intention of the constitutional convention to prevent the appropriation of public moneys to the support, directly or indirectly, of sectarian schools, and to require that schools supported by taxation should be under the control of the authorities of the town. It is not of the essence of the constitutional provision that such schools shall be in all respects identical in name or management with the different grades of public schools established by law.

Upon the facts submitted to me, the Powers Institute, although nominally an academy, and founded and largely supported by private charitable bequests, is, nevertheless, for all purposes in fact a town school. By the will of Mr. Powers the bequest which founded the school was given to the town of Bernardston "to maintain and support a grammar or high school." The legacy was accepted by the town by vote. The money was paid to the authorities of the town, and a part of it was expended for a school building. The organization of the academy was created by vote of the town. It provided for a board of trustees to be elected by the inhabitants of the town, and who were required to make annual report to the town. Under the original vote of the town it was provided that a majority of the trustees should be chosen from the inhabitants of adjoining towns ; although as I am informed, no trustees have in fact been chosen excepting inhabitants of Bernardston. Whether this fact would be important or not is not now of consequence, as I am informed by your second letter that a vote has been passed providing that the trustees shall all be chosen from the inhabitants of Bernardston. I am of opinion, upon these facts, that the Powers Institute is a school "conducted according to law, under the order and superintendence of the authorities of the town" of Bernardston, and as such is a high school within the meaning of the statutes relating to the payment of tuition by towns for scholars attending therein.

Yours very truly,

HOSEA M. KNOWLTON, Attorney-General.

Use of public property for sectarian religious purposes.—Effect of proposed amendment to the Constitution.

The proposed article of amendment to the Constitution, set forth in House Document No. 428 of 1897, prohibiting sectarian legislation and the support of sectarian institutions from public funds, would prevent cities or towns from allowing a school-house or school-houses therein to be used from time to time for the purpose of religious worship by religious sects or denominations, even if the permission to use the same for the said purpose were granted without discrimination to the various different religious denominations and sects applying therefor.

APRIL 2, 1897.

To the Honorable House of Representatives.

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of a copy of an order of the House of Representatives, adopted March 11, 1897, requesting the opinion of the Attorney-General in writing upon the question “whether the proposed article of amendment to the Constitution, set forth in House Document number four hundred and twenty-eight of the present session, would prevent cities or towns, or the authorities of cities or towns, from allowing a school-house or school-houses therein to be used from time to time for the purposes of religious worship, provided the permission to use the same for said purpose were granted without discrimination to the various different religious denominations and sects applying therefor.”

Although the question submitted, in terms, relates to the use of a school-house “for purposes of religious worship,” I assume it is intended to be limited to the right of such use by religious denominations and sects. I do not understand that I am called upon to consider whether the use of a school-house for religious worship not conducted or controlled by any religious denomination or sect would be forbidden by the proposed amendment, but whether the amendment prohibits the use of public property for sectarian religious purposes, even when such use is granted indiscriminately to all sects and denominations applying therefor.

The plain purpose of the proposed amendment is to prevent the use of public property for sectarian religious purposes. Rejecting words which have no reference to the question submitted, the proposed amendment provides, specifically, that no city or town shall authorize its property to be used for the purpose of aiding in any manner any church, religious denomination or religious society which is under sectarian control. This language is broad enough to include the use of a public building as a place of worship by a religious sect. Such a use would be aiding a religious organization for religious services, for a church society or organization cannot well be conducted without a place provided for such a purpose. To provide a place of worship for a religious sect is to aid it materially.

The question submitted supposes a case where public property is granted without discrimination to the various different religious denominations and sects applying therefor. The proposed amendment, however, is not directed against discrimination in favor of one sect as against any particular sect, but is intended to prevent any sectarian religious use whatever of public property. The use of such property by all sects who apply therefor would be as clearly in violation of the spirit of the amendment as would be the exclusive use by any particular sect.

Replying, therefore, specifically to the question submitted as I understand it to be intended, I am of opinion that the proposed article of amendment would prevent cities or towns from allowing a school-house or school-houses therein to be used from time to time for the purpose of religious worship by religious sects or denominations, even if the permission to use the same for said purpose were granted without discrimination to the various different religious denominations and sects applying therefor.

Fire insurance. — Limitations as to business of. — Insurance against loss by explosion. — Slips or riders attached to policies.

A fire insurance company may not add to its policies a slip or rider containing an agreement that in consideration of the payment of an additional premium the policies shall cover loss or damage by explosion to the property thereby insured, whether fire ensues or not.

APRIL 3, 1897.

HON. GEORGE S. MERRILL, Insurance Commissioner.

DEAR SIR: — Your letter of March 15 submits the following question. Certain insurance companies are proceeding to add to the standard form of policy provided by the Massachusetts statutes a slip or rider, a copy of which is contained in your letter, by which it is agreed in substance that in consideration of an additional premium the policy shall cover "loss or damage by explosion to the property hereby insured, whether fire ensues or not;" may such a slip or rider be lawfully attached to such fire policies?

The Massachusetts insurance act (St. 1894, c. 522) provides in section 60 that "no fire insurance companies shall issue fire insurance policies on property in this Commonwealth, other than those of the standard form herein set forth," except in certain cases stated in the seven following clauses. Of these, clause 7 provides that "a company may write upon the margin or across the face of a policy, or write or print in type not smaller than long primer, upon separate slips or riders to be attached thereto, provisions adding to or modifying those contained in the standard form . . ."

It is apparent that these regulations are meant to control merely the form of the contract of fire insurance, not the substance, and to protect the public from becoming bound by stipulations in these contracts difficult to discover, in the absence of such regulations, except by careful examination, and the existence of which would often escape detection. Such stipulations, if inserted in the contract of insurance in the manner provided by clause 7, above quoted, would at once attract the attention of persons desiring to take out policies. It cannot be said, however, that section 60, above quoted, was intended to limit or define the contracts which fire insurance companies may make, or to prescribe that no terms inconsistent with those contained in the standard form of policy should be incorporated in contracts of insurance made by such companies. If this were the meaning of the section, it would be impossible to give any effect to the seventh clause, allowing additions or modifications to be made to the provisions contained in the standard form. Whatever limitations fire insurance companies are subject to, so far as concerns the kind of business in which they are allowed to engage and the substance of the contracts which they make, must arise from the terms of their charters and the provisions of the statutes. Notwithstanding the fact, therefore, that the standard form of policy contains the clause that the amount insured against is "not to include loss or damage caused by explosions of any kind unless fire ensues, and then to include that caused by fire only," this fact is not to be taken as determining the present question, although it may have some bearing upon it.

St. 1894, c. 522, § 3, as amended by St. 1897, c. 66, provides that "it shall be unlawful for any company to make any contract of insurance upon or concerning any property . . . in this Commonwealth, or with any resident thereof, or for any person as insurance agent or insurance broker to make, negotiate, solicit, or in any manner aid in the transaction of such insurance, unless and except as authorized under the provisions of this act . . ."

It is furthermore provided by St. 1894, c. 522, § 29, which as finally amended appears in St. 1896, 447, § 1, that insurance companies may be formed as provided in the following section for any one of certain purposes enumerated in the nine following clauses. Of these, the first reads as follows: "To insure against loss or damage to property by fire, lightning or tempest on land, upon the stock or mutual plan." Section 30 of St. 1894, c. 522, prescribes the procedure for organizing such a corporation; and section 31 of the same chapter, as finally amended by St. 1896, c. 447, § 2, provides that "no corporation so formed shall transact any other business than that specified in its charter and articles of association."

The slip or rider in question purports to incorporate into a contract of fire insurance a clause insuring property against "loss or damage by explosion, . . . whether fire ensues or not." It is nowhere provided in the statutes of this Commonwealth that such a contract of insurance may be made. Loss or damage caused by explosion of steam boilers may be insured against (St. 1896, c. 447); also loss caused by accident other than by fire to apparatus used for extinguishing fires, among which causes of damage explosion might and probably would be included. But insurance companies can be organized only for any one of certain purposes defined by law; they cannot combine the business of several kinds of insurance. St. 1894, c. 522, § 29. It is clear, therefore, that a fire insurance company must confine itself strictly to the business purposes set forth in its charter, viz., insurance against loss or damage by fire, and may not go outside of this limit in issuing its policies insuring against loss by explosion without violating the provisions of St. 1894, c. 522, § 31, as amended by St. 1896, c. 447, § 2. I am of opinion, therefore, that fire insurance companies may not add to their policies slips like that above mentioned.

Savings banks. — Investments authorized by law. — First mortgage of real estate. — Meaning of phrase in statute. — Bonds secured by mortgage on real estate executed to trustee for benefit of bondholders.

A savings bank may not purchase bonds which are a portion of a larger number secured by a first mortgage of real estate executed by the obligor to a third person as trustee for the benefit of bondholders.

APRIL 8, 1897.

HON STARKES WHITON,

Chairman Board of Savings Bank Commissioners.

DEAR SIR: — Your letter of the 17th ult. submits the following question, to wit: "The owners of a tract of land with buildings thereon in Boston, propose to mortgage the premises to a trust company as trustee to secure an issue of bonds made by the owners of the property amounting in the whole to less than 60 per cent. of the value of the property. Is it lawful for a savings bank to invest in some of these bonds?"

St. 1894, c. 317, § 21, provides that "Deposits and the income derived therefrom shall be invested only as follows: First. On first mortgages of real estate, situated in this Commonwealth, to an amount not to exceed 60 per cent." The question submitted, therefore, is, whether the purchase by a savings bank of bonds which are secured by a first mortgage of real estate of the obligor, executed to a trust company as trustee for the security of the bondholders, is a loan "on a first mortgage of real estate," within the meaning of the section quoted.

The restrictions as to the investments of savings bank deposits, so far as they relate to mortgage loans, were first enacted in the form in which they now appear in St. 1876, c. 203, when mortgages of real estate to trustees to secure bonds issued by the owners thereof were comparatively unknown. It is very probable that the question of investments by savings banks in such bonds was not considered by the Legislature at that time. It does not follow, however, even if such investments were not known when the law was enacted, that its language may not be broad enough to include loans of the character in question. It not infrequently happens that statutes enacted in view of existing facts are found to be comprehensive of new conditions as they arise in the growth of business. The question submitted by your letter, therefore, requires me to consider whether a form of investment which may be assumed not to have been within the contemplation of the Legislature when the provisions now in force were enacted, is included within the intent and meaning of such provisions. The question is one of importance, for the increase in the number of great business enterprises has made it frequently necessary to resort to the form of bonds in question for the purpose of negotiating large loans. Many enterprises require the use of more capital than can be supplied by any one individual or corporation, and by making a mortgage to a trustee to secure bonds, and then selling the bonds indiscriminately, larger loans can be floated than would be practicable under a mortgage made directly to the person loaning the money.

I am of opinion, however, that the purchase of bonds by a savings bank, which are a portion of a larger number secured by a mortgage given by the obligor to a third person as trustee for the benefit of bondholders, is not a "loan upon mortgage," within the meaning of the statutes relating to savings banks. Those statutes deal with various classes of loans, and the language employed is that used by business men in commercial transactions. In certain cases loans may be made upon bonds or notes not secured by a mortgage; upon mortgage bonds; upon notes secured by collateral; upon personal notes; and upon mortgages of real estate. A bond of the character in question would not ordinarily be termed a mortgage, but a bond; and the holder thereof would not be a mortgagee, but a bondholder. It is in this sense that the language of the section quoted is to be taken. "Loans upon first mortgages of real estate," as that expression is used in the statute, are loans made to an individual or a corporation upon the security of a mortgage given by the borrower to the savings bank. Certain rights attach to the holder of a mortgage which do not appertain to the holder of a bond secured by a mortgage in the hands of a trustee. It was, in my opinion, the intention of the statute to authorize savings banks to loan upon mortgages only when the full and unrestricted rights of mortgagees are conferred upon the bank, to the end that the entire control and custody should be in the hands of the bank.

But in the case of the purchase of bonds this would not be so. For example, in the particular instance upon which the question arises, in which a copy of the mortgage and declaration of trust have been submitted to me, the trustee has the discretion to foreclose or not, as he deems best. A bondholder cannot act except in concert with a certain percentage of the bondholders. The trustee, before foreclosing, may require reasonable indemnity from the bondholders. The trustee has a prior lien upon the property for his charges, and may act by agents and shall not be held responsible for the negligence or wrong-doing of such as may be selected with due care. It is further provided that where doubts arise as to the authority of the trustee the holders of a majority of the outstanding bonds may instruct the trustee.

These provisions and limitations are certainly not equivalent to the absolute control conferred by a mortgage upon a mortgagee. The holders of bonds so secured, as was stated by Mr. Justice Morton in Knight v. Boston, 159 Mass. 555, "cannot release, assign or foreclose the mortgage, nor do any of the other things that mortgagees may do. They are bondholders, and not mortgagees. The bonds do not constitute a loan on mortgage by the petitioners, in the ordinary acceptation of those words." The quotation, it is true, is from a dissenting opinion, but the majority opinion in the case proceeds upon grounds which clearly distinguish it from the present question, and to which I will hereafter call attention.

The savings bank statute looks to the absolute protection of depositors in savings banks, and doubts as to the meaning of the language used are, when practicable, to be resolved in favor of the depositors. When a savings bank loans money and takes a mortgage, it has the right of release, assignment and foreclosure, limited only by the conditions of the mortgage. It may also purchase the property at the foreclosure sale (St. 1894, c. 317, § 21, cl. 9). It has immediate, absolute, and practically unlimited, right of action whenever necessary to protect its interests. It was this form of loan in which the Legislature intended savings banks might invest 60 per cent. of the money of their depositors. The purchase of a bond, although secured by a mortgage of real estate, the holding of which gives only an equitable interest in the mortgage, and the right only upon certain conditions to call upon the mortgagee to act for the protection of the bondholders, is not an equivalent security, as matter of law, nor necessarily so in fact. In my opinion, it is not within the intent and scope of the provision in question.

I am aware that in the case of Knight v. Boston, above cited, it was held by a majority of the court that for the purposes of taxation such bonds were to be regarded as loans upon mortgage, and consequently to be exempt from taxation. This decision, however, proceeds upon the ground that the statutes exempting loans upon mortgages from taxation were enacted for the purpose of preventing double taxation. As the law stood before the exemption was made, the real estate was taxed to the owner, and the mortgage loan to the mortgagee. The result of this was that in many cases the same property was twice taxed. It was for this reason that loans upon mortgages were by statute exempted from taxation. The reason of this exemption, however, would apply with equal force to loans made upon bonds secured by a mortgage to a trustee.

The decision, therefore, cannot be regarded as authority, for the contention that for the purposes of investment of deposits by savings banks such bonds are to be regarded as loans upon mortgage of real estate. On the contrary, as I have attempted to show, the purpose of the limitations provided for saving bank investments clearly point to the opposite conclusion.

Whether, as is suggested in the able brief submitted by counsel upon the subject, the bonds in question would be a safe and prudent investment for savings banks, and would have practically all the safeguards which attach to mortgage loans, is for the consideration of the Legislature rather than for your Board. If, as is stated, such forms of loans are becoming more frequent, and are a desirable investment for savings banks, it may be that the Legislature will authorize savings banks to purchase them. But the question I am called upon to consider is whether they are included within the plain meaning and intent of the statutes now in force. For the reasons above stated I am of opinion that they are not.

Very truly yours,

HOSEA M. KNOWLTON, Attorney-General.

Support of Law Library Association. — Fees of clerks of courts. — Naturalization fees. — Worcester County Law Library Association.

The county treasurer of Worcester County may not pay to the County Law Library Association either the fees received from clerks of courts or those received in naturalization cases, but he is authorized to pay, on account of county law libraries, only a sum not exceeding two thousand dollars, the amount named in Res 1897, c. 40.

CHARLES R. PRESCOTT, Esq., Controller of County Accounts.

DEAR SIR: — The question submitted in your letter of April 26 relates to the construction of certain statutes and resolves of the Commonwealth which are apparently inconsistent, unless the earlier statutes are to be regarded as repealed by the later statutes.

Under the provisions of Pub. Sts., c. 40, § 6, ~~as~~ amended by St. 1882, c. 246, county treasurers were required annually to pay to law library associations in their respective counties for the maintenance of law libraries, all money paid into the treasury during the year by clerks of courts, to an amount not exceeding two thousand dollars in any one year, and also such further sums as the county commissioners might deem necessary and proper. It was further provided by St. 1885, c. 345, § 6, that all fees received by clerks of courts in the Commonwealth in naturalization cases should be paid to the county treasurers, to be paid by them in turn to the treasurers of county law libraries, which sums were stated to be "in addition to the sums which said associations are now entitled to receive by law." St. 1897, c. 153, after providing that the expenditure of money by counties shall be authorized by the General Court by appropriation, annual or special, declares in section 9 that "no county expenditure shall be made, nor liability incurred, nor bill paid for any purpose, in excess of the amount appropriated therefor, except as hereinafter provided." Under the resolve granting a county tax for the county of Worcester (Res. 1897, c. 40) there is appropriated "for law libraries a sum not exceeding two thousand dollars."

The question in your letter is, whether the county treasurer should pay to the Law Library Association the fees received from clerks of courts, including naturalization fees, which in the county of Worcester exceeds the sum of two thousand dollars; or whether the amount to be paid over to the Law Library Association is limited to the sum of two thousand dollars appropriated by the resolve.

The law libraries in the several counties substantially belong to and are maintained by such counties. St. 1842, c. 94, was the first act in relation to law library associations. Under this act the practising attorneys in the several counties were constituted corporations to hold and manage the law libraries belonging to the counties, and the act provided a method of organizing such corporation within a certain time, which was extended by St. 1844, c. 157. It was not until St. 1856, c. 71, that any express provision was made for the maintenance and enlargement of such libraries. That act authorized the county commissioners to pay from the county treasuries to the treasurers of the law library associations for their maintenance such sums as they might deem necessary and proper, not exceeding the amount paid into such treasuries by clerks of courts. St. 1859, c. 172, required the county treasurers to pay on January 1 of each year to the treasurers of the library associations one-quarter of the amount received from the clerks of the courts during the preceding year, not exceeding one thousand dollars; but this act expressly declared that it should not be construed to prevent county commissioners from authorizing other payments from the county treasuries under St. 1856, c. 71. No change was made in the law relating to this subject in the General Statutes. Gen. Sts., c. 33, § 6. By St. 1863, c. 215, the whole amount received by county treasurers from clerks of courts was to be paid to the law libraries up to the amount of four hundred dollars, and one-quarter of the surplus in addition, the whole amount paid not to exceed one thousand dollars. St. 1874, c. 156, repealed St. 1863, c. 215, and provided that the law libraries should receive the whole amount received from the clerks of courts up to the amount of one thousand dollars, and one-quarter of the surplus in addition, the whole amount not to exceed two thousand dollars. St. 1881, c. 89, gave to the law library associations all sums paid to county treasurers by clerks of courts, not exceeding fifteen hundred dollars, and authorized the payment of such further sums as the county commissioners might deem necessary and proper. In this form the statute appears in the Public Statutes (Pub. Sts. c. 40, § 6). The only other changes in the statutes relating to this subject have been quoted above.

During the time covered by the statutes cited relating to law library associations, there was no definite policy of legislative control over county finances. The amount to be expended for different purposes rested largely in the discretion of the county commissioners. But, by St. 1895, c. 482, the policy was adopted of bringing the management of the finances of the counties within the control of the Legislature. This policy has been extended by later statutes, to wit: St. 1896, c. 357, and St. 1897, c. 153. By St. 1895, c. 482, it was provided that the expenditure of money by the several counties should be authorized annually by law, that the purposes for which such expenditure might be made should be specified in detail, and that no expenditure for any purpose should be made in excess of the amount specified except as therein provided. The act allowed the county commissioners, when they thought it proper, to spend money in excess of the amount appropriated, by permitting them to transfer from one appropriation to another, or to make the expenditure out of any unappropriated money in the treasury; but in all such cases the commissioners were obliged to cause the reasons for such transfer or expenditure to be placed upon their records. The commissioners by the said act were further authorized to incur debts, after the close of the financial year, and before the making of the next annual appropriation by the Legislature, to an amount not exceeding the debts incurred in the previous year for the same period and purpose.

The next statute relating to this subject—St. 1896, c. 357, which, though it expressly repealed St. 1895, re-enacted its essential provisions—still further restricted the power of county commissioners. By this act the expenditure of money by counties in excess of the amounts appropriated, instead of being within the discretion of the county commissioners, was authorized only for certain well-defined purposes. St. 1896 was followed by St. 1897, c. 153. This act provides that the county treasurers of each county, except Suffolk, shall annually publish a report of county receipts and expenses for the previous year, in detail, which shall contain a table showing the appropriation made by the Legislature for each specific object, the amount expended out of each appropriation, the unexpended balance of each such appropriation, and, if payments have exceeded the appropriation, the amount of the excess. It further provides that the county commissioners shall annually prepare estimates of county receipts and expenditures for the next year, which are to be reported to the Legislature. By section 7 the expenditure of money for the several counties, except Suffolk, is to be authorized by the Legislature by appropriations. The appropriations are to be of two kinds, annual and special. A separate appropriation is to be made for each head of expenditure.

By section 8 it is provided that the amount to be levied as the county tax shall be authorized annually by the Legislature, and shall be computed by adding together the amounts of the annual and of the new special appropriations, if any (so far as the money therefor was to be raised by taxation, and not by borrowing), and then, by deducting "so much of the probable receipts from all sources, except loans, and of the unappropriated balance in the county treasury at the closing of the treasurer's books for the previous financial year, as may be deemed by the General Court advisable."

Section 9 is as follows: "No county expenditure shall be made nor liability incurred, nor bill paid for any purpose, in excess of the amount appropriated therefor, except as hereinafter provided."

Section 10 authorizes the making of any expenditure required by law in excess of the appropriation out of any money in the treasury; and section 11 provides for the payment of bills to a certain amount, incurred after the close of the financial year, and before the making of the regular annual appropriations by the Legislature.

I am of opinion that the statutes last referred to, to wit, those of 1895, 1896 and 1897, must be taken to have repealed all provisions in relation to county expenditures inconsistent therewith. It follows that the provisions of the earlier statutes, which required the payment by the county treasurers to law library associations of fees received from clerks of courts, including naturalization fees, are no longer in force. They were a part of the system of legislation which prevailed at the time such laws were enacted, and under which the control of the expenditure of money was vested in the county commissioners with certain limitations, of which the acts in question were an instance, all of which are superseded by the Sts. of 1895, 1896 and 1897. The policy of county expenditures has been radically changed. The Legislature has undertaken to limit by annual appropriation the amount which may be expended by counties for any specific purpose. The method of computing the amount to be levied annually as the county tax illustrates this change. Such computations are made substantially by taking the difference between the amounts appropriated and so much of the probable receipts, together with the unappropriated balance in the treasury, as the Legislature shall deem advisable. The receipts referred to are to be "from all sources." St. 1897, c. 153, § 8. No exception is made of receipts from clerks of courts or receipts on account of naturalization fees, and no such exception is intended. The purpose of the Legislature to define the sums to be expended for all purposes, including law library associations, is clearly manifest.

Your question relates specifically to the resolve (Res. 1897, c. 40) granting a tax for Worcester County. By that resolve certain sums are appropriated for the expenses of the county of Worcester for 1897, among which is an item of "a sum not exceeding two thousand dollars for law libraries;" and the county commissioners of that county are authorized to levy a certain sum as county tax, to be expended, as the resolve says, "together with the cash balance on hand and the receipts from other sources, for the above purposes." This resolve is in conformity with existing statutes. All receipts, from whatever source, including, of course, the fees of clerks of courts and naturalization fees, together with the amount raised as county tax, are to be expended for the purposes specified in the resolve, and the amount to be expended is clearly limited by the terms of the resolve. It is not to be presumed, and the statutes clearly forbid such an assumption, that an implied exception was made in favor of the receipts from clerks of courts, and in naturalization cases, which under the former statutes were to be paid to law library associations.

I am of opinion, therefore, that, in accordance with the provisions of St. 1897, c. 153, § 9, the county treasurer of Worcester County may not pay to the County Law Library Association either the fees received from the clerks of courts or those received in naturalization cases, but that he is authorized to pay on account of county law libraries only a sum not exceeding the amount named in Res. 1897, c. 40, to wit, two thousand dollars.

Yours very truly,

Persons employed to put probate records and files in order. — Mode of payment. — St. 1891, c. 225.

Persons employed to put probate records and files in order, pursuant to the provisions of St. 1891, c. 225, should be paid for their services upon their vouchers and directly from the county treasury.

MAY 13, 1897.

CHARLES R. PRESCOTT, Esq., Controller of County Accounts.

DEAR SIR: — St. 1891, c. 225, provides that the county commissioners in each county are authorized to cause the files and records of the probate court therein to be rearranged, indexed and docketed, dockets worn or defaced to be renewed, and the indexes to be consolidated, under the direction and supervision of the registers of said court, when in the judgment of said commissioners public convenience demands it.

Action having been taken under this statute in certain counties the question arises whether the persons so employed are to be paid by the register from funds supplied to him for that purpose by the treasurer, or by the county treasurer.

It is claimed that, inasmuch as clerks employed under statutes authorizing registers to employ extra clerical assistance in the performance of their duties are paid by the registers, persons employed under this statute should follow the same rule and be placed on the register's pay roll. The analogy, however, is not good. The statute authorizing extra clerical assistance for registers, like Pub. Sts., c. 158, § 24, St. 1887, c. 39, and St. 1889, c. 209, are intended to provide for clerical assistance to the registers in the performance of the duties imposed upon them by the statutes defining such duties. The question whether such persons should be paid by the registers in the first instance, or by the county treasurer, is not raised and need not be considered. But the work provided for by the statute of 1891, above quoted, is no part of the duty of the register as prescribed by Pub. Sts., c. 158, or by any other statute. It is no part of his duties to cause the files and records to be rearranged, or to have worn dockets renewed, or indexes consolidated. It is special work which the Legislature has seen fit to authorize to be done under the direction of the county commissioners. Although the work is done under the direction and supervision of the register, it is still done under the employment of the county commissioners, and is to be paid as other expenses incurred by the county commissioners are paid, to wit, from the county treasury to the persons employed to do the work, and upon their vouchers.

Authority to solemnize marriages. — Clergyman or rabbi. — Place where ceremony may be performed. — St. 1894, c. 409, § 5.

A clergyman or rabbi, duly authorized as such to solemnize a marriage in this Commonwealth, may perform the marriage ceremony anywhere within the Commonwealth, regardless of the place of his residence or of that of the contracting parties.

MAY 19, 1897.

HON. WILLIAM M. OLIN, Secretary of the Commonwealth.

DEAR SIR : — The question upon which you desire the opinion of the Attorney-General is as to the construction of St. 1894, c. 409, § 5.

Pub. Sts., c. 145, § 22, provides that "every marriage shall be solemnized in the city or town in which the person solemnizing it resides, or in which one or both of the persons to be married reside." The statute in question (St. 1894, c. 409, § 5) provides that "any clergyman or rabbi duly authorized to solemnize a marriage in this Commonwealth may perform the ceremony anywhere within the same." The question you suggest is, whether the latter statute authorizes such a clergyman or rabbi to perform the marriage ceremony anywhere within the Commonwealth, without regard to the place of residence of himself or either of the persons to be married.

If the question be answered in the negative, then it is not difficult to see that no change has been made in pre-existing laws by St. 1894, c. 409, § 5; and the section in question means nothing whatever.

Such a construction is not to be favored. Statutes are not to be construed, unless the terms plainly require such a construction, so as to render their provisions absurd or meaningless. This is especially true in regard to remedial statutes, like this in relation to marriages. It is the policy of our legislation to favor marriages rather than to hamper them by limitations and restrictions. This principle is carried so far that a marriage ceremony performed by a person whom the parties supposed to be authorized to solemnize marriages shall be regarded as valid, although the magistrate had no jurisdiction in fact. The regulations relating to contracting and solemnization of marriages are, for the most part, to be construed, not as conditions precedent to the validity of the marriage ceremony, but rather as penal statutes affecting the officials concerned in such marriages. It is the policy of the law to make it easy for persons to get married, and to confirm and establish a marriage, however contracted, if in good faith, rather than to throw doubt upon it.

The statute in question is to be taken as intending to further this policy. Literally construed, it authorizes a clergyman or rabbi to perform marriages anywhere within the Commonwealth, regardless of the residence of the contracting parties. Before the passage of the statute a clergyman duly authorized to solemnize marriages could perform the ceremony in the place of residence of the parties or either of them. This statute must be taken to have given him larger license, and to authorize him to perform the duties of his office wherever he may be found within the Commonwealth. Any other construction leaves the law precisely as it existed before the statute was enacted.

The act applies, of course, only to clergymen authorized to solemnize marriages; that is, to a minister of the gospel, ordained according to the usages of his denomination, residing in the Commonwealth and continuing to perform the functions of his office; and to a duly licensed rabbi of an Israelitish congregation, who has filed with the clerk of the town or city where he resides a certificate relating to his official position, and a certificate of the establishment of the synagogue of which he is rabbi, and the term of his engagement, as required by St. 1896, c. 306.

I am of opinion, therefore, that St. 1894, c. 409, § 5, is to be construed as authorizing a clergyman or rabbi, duly authorized to solemnize a marriage in this Commonwealth, ordained according to the usages of his denomination, who resides in the Commonwealth and continues to perform the functions of his office, to perform the marriage ceremony anywhere within the Commonwealth, regardless of the place of his own residence or of that of the contracting parties.

Expense of metropolitan sewerage system. — Assessment upon cities and towns. — Right to assess, for current year, amounts required in that and previous years.

The amount which should have been assessed in 1896 upon the cities and towns included in the metropolitan sewerage district on account of the expenses of the metropolitan sewerage system was not assessed in that year, because the commission appointed according to law to apportion the amount of such assessments for the five years beginning in 1896 did not report until too late for such assessment to be made.

It is both the right and the duty of the Auditor of the Commonwealth to assess upon the cities and towns included in the metropolitan sewerage district, for the year 1897, the whole amount of the assessments required for both the years 1896 and 1897.

MAY 20, 1897.

HON. JOHN W. KIMBALL, Auditor.

DEAR SIR: — In your letter of May 13, you state that the amount which should have been assessed upon the towns in the district on account of the metropolitan sewerage system for 1896 was $307,000; that the commission appointed under the provisions of St. 1889, c. 439, § 14, to apportion the amount of said assessment for the five years beginning in 1896, did not report until too late to assess the towns during that year, and that consequently no assessment was made in that year. The question submitted by your letter is, whether you have the right now to assess upon said towns the amount of the assessment for 1896 and 1897, both to be paid this year.

The general scheme of metropolitan sewerage provides for the construction of a system of sewers by a commission acting under the authority of the Commonwealth, and whose expenses and disbursements are to be paid out of the treasury of the Commonwealth from the proceeds of loans made therefor. Provision is made for a sinking fund sufficient to take care of the loans when they mature. Eventually the whole expense is to be borne by the cities and towns included in the system, in the following manner: the amount of money required each year to meet the interest charges, the requirements of the sinking fund, and the expenses of maintenance, are to be assessed upon the cities and towns within the district served. This assessment is to be apportioned by a commission appointed every five years by the governor and council, to determine the amount of the apportionment for the succeeding five years. The report of this commission when accepted by the court is binding upon all parties.

Under section 13 of the act quoted a commission was appointed to assess the expenses for the first five years. The report of this commission having been accepted by the court, assessments were made for this five years and collected from the several cities and towns.

Section 14 of the same act provides that before the expiration of said term of five years another commission shall be appointed to make the apportionment for the next period of five years; which apportionment is in like manner binding upon all parties. But inasmuch as this commission failed to make its report seasonably, no assessment could be collected during the year 1896.

Assuming that it is constitutional to collect the expenses of the sewerage system from the cities and towns within the district, I do not think that it is unlawful to collect from such cities and towns the amount required each year, even if by reason of circumstances not within the control of the treasurer it becomes necessary to collect assessments for two years in one year. The purpose of the act is to impose all the expenses of the system upon the cities and towns within the district. The charges are so distributed as to be annual, but there is no express provision in the statute that the assessments are necessarily to be annual. It is, of course, the duty of the treasurer to make the assessments as soon as he may lawfully do so; and to compute the amount required for a given year, together with the deficiency in the assessment of the previous year, and to make his assessment in accordance with the apportionment fixed by the commission. The fact that he was prevented from doing this in the year 1896 does not relieve the cities and towns in the district from the obligation to pay the assessment due for the year 1896. They are charged with no additional burden if the amount which should have been assessed in 1896 is added to the amount to be assessed for 1897, and both assessments collected together. The law is not to be construed so that the burden of any year shall for any reason fall upon the Commonwealth. The towns and cities under the act owe the Commonwealth the expenses incurred under the scheme of the act for the year 1896. The fact that you were unable to collect the tax for that year does not discharge the debt.

Whether the Legislature shall deem it equitable to require payment of the expenses of two years in one year is not for your consideration. If no provision is made for the relief of the towns, I am of opinion that it is your duty to assess for the current year the whole amount required both for 1896 and 1897, and that you may lawfully do so.

Yours very truly,

HOSEA M. KNOWLTON, Attorney-General.

Constitutionality of bill (Senate Bill No. 188 of 1897) — Brigadiers-general. — Term of office.

Senate Bill No. 188 of 1897, entitled "An act relative to the term of office of brigadiers-general in the militia," is not in violation of any provision of the Constitution of Massachusetts or of the United States.

MAY 26, 1897.

To His Excellency ROGER WOLCOTT, Governor.

DEAR SIR:—In response to your verbal request I have examined the bill entitled "An Act relative to the term of office of brigadiers-general in the militia" (Senate Bill No. 188), upon the question of its constitutionality.

It has been suggested that the bill is unconstitutional for the reason that it is in violation of the prerogatives of the commander-in-chief, who, it is claimed, has the exclusive right under the constitution of discharge of officers of the militia.

In my opinion, this objection is not well taken.

The office of brigadier is recognized in the Constitution of Massachusetts. Chapter II, sec. I, art. X, provides for the manner of election of brigadiers; and a subsequent paragraph in the same article further provides that, having been elected and commissioned, they shall not be removed from office but by the address of both houses to the governor, or by fair trial and court martial. This portion of the article relating to removal, however, was repealed by article IV of the amendments, which provides that "all officers commissioned to command in the militia may be removed from office in such manner as the legislature may, by law, prescribe." Conceding that the words in the amendment "by law" are to be interpreted as limiting the Legislature to general laws upon the subject, and not as authorizing special acts of removal directed against individuals, I cannot yet interpret the amendment otherwise than as authorizing the Legislature to make such general laws relating to the removal of officers of the militia as in its wisdom it deems expedient. The amendment confers the power of removal upon the Legislature, to be exercised in such manner as it may provide.

I am aware that by chapter II, sec. I, art. VII, of the Constitution the governor is made commander-in-chief of the militia, with all the powers and duties incident thereto. If this provision stood alone, it might be construed as giving the governor the right of removal of officers of the militia. But to hold that no officer of the militia can be removed excepting by act of the governor, is to deny any meaning or effect to the amendment of the constitution above quoted. The plain intent of the amendment was to confer upon the Legislature the right to provide for removal of officers of the militia. This may be done by a general law fixing a time limit, by a general law retiring officers at any given time or age, or in such manner as the Legislature may prescribe. It is well settled that the Legislature has the power to shorten the term of office of any officer the tenure of whose office is not fixed by the constitution. Taft v. Adams, 3 Gray 126.

The bill in question provides, substantially, that all brigadiers, who, on the first day of August, 1897, shall have held their positions for seven years or more, shall be placed on the retired list on that day. The bill is general in its terms, and applies to all of a class of officers created by the Constitution. The fact that there are but two brigadiers in commission, and that both of them happen to have been in commission for more than seven years, does not make the bill special in its character. Special legislation is that which operates to deprive individuals specifically of their rights, privileges and immunities, discriminating between them and others in the same situation. Legislation which applies equally to all of a class is not made special by the fact that the number in the class is limited.

It has further been suggested that under St. 1893, c. 367, § 63, a method of discharge was provided, and that this bill is in violation of the provisions of that act. It scarcely need be said, in reply to this objection, that, in so far as the bill in question is inconsistent with the provisions of the statute of 1893, it operates as a repeal of that statute.

The bill in question does not differ essentially from St. 1876, c. 204, § 3, by which all the general and field officers were removed from office. No serious question was ever made of the constitutionality of this act. Moreover, it was discussed in an opinion of the Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court, given to the Governor and Council and printed in 132 Mass., 600. The section discharging the line officers was referred to without criticism.

It is further suggested that the bill is in violation of article I, sec. 9 of the Constitution of the United States, providing that no bill of attainder shall be passed; and also of article XII of the Declaration of Rights, providing that no subject shall be "deprived of his property, immunities or privileges, etc., but by the judgment of his peers or the law of the land."

It is claimed that the bill is in effect judgment passed upon the present brigadiers-general, convicting them of inefficiency, and removing them from office therefor. If this were so, it would undoubtedly be in conflict, for that reason, both with the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of Massachusetts. It may well be added that the Legislature could make charges against an officer, try him therefor, and punish him by removing him from office and making him ineligible for re-election.

But this objection takes into account rather the causes which may have led to the passage of the bill than to the language of the bill itself. Its constitutionality is to be determined not by its history, but by its provisions. The courts have no right to infer that the reason which animated the Legislature in passing the bill in question was to punish certain officers of the militia for previous acts or omissions by them.

The bill is in terms a declaration by the Legislature that the term of office of brigadiers-general should be limited to seven years. This limitation is fixed thereupon not only for those who shall hereafter be elected to the office, but for those who are now in office for an indefinite tenure. As already stated, it has been held that the Legislature had the right to abridge the term of office of any officer whose tenure is not fixed by the Constitution. Moreover, as I have already stated, the Legislature has the power under the Constitution to provide for the removal of the officers of the militia. It is to be presumed that this bill is passed in exercise of the right so conferred upon the Legislature. Indeed, the idea of punishment or attainder is clearly negative, by reason of the fact that the bill is general in its terms, and applies to officers hereafter elected. Those who are removed from office by the provisions of section 2 may not justly complain that their removal is in the nature of censure or punishment, but rather in the exercise of a policy concerning the tenure of offices of the militia established by the bill.

It remains to consider another objection to the bill, which to my mind presents far greater difficulties than those heretofore considered. Section 2 provides that the officers who cease to hold office on the first day of August shall be ineligible for re-election; and the same ineligibility is imposed upon all future brigadiers-general after one term of service. It is claimed that this is in violation of article IX of the Declaration of Rights, which is as follows: "All elections ought to be free; and all the inhabitants of this Commonwealth, having such qualifications as they shall establish by their frame of government, have an equal right to elect officers, and to be elected, for public employments."

I have no doubt that the clear purpose of this article is to confer upon every citizen, having the qualifications prescribed by the Constitution, the right to vote for offices of the government and the further right to be elected to such offices. It has uniformly been held that the Legislature has no authority to limit the right of suffrage by imposing qualifications in addition to those fixed by the Constitution. On the other hand, I do not know of any instance where the right of every citizen to be a candidate for all offices of government has been attempted to be abridged or limited by imposing qualifications or restrictions not found in the Constitution. For example, chapter II, section I, article II of the Constitution provides that no person shall be eligible to the office of governor unless at the time of his election he shall have been an inhabitant of this Commonwealth for seven years next preceding. It would, in my opinion, be unconstitutional to add to that provision by enacting that the term of residence must be ten years, or any term longer than seven years. For the same reasons, an act which should attempt to limit the number of times to which a citizen could be elected to the office of governor, or to fix an age limit between which he could not be elected, would be in violation of the spirit if not the letter of article IX of the Declaration of Rights above quoted. The purpose of the article was to give every citizen possessing the constitutional qualifications the right to be a candidate for office. To say that one could not hold the office of governor if over a given age, or if he had been governor a certain number of years, would be to deprive that citizen of the right assured to him by the article quoted.

In discussing this article, Chief Justice Field, in Brown v. Russell, 166 Mass. 14, at page 21, says that "the article, so far as it extends, does declare the principle that all persons having the requisite qualifications have an equal right to elect and to be elected to public office."

If, therefore, the office of brigadier-general is included within the scope of this article, the bill in question cannot stand. No qualifications limiting the eligibility of citizens to the office of brigadier are found in the Constitution. If, therefore, every citizen has the constitutional right to be a candidate for the office of brigadier-general, the bill in question takes away that right by denying to those who have held the office for seven years the right to be a candidate for election thereto.

The political rights of citizens are not lost by any number of elections to office. One who is elected to the office of governor has still the same right to be a candidate for re-election. So one who may be a candidate for the office of brigadier-general under the Constitution may be a candidate again, and his right in this respect cannot be abrogated by the Legislature.

But, upon such consideration of the subject as I have been able to give in the limited time allowed me, I am unable to reach the conclusion that the provisions of article IX of the Declaration of Rights apply to officers of the militia. It is true that they are recognized in the Constitution. The manner of their election is provided, as well as the manner of their removal from office; but they are not officers of the civil government, to which primarily, at least, the "Declaration of Rights and Frame of Government" was intended to apply. That instrument was declared in the preamble to be the forming of "a new constitution of civil government."

The election of military officers is not such an election as is referred to in article IX, which declares that "all elections ought to be free." The electors of officers of the militia are by the Constitution "the members of the trained band and alarm list," who alone have the right to elect captains and subalterns; the latter being the electors of the field officers, who themselves elect the brigadiers. It may be assumed that the members of the Massachusetts volunteer militia, an organization differing essentially from the enrolled militia, constitute what is termed in the Constitution as "the trained band and alarm list;" and therefore the Constitution has observed it by placing the election of militia officers in their hands. But every citizen has not the right to be a member of the active militia. Numerous qualifications for enlistment have been enacted by the Legislature, and the policy has long since been adopted of permitting companies to choose their own members. There is scarcely any analogy between the militia and the departments of the civil government. While the Constitution clearly recognizes the militia, it by no means makes the holding of office therein a political right. On the contrary, while, as I have already said, no attempt has ever been made to impose qualifications upon the rights of citizens to be elected to civil office, the Legislature has from time to time prescribed the qualifications of those who should be elected to the offices of brigadier. Vid. Gen. Sts., c. 13, § 36; Pub. Sts., c. 14, § 33; St. 1893, c. 367, § 32. If an office in the militia is to be regarded as one which every citizen has the constitutional right to be elected to, then the qualifications imposed by the statutes referred to are unconstitutional. That it has not been so considered is obvious upon consideration of the history of legislation in regard to the militia. If the Legislature may prescribe that a person under conviction of crime, or a common drunkard, a pauper, or a person disqualified by law from enrolment in the militia shall be ineligible to military office, it certainly has the right to affix other qualifications; as, for example, that the candidate shall be taken from the ranks of the militia, or that he shall be below a given age, or, as in the case of the bill in question, that he shall not have held office for a certain number of years.

It may well be doubted, therefore, whether article IX of the Declaration of Rights applies to officers of the militia; and whether it should not be construed as referring only to civil and political offices. This view is much strengthened, as I have already stated, by the fact that it has been so uniformly construed by the Legislature. While, therefore, I am unable to say that the question is free from doubt, I am yet of opinion that the presumption of constitutionality which attaches to legislative acts is to be invoked in favor of the bill.

Upon consideration, therefore, of all the objections which have been suggested against the bill, I am constrained to advise your Excellency that it is not in violation of any provisions of the Constitution of Massachusetts or of the United States.

Yours very truly,

HOSEA M. KNOWLTON, Attorney-General.

Nature of assessment insurance. — Particular policy defined. — Agreement by foreign corporations as to nature of business. — Admission to do business in Massachusetts.

A contract of insurance, providing for the payment of a fixed sum for annual dues to cover expenses and limiting the maximum number of assessments of a fixed amount that may be levied per month to cover losses, is not a contract of insurance upon the assessment plan, under St. 1890, c. 421.

A foreign insurance company, that writes contracts on that plan in other States, should not be admitted to do business in this State, although it agrees to write contracts in this State, on the assessment plan, according to our law; because, the policies issued in Massachusetts being payable out of the receipts of the company generally, are payable, in part at least, from other sources than the premiums received "by assessment upon other persons holding similar contracts."

MAY 28, 1897.

Hon. GEORGE S. MERRILL, Insurance Commissioner.

DEAR SIR:—Your letter of April 1 requires my opinion upon two questions; first, whether the form of limited term policy, with the limitations provided therein, a copy of which is submitted with your letter, is a level premium or an assessment contract; and, second, whether a foreign corporation can properly be admitted upon its agreement not to issue contracts in Massachusetts which it issues to members elsewhere.

The form of policy submitted with your letter is that issued by the Knights Templars and Masons Life Indemnity Company of Chicago, a foreign corporation. The company professes to issue policies upon the assessment plan, so-called. The object of the company is stated in its constitution to be "to furnish life indemnity or pecuniary benefits to the widows, orphans, heirs, relatives, devisees or legatees of deceased members, or to members physically disabled." Article 4, section 4, of the constitution provides that "upon the death of any member an assessment, increasing with age, shall be made upon the surviving members, provided an assessment is needed, according to the following table of rates." There is also provision for annual dues to cover expenses, of one dollar per one thousand dollars. The board of directors are further authorized to issue limited term policies of insurance, such limited term not to exceed five years, on such conditions as the Board of Directors shall deem for the best interests of the company. The form of policy submitted is conditioned upon the payment by the insured of "all dues and assessments made upon him as such member, in pursuance of the constitution and by-laws of the company."

So far the plan of assessment insurance is followed. But in the form submitted with your letter there is a further contract that "the said member shall pay only one assessment per month, according to the table printed on the back of this policy, in addition to the annual due of one dollar per thousand, as hereinafter provided, unless such an emergency should arise that the said one assessment per month would not be sufficient to pay his proportion of the losses of the company on policies that are not over five years old; in which event extra assessments may be levied for a sufficient sum to comply with the law of the State of Illinois." This provision is in effect a contract limiting the maximum number of assessments for losses arising under a certain class of policies to one per month.

This contract of limitation of the number of assessments is plainly a departure from the plan of assessment insurance. The essential difference between the so-called "level premium" and "assessment" forms of insurance, is that in "level premium" insurance, the company, whether mutual or stock, makes its own computations as the probable amount required of the insured to enable it to fulfil its contract with him, and establishes a rate of premium based upon such calculation. The insured takes no responsibility of the accuracy of the computation. He is entitled to have the amount of his policy paid upon the fulfilment of the event insured against, whether the premiums are sufficient to pay it or not. If they are in excess of the amount required, the company, unless there is some statutory or contract provision to the contrary, may retain the excess; and, on the other hand, if they fall short, the company must make up the deficiency.

Assessment insurance proceeds upon a basis essentially different. The company attempts no computation. It agrees with the insured that when a death or disability happens, under which a policy becomes payable, it will make an assessment upon all other persons insured in the company for the purpose of paying the loss. By the statutes of Massachusetts, it is authorized to make a contract limiting the amount of each assessment, but may not make a contract limiting the number of assessments. Under the operation of this form of insurance no premiums are payable by the insured until a death happens; consequently, in the earlier years of such a company the amount of assessments called for may be expected to be comparatively inconsiderable; while, on the other hand, as members grow old, and mortality increases, the number of assessments will proportionately increase, so that eventually the aggregate of assessments in any given year will greatly exceed the amount which would have been payable under a level-premium contract. The company under the form of its establishment, as well as by its contract of the insured, should have no other resources to pay losses, excepting assessments. It is claimed that this method is more equitable, inasmuch as the insured pays the exact cost of insurance and not an arbitrary sum fixed by contract, as in the case of a level-premium insurance.

It is obvious, therefore, that when a company makes contracts containing a provision like that submitted with your letter, in which it agrees to a limitation of the maximum number of assessments, it is no longer insurance upon the assessment plan. The company is not a mere agent to collect assessment as losses occur, which is the theoretical position of an assessment company. It goes further, and agrees that a limited number of assessments will be sufficient to pay all losses. This being so, one of two things must happen. Either it must make its assessments larger than the amount actually required to pay death losses as they occur so that it may be able to provide for the contingency of more than one death per month, or it incurs the risk of being unable to pay all the losses that may occur.

Whether such a contract is in all respects a level-premium contract, it is not necessary to consider. It is sufficient for the purposes of your inquiry to say that it is certainly not a contract upon the assessment plan. It is not within the terms of the definition given to assessment insurance by St. 1890, c. 421, in which it is said that "every contract whereby a benefit is to accrue to a party . . . named therein, which benefit is conditioned not upon fixed payments but upon the collection from time to time of an assessment upon persons holding similar contracts, shall be deemed a contract of insurance upon the assessment plan."

For these reasons, I am of opinion that the form of policy submitted with your letter is not an "assessment" contract, within the meaning of that word as used in the statutes of the Commonwealth relating to insurance.

Your letter further states that the company will waive the issuance of this form of insurance in Massachusetts, and confine itself here to the business of insurance upon the assessment plan. Your second question is, whether it may properly be admitted to do business in Massachusetts upon such an agreement.

The difficulty with this proposition is that the company is still at liberty, and presumably will continue, to issue policies in other States in the form prohibited here. The losses incurred on policies issued in Massachusetts will be paid out of the assessments received by the company, including those received on such term policies. I have already stated the reasons which lead me to the conclusion that such term policies are not contracts of insurance upon the assessment plan. It follows that the benefits accruing to the policies issued upon the assessment plan in Massachusetts are not conditioned upon the "collection of assessments upon persons holding similar contracts."

If one form of policy is issued in Massachusetts, and another is issued elsewhere, those issued in Massachusetts, being payable out of the receipts of the company generally, are payable, in part at least, from other sources than the premiums received "by assessment upon persons holding similar contracts." The Massachusetts policies, therefore, cease to be policies upon the assessment plan, within the statutory definition given above. That being so, they should not be authorized in this Commonwealth.

Yours very truly,

Vagrant. — State Farm. — Authority to commit.

Vagrants other than those committed in accordance with the provisions of Pub. Sts., c. 88, § 5, may not lawfully be sentenced to the State Farm for a period of less than six months, unless transferred thereto as authorized by law; but a person committed as a vagrant to the State Farm by a court of competent jurisdiction for a period less than six months may be lawfully held therein; and is not entitled to be discharged therefrom on habeas corpus.

MAY 29, 1897.

H. M. BLACKSTONE Esq., Superintendent State Farm.

DEAR SIR: — Your letter of May 4 requires my opinion upon the question whether you may legally hold a vagrant committed to the State Farm for less than six months, other than one committed in accordance with the provisions of Pub. Sts., c. 88, § 5.

St. 1884, c. 258, § 1, which is the only statute authorizing the direct commitment of vagrants to the State Farm, provides that they may be sentenced to the State Workhouse (now the State Farm) for not less than six months nor more than two years. Pub. Sts., c. 207, § 42, provides that vagrants may be sentenced to the workhouse for a term not exceeding six months. But the word "workhouse" in this statute obviously refers to the local, and not to the State, workhouse. The section is a re-enactment of St. 1866, c. 235, § 3, under which vagrants "shall be committed for a term not exceeding six months to the house of correction for the county, or the house of industry or workhouse, where the conviction is had."

Under the system of transfers authorized by the statutes of the Commonwealth a vagrant transferred to the State Farm may be held there for the remainder of the term of his sentence, whether that is for less than six months or not. Male vagrants committed to a house of correction may be removed therefrom by the Commissioners of Prisons to the State Farm (St. 1885, c. 35, § 1), "there to be kept during the remainder of the sentence, in the same manner as if such person had been originally committed thereto." Pub. Sts., c. 219, § 6. Male vagrants may also be punished by imprisonment in the Massachusetts Reformatory under St. 1886, c. 323, § 5, and may then be transferred to the State Farm, there to serve the remainder of their original terms of sentence. St. 1887, c. 292.

It follows that, unless transferred under the provisions of the statutes quoted in the preceding section, vagrants cannot lawfully be sentenced to the State Farm for a period of less than six months.

It does not follow, however, that you may not legally hold a vagrant committed for less than six months. I assume that the person so committed was sentenced by a court having jurisdiction of the person and of the offence charged; the only irregularity being that the sentence was for a less time than the minimum sentence to the State Farm. This is error, which may be corrected by the court on writ of error by increasing the sentence to the minimum period if the person imprisoned so desires. Lane v. Commonwealth, 161 Mass. 120. But he is not entitled to relief from sentence on habeas corpus, nor to recover damages from the committing officer or from the keeper of the State Farm, because there is error in his sentence. Inasmuch as the court has jurisdiction of the offence, his only remedy is, as I have indicated, by suing out a writ of error, the result of which will be that his sentence will be corrected, as authorized by Pub. Sts., c. 187, § 13. Sennott's Case, 146 Mass. 489.

Massachusetts Benefit Life Association.—Commission of investigation.
St. 1897, c. 415

The agents, examiners, experts and counsel employed by the special commission appointed under the authority of St. 1896, c. 515, to investigate the affairs of the Massachusetts Benefit Life Association have no valid claim upon such association for their compensation.

Such commissioners do not incur any personal liability in employing agents, examiners, experts and counsel under the authority of St. 1896, c. 515, if such employment is made and expressed to be made in accordance with the provisions of the said statute.

St. 1896, c. 515, authorizing such commissioners to employ agents, examiners, experts and counsel, and providing for the payment by the said association of the expenses and compensation of the commissioners and of persons so employed, furnishes no certain means of collecting the same from the said association.

It is the business of the Attorney-General to deal with questions of law only, and he is not called upon to answer the inquiry whether it is the duty of each commission to continue its investigation without certain and adequate means being provided to pay for its services and expenses.

St. 1897, c. 415, does not relieve the special commission appointed under the authority of St. 1896, c. 515, of any duties imposed upon it by the latter statute, but simply imposes a limitation of time upon it regarding the performance of such duties.

To His Excellency ROGER WOLCOTT, Governor.

DEAR SIR:— I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of the letter of Hon. H. W. Bragg, chairman of the special commission appointed to investigate the affairs of the Massachusetts Benefit Life Association, addressed to your Excellency, and referred to me for reply.

St. 1896, c. 515, provides in section 3 that the commission shall have the power to employ agents, examiners, experts and counsel. The provision as to their compensation is as follows: "The reasonable compensation of and expenses incurred by such commission for such examination, including the payment of expenses and compensation of all persons employed by said commission, shall be paid by the company or association, after the same have been first approved by the governor and council."

The first question contained in the letter is, whether the agents, examiners, etc., employed by the commission "have any valid claim for their compensation upon the association." Clearly not. Their contract is with the commissioners and not with the association, and they would have no privity to maintain suit against the association thereon. If the association refuses to pay the commissioners' bills, they having been approved by the governor and council, whatever remedy, if any, exists by reason of such neglect is by suit by the Commonwealth, under whose authority the commission acts. This matter will be further discussed in my answer to your third question.

The second question contained in said letter is whether the commissioners "incur any personal liability in so employing such persons." Not if the employment is made and expressed to be made under the provisions of St. 1896, c. 515.

The third question is as follows: "Does the act provide any certain and adequate means for paying such persons so employed?" The practice of collecting from Massachusetts corporations expenses of supervision and investigation is not new. Pub. Sts., c. 112, § 12, provides that the expenses of the Board of Railroad Commissioners shall be borne by the several railroad corporations according to their gross earnings, and to be apportioned by the Tax Commissioner, who shall assess such expenses due from each upon said corporation, "and such assessments shall be collected in the manner provided by law for the collection of taxes upon corporations." There is also a provision in St. 1894, c. 522, § 6, paragraph 3, under which the expenses of examination of any foreign insurance company by the Insurance Commissioner shall be paid by the company. No provision for the enforcement of this assessment is made, but, as the admission of the company is within the control of the Insurance Commissioner, none is needed.

I know of no certain and adequate means of collecting the expenses and services of the commission from the Massachusetts Benefit Life Association, and herein is the principal defect in St. 1896, c. 515.

The fourth question inquires whether it is the duty of the commission to continue its investigation without certain and adequate means being provided to pay its expenses and services. I do not think the Attorney-General is called upon to answer this inquiry. His business is to deal with questions of law only. How far the commission may feel authorized to abstain from performing the work assigned to it by the statute in consequence of the lack of effective provision for payment of its services, may be a question for the consideration of your Excellency, under whom the commission exists, but not of the law officer.

The fifth and last question contained in the letter submitted inquires whether St. 1897, c. 415, relieves the commission from the provisions of St. 1896, c. 515. I can see no reason for answering this question in the affirmative. The last-named statute simply imposes a limitation of time, but no limitation of duty.

Yours very truly,

HOSEA M. KNOWLTON, Attorney-General.

Support of poor in towns. — St. 1897, c. 374, construed and its limits defined. — Duties of overseers of the poor.

The provisions of St. 1897, c. 374, entitled "An act relative to the support of the poor in towns," apply to towns only, and not to cities.

Pub. Sts., c. 28, § 2, which enacts that all laws relating to towns shall apply to cities so far as they are not inconsistent with the general or special provisions relating thereto, was not intended to provide that in all statutes in which duties were imposed upon towns the word "towns" should include cities, but only in such general laws as relate to towns themselves considered as municipalities.

The provisions of St. 1897, c. 374, are applicable to such children as come within the meaning of the word "paupers."

The provisions of St. 1897, c. 374, do not apply to inmates of the State institutions for the insane supported therein by cities and towns.

The provisions of St. 1897, c. 374, are not applicable to persons who are assisted to a greater or less extent by the overseers of the poor, on account of their partial inability to care for themselves.

The provisions of St. 1897, c. 374, are not applicable to paupers provided for at the State Farm or State Almshouse.

Under the provisions of St. 1897, c. 374, each overseer of the poor in a town is required to visit each place where the town paupers are provided for, in person, and may not make such visits through an agent.

JOHN D. WELLS, Esq., Clerk, State Board of Lunary and Charity.

DEAR SIR: — Your letter of May 24 submits a number of questions relating to the interpretation of St. 1897, c. 374, to which I beg to reply specifically as follows: —

1. "Do the provisions of the law apply to the cities of the Commonwealth, as well as to its towns?"

The statute is entitled "An act relative to the support of the poor in towns." It provides that "In towns where paupers are provided for otherwise than in the workhouse or almshouse the overseers of the poor shall investigate each place where the town paupers are to be supported, and shall make such contract for the support of town paupers as in the judgment of the overseers of the poor will secure proper care and maintenance for such paupers." It further provides for a record of each case, containing the terms and conditions of the support agreed upon; and for a certificate to be made by a majority of the overseers of the poor that an investigation has been made, and that they are satisfied that the poor of the town will be well and properly cared for. In terms the act applies to towns, and I am of opinion that it is intended to apply to towns only, and not to cities.

The only possible doubt arises from the provisions of the Public Statutes, one of which is chapter 3, section 3, clause 23, declaring that "the word 'town' may be construed to include cities;" the other is chapter 28, section 2, to wit: "Chapter 27 and all other laws relating to towns shall apply to cities so far as they are not inconsistent with the general or special provisions relating thereto." It is to be observed, however, that the chapter of the Public Statutes relating to the support of paupers (chapter 84) makes repeated use of the expression "cities and towns." That, being in the same statutes as the two provisions referred to (making the word "town" inclusive of cities), is significant. Unless we are to conclude that the Public Statutes were carelessly drawn, there must have been in the minds of the legislators some reason for making the statutes relating to the support of poor apply in terms to cities as well as to towns; for otherwise the general provisions of chapter 27 would have rendered it unnecessary to repeat so often the expression "cities and towns." It is clear, therefore, that the word "town" does not include cities in all the statutes which have to do directly or indirectly with towns. The distinction may be thus stated. Chapter 27, in which it is provided that the word "town" should include cities, deals directly with privileges, duties and obligations of towns as municipalities. Chapter 84 of the Public Statutes, on the other hand, deals principally with the support of paupers, and the mere fact that paupers must be supported by towns does not make it in terms an act "relating to towns." It is an act relating to a specific matter of legislation, to wit: the support of paupers, and as to which it may, and in fact does, happen that the duties imposed upon towns and upon cities are different. In my opinion, therefore, it was not the purpose of Pub. Sts., c. 28, § 2, to provide that in all statutes in which duties were imposed upon towns the word "town" should include cities, but only such general laws as related to towns themselves considered as municipalities.

The act under consideration is binding upon towns, but the subject of legislation with which it deals is indicated by its title, to wit: An Act relating to the support of poor in towns." The words "in towns" limit what otherwise would have been the general scope of the act, and make it applicable not to cities, but to towns only.

2. "Does the word 'paupers' in the law include children as well as adults?"

The word "paupers" in the third article of the amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth was defined, in the Opinion of the Justices, 11 Pick. 539 (Feb. 14, 1832), to mean "persons claiming assistance for themselves or families from the provisions made by law for the poor." It was there said that the word had acquired a precise and technical meaning. See also Opinion of the Justices, 124 Mass. 596 ; Sturbridge v. Holland, 11 Pick. 459 ; Fiske v. Lincoln, 19 Pick. 473 ; Com. v. Cambridge, 20 Pick. 267.

Such meaning, therefore, is to be given to the word paupers in the act of 1897. Pub. Sts., c. 3, § 3, cl. 3. But “paupers is a word broad enough to include children, even taking its meaning to be as technical as is above stated. Provision is made by law for the settlement of children under the pauper laws. The provisions of the statute in question are certainly as important in their application to children as to adults ; perhaps even more so. I can see no reasonable ground to suppose that the act does not include such children as come within the meaning of the word “paupers.”

3. “Do the provisions of law apply to inmates of the State institutions for the insane supported therein by the cities and towns?”

The purpose of the laws is to take precaution (1) against paupers being supported in improper places by providing for investigation by the overseers of each place where such paupers are supported, and for compulsory periodical visits by the overseers to such places, and by allowing the State Board permission to visit such places ; and (2) against paupers being placed out upon terms and conditions not conducive to their proper care and maintenance, by compelling the overseers to keep a full record of all cases “where paupers are provided for otherwise than in a workhouse or almshouse,” and to certify upon the records that they have made investigation in each case, and are satisfied that the paupers will be well and properly cared for ; and furthermore by allowing the State Board to determine in what manner overseers of the poor shall contract for the support of town paupers.

In the case of paupers supported in the State lunatic institutions, it is clear that, though such persons may be technically within the letter of the act of 1897 as being provided for “otherwise than in a workhouse or almshouse,” yet the spirit of the law does not apply to them. None of the precautions provided for by the act is necessary in such cases. Ample provision is made by law to secure the proper management of these institutions (Pub. Sts., c. 87, §§ 6, 7, 9), and to provide for the payment of the expenses of the support of inmates (Pub. Sts., c. 87, § 31). Where the language of the statute in its ordinary meaning leads to a manifest inconvenience or absurdity, other words may be interpolated ; and when the real intent of the Legislature is plain, the language of the statute must be given such a construction as will carry that intent into effect. The absurdity of requiring overseers of the poor, under pain of a fine of one hundred dollars, to investigate and visit State lunatic hospitals once every three months, if any town pauper happens to be there, is apparent, and cannot have been intended by the Legislature.

4. “Does the law apply to paupers partially supported, as well as to those fully supported?”

I assume that this question refers to cases where persons are assisted to a greater or less extent by the overseers of the poor, on account of their partial inability to care for themselves. In these cases the town takes no responsibility of their surroundings, or of the proper care and attention given to them. They still remain in the control of their own affairs, free to live where and how they please. The act does not in terms include such persons, and in my opinion is not intended to include them.

5. “Do the words ‘workhouse or almshouse,’ in section 1, exclude the State Farm, as well as the State Almshouse, from the operation of the law?”

It is clear that the words “otherwise than in a workhouse or almshouse” are sufficiently comprehensive to exclude the State Farm and the State Almshouse from the operation of the statute. Before the passage of St. 1887, c. 264, the State Farm was called the State Workhouse. Pub. Sts., c. 88. The reason, moreover, which I have suggested for excluding State lunatic hospitals from the scope of the statute, applies with equal force to the State Farm and to the State Almshouse.

6. “Are the overseers of the poor required by the law to make visits in person, or can such visits be made by an agent appointed by them?”

I am of opinion that the duty imposed by the statute is personal, and is imposed upon each overseer; that is to say, each overseer of the poor in the town is required, once at least in three months, to visit each place where the town paupers are provided for, and to make a record of his visit and of the condition of the paupers visited.

Yours very truly,

HOSEA M. KNOWLTON, Attorney-General.

Assistant clerks of courts appointed under Pub. Sts., c. 159, § 9. — Compensation.

The salary of an assistant clerk of courts appointed by the clerk of courts under authority of Pub. Sts., c. 159, § 9, must be paid by the latter, and cannot legally be paid from the county treasury under the provisions of Pub. Sts., c. 159, § 83, making an allowance to clerks of courts for extra clerical assistance.

JUNE 18, 1897.

CHARLES R. PRESCOTT, Esq., Controller of County Accounts.

DEAR SIR: — The clerk of courts for the county of Berkshire may, under Pub. Sts., c. 159, § 9, appoint an assistant clerk pro tem.; but the same section expressly provides that the compensation of such assistant shall be paid by the clerk.

This express provision is not controlled by section 33 of the same chapter. The assistant so appointed does not come within the classification of extra clerical assistance, referred to in the latter section. The duties and authority of an assistant clerk are much more extensive than those of a person rendering extra clerical assistance. He may perform all the duties of a clerk. Pub. Sts., c. 159, § 9. Unless the Legislature specially authorizes the payment of the salary of an assistant clerk, the clerk making the appointment must pay it himself.

Yours very truly,

HOSEA M. KNOWLTON, Attorney-General.

Massachusetts Benefit Life Association. — Policies illegally issued. — Expense fund. — Right of action by the Commonwealth.

Policies of insurance, issued to persons other than the original incorporators, and those whom they voted to associate with them, by the Massachusetts Benefit Life Association, a corporation organized under St. 1874, c. 875, as amended by St. 1877, c. 204, the company having repealed the by-law making each policy holder a member thereof before it issued any policies, were issued illegally till the enactment of St. 1885, c. 183, which ratified what had been done by the company, and authorized the continuance of just such business.

Policies first issued described the holders thereof as members. These were recalled and new policies substituted, describing the holders as "benefit members." There is no such thing in the law as a "benefit member" of a corporation, and they were not members; yet it cannot be said that the legal rights of the policy holders were infringed by the change.

All the policies issued by the company, after providing for the collection of an annual assessment for expenses, stipulated that the expense fund should be "at the sole disposal of the officers of the association;" and, although the assessments were largely in excess of the expenses, yet the levying of them cannot in law be said to be an infringement of the rights of the policy holders.

The statutes of the Commonwealth provide for the making of annual returns by the company to the Insurance Commissioner. Since the business of the company was legalized by St. 1885, c. 183, the Commonwealth has no right of action against the company unless its annual returns were untrue; if untrue, the remedy is by indictment.

JUNE 29, 1897.

To His Excellency ROGER WOLCOTT, Governor.

DEAR SIR:—Your letter of April 30, 1897, requests the opinion of the Attorney-General upon two questions, to wit:—

First.—Whether the rights of the policy holders in the Massachusetts Benefit Life Association have been improperly infringed upon; and Second.—If so, whether any remedy exists for such condition of affairs under our law.

In view of the fact that the report of the commission referred to in your letter was not the final report of that body, I have delayed replying in order that I might have the benefit of all the facts stated in its final report.

The company was organized Feb. 8, 1878, under the provisions of St. 1874, c. 375, as amended by St. 1877, c. 204. The former statute is entitled "An act concerning associations for charitable, educational and other purposes," and is substantially re-enacted in Pub. Sts., c. 115, §§ 1–10. This statute authorizes seven or more persons to form a corporation for various educational, benevolent and religious purposes. It contained no reference to the business of insurance of any kind. St. 1877, c. 204, provided that associations organized under St. 1874 might, "for the purpose of assisting the widows, orphans or other dependents of deceased members, provide in their by-laws for the payment by each member of a fixed sum, to be held by the association until the death of a member occurs, then to be forthwith paid to the person or persons entitled thereto." It was further provided that the provisions of the general insurance laws should not be applicable to such beneficiary corporations. The company in question derived its authority from the statute above quoted. Its purpose, as stated in its articles of association, was to "assist the widows, orphans, or other dependents of deceased members by providing for the payment by each member of a fixed sum to be held until the death of a member, then to be paid to the person or persons entitled thereto."

The association began to issue policies to other than members of the corporation in October, 1879. All the policies so issued, from that time till the enactment of St. 1885, c. 183, relating to insurance upon the assessment plan, were illegal. Only seven persons were named in the articles of association as members of the corporation. The original by-laws submitted to the Commissioner of Corporations provided that each policy holder should be a member of the corporation. This by-law, however, was repealed before any policies were issued, and there never were any other members of the corporation (until the change in the by-laws procured by the special commission appointed by the policy holders in 1896) excepting the seven original incorporators, and those whom they voted to associate with them.

Membership in a corporation is confined to the persons named in the charter, and those whom they associate with themselves under the by-laws or by their votes. Mutual fire and life insurance companies are by statute made an exception to this general rule. In those companies, under the provisions of the statutes, every policy holder thereby becomes a member, and is entitled to receive notice of meetings of the corporation. There was no such law applicable to associations of this kind; and by the repeal of the by-law above referred to the membership was limited and remained limited to the original incorporators and their associates.

The repeal of this by-law, by virtue of which incorporation was obtained, constituted the first infringement, not only upon the rights of the policy holders, but upon the laws of the Commonwealth. When that by-law was repealed the association had no authority to issue policies excepting to the seven incorporators. The pretext devised of calling policy holders "benefit members" did not avail to cure the mischief. There is no such thing known to the laws of Massachusetts as a "benefit member." It is a misleading term. Its only possible effect is to deceive the policy holder, on the one hand, into the supposition that in some way he is a member of the corporation; or, on the other hand, to evade the laws of the Commonwealth providing that policies of insurance in associations of this character should be issued only to members of the association.

The business of the association in issuing policies to "benefit members" could, and undoubtedly would, have been enjoined by the Commonwealth, but for the fact that the by-laws submitted to the Commissioner of Corporations had provided otherwise, and no notice of any change such as was made was given.

Notwithstanding the repeal of this by-law, the first twelve hundred policies issued described the holders as members of the corporation. Such description did not constitute them members, and the association must have known that it did not, for they had repealed the by-law which would make that statement effectual. Here again the rights of the policy holders were infringed upon, for a representation was made to them in their policies which was not true, and which must have been known to the association not to be true.

Fearing that trouble might come from this description of policy holders as members, it was determined by the association that the policies should be recalled. Advantage was taken of the fact that it became expedient to change the policies in another respect, to wit: in relation to the payment of the amount secured by the policy in case of the death of the beneficiary, by the substitution of the word "heirs" instead of the word "representatives." Having secured an opinion of the Insurance Commissioner that this change was advisable, the association issued a circular to the policy holders, calling attention to the letter of the commissioner, and asking them to return their policies, to have them changed to conform to the suggestions made by the Insurance Commissioner.

This invitation was accepted, and, relying upon the recommendation of the Insurance Commissioner, all the original policies were returned to the association to be changed. New policies were thereupon issued, making the change for which the return had been asked. At the same time the inaccurate description of the policy holders as members was also changed, and in the new policies they were described as "benefit members," — an expression having no useful purpose except so far as it was misleading. Nothing was said in the circular inviting the return of the policies about this change, and it is probable that few of the policy holders knew that such a change was to be made.

In my view of the law of membership in corporations, as above stated, this change did not constitute in law an infringement upon the rights of the policy holders, for they never had any rights of membership. But to ask the return of the policies for the purpose of making a specified change in them, intending at the same time to make another change which was not disclosed in the invitation, was a breach of good faith to the policy holders, especially in view of the fact that the official sanction of the Insurance Commissioner was obtained to procure the return of the policies.

The policies first issued, as well as all that have been subsequently issued, provided in express terms for the collection of an annual assessment for expenses; and it was stipulated in the policy that the proceeds of these assessments should be at the sole disposal of the officers of the association. Inasmuch as the officers were practically the members and owners of the corporation, this was an indirect way of notifying the policy holders that the proceeds of this assessment belonged to the corporation, and that they as "benefit members" had no right thereto. The collection of this annual assessment for expenses has continued from the beginning down to the present time, and under it large sums have been received from the policy holders; much larger, I am informed, than the actual and legitimate expenses of conducting the association, the excess above such expenses having been divided from time to time among the members of the association.

It cannot be said, however, that this assessment was in law an infringement of the rights of the policy holders. They may have been, and undoubtedly were, in most instances misled by the indirect language used in their contracts. They were described as "benefit members," and were not told that the expression meant nothing, excepting that they were not members; and they were also led to believe that the assessment was for actual expenses, and not for the profit of the real members. Yet if they had taken the trouble, which most people do not take, to read their policies, they would have learned that it was therein provided that the expense fund "is at the sole disposal of the officers of the association." This was in their contracts, and, however misled they may have been by the fact that the corporation assumed to be a "fraternal benefit association," organized under the law authorizing the forming of corporations for "charitable" purposes, and by the statement that they were "benefit members," they could nevertheless, easily have learned that the assessments for expenses which they agreed to pay might be used by the members of the association for their own profit, if any remained after paying the expenses.

Moreover, they were so told, so far as the Commonwealth could tell them. Insurance Commissioner John K. Tarbox took occasion from time to time to inform the Legislature in his annual reports of the true character of this and other like associations. In his report for 1884, speaking of such associations, he said: "Others are simply close corporations, with a very limited membership, and organized and carried on for profit by a few stockholders or individuals who constitute the corporation. The insured pay to the corporation certain fees and dues, which produce the expense fund, and whatever is left of it after the payment of expenses is divided between the corporators as profits . . . I find no warrant in the law for corporations of this sort. The statute authorizes the forming of associations for the purpose of rendering assistance to its members and their dependents. It does not authorize corporations to make contracts of assessment insurance with persons other than members, and the persons insured by the corporations referred to are not members, in the sense of the statute." Undoubtedly, if Mr. Tarbox had had the statutory power to do so, he would have instructed the Attorney-General to cause such corporations conducting illegal business to be enjoined and dissolved. He had no such authority, however, and could only report the situation to the Legislature, which he did in unmistakable terms.

Instead, however, of providing for the wiping out of such unlawful associations, the Legislature proceeded to enact, in 1885 (St. 1885, c. 183), a statute which not only authorized the formation of corporations to carry on the very business which the commissioner had condemned, but which even went further, and in section 3 provided that any corporation engaged in the transaction of life or casualty insurance on the assessment plan might "continue to exercise all the rights, powers and privileges" conferred by that chapter.

So, therefore, what had been illegal was thus ratified and made valid by this act. The practices condemned by the commissioner were authorized to continue and increase by the Legislature. It was the very condition of things which now is most vehemently complained of against this association, to wit: the association of a limited number of persons as an insurance corporation, without capital, without responsibility, without effectual supervision, without any laws restraining them as to the character of their contracts, without even a guarantee of permanency, and authorized to contract with the insured for the payment of money under the guise of expenses which they might divide among themselves as profits. If this is bad business, as it now seems to be, no more blame can be attached to the members of this corporation than to the Commonwealth which permitted it.

Subsequent statutes went even further. By St. 1890, c. 421, § 20, it is provided that expenses incurred in investigating and contesting cases believed to be fraudulent may be considered as a part of the mortuary expenses; in other words, that all such expenses could be deducted from the amount of the assessment collected for the payment of death and disability benefits. The direct result of this provision is to saddle a portion of the expenses of these companies upon the mortuary assessments, thus reducing the amount to be paid from the proceeds of assessments for expenses, and thereby increasing the profits to be divided out of such assessments for expenses. The Massachusetts Benefit Life Association took advantage of this provision, and, although expenses for contesting disputed claims were first paid out of the expense fund, transfers to cover such expenses were made from time to time from the amount held for the purpose of paying death benefits.

The facts may be thus summarized. Under the form and guise of an association for charitable and benevolent purposes, seven persons formed a corporation for the purpose of carrying on business for profit. They obtained a charter under by-laws which they proceeded forthwith to change in a way which, if known, would have prevented them from obtaining a charter. They invited the co-operation of the public in this so-called charitable enterprise, first by describing the policy holders as members, which was untrue, and afterwards as "benefit members," which was misleading. Despite the protestations of the Insurance Commissioner they continued to carry on this business until it was legalized by the Legislature in 1885. It is impossible to believe that the policy holders knew how profitable the business was in the corporation; and it is entirely probable that the members of the corporation understood the ignorance of their policy holders, and took no pains to inform them. And when, subsequently, the burden of assessments was likely to increase, instead of reducing their profits, they took advantage of a permissive statute to draw upon the fund available for death benefits in a way which still further enlarged their profits.

Thus far I have considered your Excellency's first question, as to how far the rights of the policy holders had been infringed upon. It remains as to this portion of the history of the company to consider the question whether the laws afford any remedy. For the reasons I have heretofore stated there appears to be no remedy to recover for the benefit of the policy holders the sums so collected and distributed among the members of the corporation as profits. The illegality of the business of the company prior to 1885 seems to have been ratified and legalized by the Legislature. Whether any remedy exists for the old policy holders, of whom I am informed there are some remaining, it is unnecessary to consider, as that is a matter exclusively for the policy holders themselves, and in respect to which the Commonwealth has neither duties nor rights. The Commonwealth has never undertaken to settle matters of private difference arising upon the contracts of its corporations.

I have recently been informed by the present officers of the corporation that upon investigation they learn that "there is due a large accumulation of unpaid death claims pending against the association, these claims being over and above the current death claims which are to be met out of the proceeds of current assessments;" and that this accumulation has been going on since 1890. They further state that the purpose of the former management in thus postponing the payment of this large accumulation of death claims must have been to keep down assessments, regardless of future consequences; and that, if assessments in the past had been made at the proper time large enough to meet such claims, the situation would now be much more encouraging.

I am informed that this situation has been made known to the Insurance Commissioner for his consideration, and that the association has voted an assessment upon the policy holders large enough to meet this deficit, and has submitted the same to the Insurance Commissioner for his approval. With his duties in the matter the present opinion is not concerned.

If this method of conducting the business of the association has obtained, it has been a serious infringement upon the rights of the policy holders. They had the right to suppose that the assessments being levied from time to time were sufficient to meet death claims, and to make their arrangements accordingly. It was unjust to the beneficiaries to withhold payment of their claims, for under the statutes such claims are absolutely due at the time expressed in the policies; and it was unfair to the policy holders to postpone the levying of assessments, the result being to necessitate inordinate assessments in the future.

If this course of business was pursued, it was in plain violation of law. It was the duty of the corporation to keep the assessments up to a parity with the accumulation of death claims. Moreover, St. 1890, c. 421, § 15, provides that the officers of a corporation who shall refuse or neglect to levy an assessment for a space of sixty days after the filing of satisfactory proof of the death of a certificate or policy holder, where the same so received is not disputed on account of fraud or want of validity, and where the death or emergency fund is not sufficient to pay the claim, shall thereby become liable to the beneficiary under said certificate or policy to the amount of the claim. This remedy is solely in the hands of the beneficiary, and cannot be enforced for him by the Commonwealth.

It is further made the duty of the Insurance Commissioner, by section 10 of the same chapter, when he is satisfied that the corporation has refused or failed to pay a death claim for thirty days after it becomes due and after proper demand, to notify the corporation to suspend business until the claim is paid, and to proceed forthwith to make such an examination of the affairs of the corporation as will satisfy him whether it is able to pay its accrued indebtedness in full.

Since 1885 the Insurance Commissioner has been vested with powers of visitation and examination into the affairs of these corporations. St. 1885, c. 183, § 13, provided that the commissioner in person or by his deputy should have "the powers of visitation of and examination into the affairs of any such corporation [assessment insurance company] which are conferred upon him in the case of life insurance companies by chapter 119 of the Public Statutes." That chapter makes it the duty of the commissioner to visit each domestic company at least once in three years, and whenever he deems it necessary for the protection of the policy holders, and thoroughly to inspect and examine all its affairs, and especially its financial condition and ability to fulfil its obligations, and to ascertain whether it has complied with all provisions of law applicable to it and to its transactions. This statute remained in force until St. 1890, c. 421, in which it is provided (section 22) that "The insurance commissioner may personally or by his deputy or chief clerk visit each domestic insurance corporation doing business on the assessment plan whenever he shall deem it necessary, and thoroughly inspect and examine its affairs, especially as to its financial condition and ability to fulfil its obligations, and whether it has complied with the laws." Under both statutes he was further authorized, whenever upon investigation he became satisfied that any such corporation had exceeded its powers or failed to comply with any provision of law, to report the fact to the Attorney-General for the purpose of having the corporation restrained from the further prosecution of its business. Whether the exercise of these powers by the Insurance Commissioner would have enabled him to learn the condition of the company which the present officers now report, I have no means of knowing. If they were insufficient, then the remedy is by additional legislation which will enable the officers of the Commonwealth to know what is going on in corporations carrying on business under the shield of its protection.

The statute further provides (St 1890, c. 421, § 22) that the officers of the corporation shall annually return to the Insurance Commissioner, in such manner and form, and including such information as he may require, a sworn statement of the affairs of the year ending on the preceding thirty-first day of December. Returns were made by this association to the Insurance Commissioner, as required by law. Whether these returns truly stated the accumulation of unpaid death claims, which are now reported to me by the officers of the association, I have no reason of knowing. If not, the remedy is by indictment.

Yours very truly,

HOSEA M. KNOWLTON, Attorney-General.

Feathers of certain birds for dress or ornament. — St. 1897. c. 524.

St. 1897, c. 524, does not prohibit the having in possession or the wearing of the body or feathers of birds taken or killed without the Commonwealth.

AUG. 10, 1897.

RUFUS R. WADE, Esq., Chief of the District Police.

DEAR SIR: — Your letter of the 9th inst. requires my opinion upon the question whether, under the provisions of St. 1897, c. 524, it is unlawful for a person in Massachusetts to have in his possession the body or feathers of any bird whose taking or killing is prohibited by St. 1886, c. 276, § 4, provided the bird itself was taken or killed outside the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

The words of the statute, as far as they affect this question, are as follows: "Whoever has in his possession the body or feathers of any bird whose taking or killing is prohibited by section 4 of chapter 276 of the Acts of the year 1886, or wears such feathers for the purpose of dress or ornament, shall be punished as provided in said section." St. 1886, c. 276, § 4, to which this statute refers, provides that "Whoever takes or kills any wild or undomesticated [with certain exceptions] shall be punished by a fine of ten dollars." Taken together, these statutes prohibit the killing of certain birds, and the possession of the bodies or feathers of the birds whose taking is so prohibited.

Penal statutes are to be construed strictly, and their scope is not to be enlarged. The statutes in question in terms prohibit the possession of the bodies and feathers, only, of birds whose killing is prohibited. There is, and obviously could be, no prohibition against killing birds without the limits of the Commonwealth. It follows, under a strict construction of the statutes, that the possession of the bodies and feathers of such birds, whose killing is not prohibited, is, itself, not prohibited.

There is nothing in the legislative purpose, so far as it can be gathered from the act, which necessarily requires a broader construction. The earlier statute is aimed against the killing of birds in this Commonwealth. The later statute is further intended to discourage such killing by destroying the market for bodies and feathers of birds unlawfully killed. This purpose is fully accomplished, without the necessity of supposing that the Legislature intended to include birds killed elsewhere. The fact that the narrower construction makes the law more difficult of enforcement does not concern the question.

St. 1879, chap. 209, § 1, was a penal statute of similar character. It provided that whoever in this Commonwealth takes or kills any woodcock, or other specified birds, during certain portions of the year, "or within the respective times aforesaid sells, buys, or has in his possession, or offers for sale, any of said birds, shall be punished," etc.

This statute was construed in Com. v. Hall, 128 Mass. 410, as a prohibition against having possession of the birds named in the statute only when killed in this Commonwealth. It was claimed in that case by the Attorney-General that the intention of the statute was to prohibit the buying, selling or having in possession such birds which had been lawfully killed in another State. This construction was not sustained. Gray, C. J., in the opinion said that "To adopt such a conclusion, when not imperatively required by the language of the act, would be inconsistent with the ordinary rules of construction of penal statutes." The doctrine of that case applies to the statute in question.

It is interesting to observe that after this decision the statute quoted was amended by the addition of the words "whether taken within this Commonwealth or elsewhere." The absence of these words in the statute of 1897 is significant, and leads to the conclusion that it was not the intention of the Legislature to prohibit the having in possession or the wearing of the body or feathers of birds which were not killed in violation of the laws of this Commonwealth.

I am of opinion, therefore, that St. 1897, c. 524, is not to be construed as prohibiting the having in possession, or the wearing of the body or feathers of birds taken or killed without the Commonwealth.

Yours very truly,

HOSEA M. KNOWLTON, Attorney-General.

Boston Terminal Company. — Harbor and Land Commissioners. — License. — St. 1896, c. 516. — Pub. Sts., c. 19.

The St. 1896, c. 516, authorizes the Boston Terminal Company to take land in fee within certain limits and to do whatever is necessary for the building of a union station within the limits of the lands taken by it for that purpose, whether above or below high-water mark.

The sanction of the Board of Harbor and Land Commissioners is required, under the provisions of Pub. Sts., c. 19, § 8, — not under § 9. Pub. Sts., c. 19, § 16, does not apply to the work of the Boston Terminal Company.

Aug. 30, 1897.

Hon. WOODWARD EMERY, Chairman.

DEAR SIR: — Your letter of June 25 submits a series of questions relating to the Boston Terminal Company, which can best be answered by a consideration of the general policy of the Legislature in regard to that company, and the relation which its act of incorporation bears to pre-existing statutes.

The Boston Terminal Company was incorporated by St. 1896, c. 516. It is authorized by that act to take land in Boston within certain limits, including lands over which the tide ebbs and flows, and to build a passenger station thereon. In pursuance of the authority conveyed by this act, it has taken a tract which includes land over which the tide ebbs and flows, and has applied to your Board for its approval of the plans which have been formed for filling solid the tide-water lands taken.

The lands taken by the Terminal Company under the authority of its charter were, before the passage of St. 1896, c. 516, subject to the public rights of navigation. That statute is, therefore, a grant of power to take for one public use land already appropriated to another public use. This form of legislation has been frequent in this Commonwealth, and is clearly within the powers of the Legislature. Springfield v. Connecticut River R. R. Co., 4 Cush. 63; Commissioners v. Holyoke Water Power Co., 104 Mass. 446; Commonwealth v. O. C. & F. R. R., 14 Gray, 93.

The charter of the company, therefore, gives it the right to take in fee lands covered by tide water, even though belonging to the Commonwealth, and to occupy the same for the purposes of its act. It does not follow, however, that this grant is so far absolute as to give the company the right to ignore the general provisions of the Public Statutes relating to the filling or improvement of lands upon which tide waters ebb and flow. These provisions are contained in Pub Sts., c. 19. Section 8 of chapter 19 provides that "All persons that are or may be authorized by the General Court to build over tide waters a bridge, wharf, pier, or dam, or to fill flats, or drive piles below high-water mark" shall before beginning work give written notice to the Board of Harbor and Land Commissioners of the work they intend to do, and shall submit plans of any proposed structure, and of flats to be filled, and of the mode in which the work is to be performed, for the approval of the Board. Jurisdiction is given to the Board to alter such plans in their discretion and to prescribe "to any extent that does not diminish or control the legislative grant" the direction, limits and mode of building the wharves and other structures. Section 9 provides for the issuing of a license by the Board to any person to build a structure in tide water, or to fill land or flats, or to drive piles in or over tide water below high-water mark, upon such terms as may be approved by the Board.

I am of opinion that section 8, a portion of which I have quoted, is applicable to the present case, and that it was not intended by the Legislature that the supervision of the work of filling, occupying or improving tide-water lands by the Boston Terminal Company, given by this section to your Board, should be taken away. The section is general in its terms, and applies to all work done below high-water mark, authorized by the legislative grant. The obvious intention of the section was to confer upon your Board the jurisdiction so far to supervise and control the performance of the work for which legislative grant had been made as to prevent damage to tide waters outside of the limits of the grant, and to insure the efficiency of navigable waters and public water ways.

I am aware that in the case of Attorney-General v. Cambridge, 119 Mass. 518, it was held that the defendant city, which had been authorized by St. 1866, c. 149, § 5, to fill a portion of Miller's River, was not required to submit its plans for the approval of the Board of Harbor Commissioners. The decision was based upon two propositions: first that the work required by the statute was to be done not by private individuals for their own benefit, but under the direction of the boards of mayor and aldermen of two cities for the abatement of a nuisance; and, second, that the work contemplated was but the carrying out of a plan which had been devised by the Board of Harbor Commissioners, acting jointly with the State Board of Health. It is doubtful if the first ground would warrant the decision arrived at by the court. However that may be, the second ground stated clearly distinguishes it from the present case.

Your board have not the power in any way "to diminish or control the legislative grant," but within that limit have the right to pass upon the plans submitted, and to require plans of the work to be done, whether of filling, driving piles or building structures, to be submitted to your Board for its approval.

St. 1896, c. 516, does not, it is true, in terms authorize the driving of piles, the filling of flats or the building of a bridge, wharf, pier or dam, these being the classes of work which the approval of your Board is required. This is not, however, in my opinion, of importance, for the act authorizes the building of a union station, and therefore is authority for the doing of whatever work is necessary to the building of such a station, including any or all of the classes of work specified in section 8, for the doing of which plans are required to be submitted to your Board.

Pub. Sts., c. 19, § 16, does not apply to the present case. That section provides that "When an authority or license is granted by the General Court or by said board to any person or corporation to build a wharf or other structure upon, or to fill or otherwise occupy land in tide water, where the title to such land is in the Commonwealth, such person or corporation shall," etc. The section obviously refers to those cases where license is granted either by the Legislature or your Board to occupy lands of the Commonwealth below tide water, the fee remaining in the Commonwealth. The charter of the Boston Terminal Company, on the other hand, authorizes the taking of land in fee, including lands of the Commonwealth below tide water; and the company should be restrained from occupying any flats or deep-water lands that it has not first taken in fee, in accordance with the provisions of its act.

The foregoing considerations answer the various questions contained in your letter. For the sake of clearness, however, I reply to them specifically, as follows, to wit: —

1. Assuming that filling in tide water under the rights conferred by c. 516, Sts. 1896, required approval under Pub. Sts., c. 19, should the license be framed under section 9, and has section 16 any application?

The license should be framed under section 8.

2. Does c. 516, Sts. 1896, authorize the Boston Terminal Company to build over tide waters a bridge, wharf, pier or dam, or to fill flats or drive piles below high-water mark?

The statute authorizes the Boston Terminal Company to do whatever is necessary for the building of a union station within the limits of the lands taken by it for that purpose, whether above or below high-water mark.

3. If it does, is it authorized so to do without the sanction provided in Pub. Sts., c. 19?

4. If the sanction of the Board of Harbor and Land Commissioners is required before the Boston Terminal Company can fill in tide waters, should it be granted under the provisions of Pub. Sts., § 8, or § 9?

The sanction of the Board of Harbor and Land Commissioners is required under the provisions of section 8, but not under the provisions of section 9.

5. Is the authority granted by c. 516, Sts. 1896, subject to the requirements of Pub. Sts., c. 19, § 16?

This section does not apply to the work of the Boston Terminal Company.

Very truly yours,

Public Records. — Custodian. — Repair. — Expense.

St. 1897, c. 439, § 6, requires every person having the custody of the public records of a county, city or town, to keep them in repair, and such county, city or town must bear the expense, whether it has appropriated money for that purpose or not.

SEPT. 21, 1897.

ROBERT T. SWAN, Esq., Commissioner of Public Records.

DEAR SIR:— I have your letter of the 7th, inquiring whether, under St. 1897, c. 439, § 6, any person having the custody of any public records can lawfully incur expense which a county, city or town will be obliged to pay, unless an appropriation for the purpose has previously been made by the county, city or town.

The statute in question provides that “ Every person having the custody of any public records of a county, city or town, consisting of written or printed books, shall, at the expense of the county, city or town, have all such books properly and substantially bound,” etc. This statute makes the duty of the custodian imperative, whether an appropriation is made by the county, city or town, or not, and even if no such appropriation be made. He must obey the law. Failure to perform this duty by him is punishable under the provisions of section 12 of the same act.

The liability of the county, city or town for the expense so incurred does not arise from any act of the corporation itself, but exists by virtue of the statute provision. It is plainly the duty of the county, city or town to appropriate money for the purpose specified in the act; but if it fails to perform its duty it does not thereby escape its liability therefor.

Steam boilers. — Licenses. — Classes of licenses.

St. 1896, c. 546, § 1, making it unlawful for any person to have charge of or operate a steam boiler or engine without a license, does not require men employed merely as coal shovellers to be licensed.

Examiners of engineers have authority to issue firemen's licenses for such class of boilers as they find the applicant qualified to take charge of or operate.

SEPT. 29, 1897.

RUFUS R. WADE, Esq., Chief Massachusetts District Police.

DEAR SIR:— Your letter of August 12 requires my opinion upon a number of questions touching the interpretation of St. 1895, c. 471, and St. 1896, c. 546.

1. In a large boiler plant, where many men are employed as firemen, simply putting coal under the boilers, with a fireman in charge to take care of the water for the boilers, whether these men are required to have licenses under the statutes.

St. 1896, c. 546, § 1, makes it unlawful for any person "to have charge of, or to operate a steam boiler or engine" (with certain exceptions) unless he holds a license therefor, as provided in said chapter. The statute is intended for the security of the public, and those employed or having business in the vicinity of steam boilers, by providing that those who have charge of such boilers shall possess the skill necessary for their safe operation. The word "operate," as used in the statute quoted, is to be taken as meaning the directing or superintending of the working of the boiler. It does not apply to mere laborers, who have no responsibility or authority in the matter. Men who are employed as coal shovellers cannot be said to be in charge of or to be operating a boiler. They are not required to be licensed.

The foregoing considerations make it unnecessary to reply to the second and third questions in your letter.

4. Have the examiners the authority to issue firemen's licenses for low-pressure boilers only, marked, "Good only for low-pressure heating boilers?"

St. 1895, c. 471, § 2, provides that "Any person desiring to act as engineer or fireman shall make application to so act to an examiner of engineers . . . and if upon examination the applicant is found trustworthy and competent a license shall be granted to said applicant to have charge of or to operate such steam plants as the examiner may find him qualified to have in keeping." Section 3 of the same act provides for three classes of engineers' licenses, and further provides that "A fireman's license shall be issued to any person who, after having passed an examination, as hereinafter provided, shall have been found competent to take charge of or to operate any steam boiler or boilers." If in the provision last quoted "any steam boiler or boilers" is equivalent to all boilers, then these provisions are inconsistent with the provisions of section 2, which authorizes the granting of a license to a fireman "to operate such steam plants as the examiner may find him qualified to have in keeping." This being so, I am of opinion that the expression "any steam boiler or boilers" is not to be taken as meaning all steam boilers, but rather "any steam boiler or boilers" which the examiners find the applicant competent to operate. Under this construction of the statute it follows that the examiners have authority to issue a fireman's license for such class of boilers as they find the applicant qualified to have charge of;

and if they find him qualified to have charge of low-pressure heating boilers, they may issue a license accordingly. There is nothing in the provisions of St. 1896, c. 546, inconsistent with this interpretation.

The Massachusetts Highway Commission has no power to impose penalties for the infringement of its rules.

SEPT. 29, 1897.

A. B. FLETCHER, Esq., Secretary, Massachusetts Highway Commission.

DEAR SIR:— Authority is given to the Massachusetts Highway Commission, by St. 1892, c. 338, § 3, to establish rules for the conduct of its business. The question submitted by your letter of September 20 is, whether the commission has the right to impose penalties for the infringement of said rules.

Your commission has no power to impose penalties. That can only be done under direct and explicit authority from the Legislature.

Yours very truly,

HOSEA M. KNOWLTON, Attorney-General.

The Massachusetts Hospital for Dipsomaniacs and Inebriates has authority, under St. 1897, c. 474, "to finally discharge" a patient who is absent from the hospital, as well as one who is present.

OCT. 4, 1897.

WARREN F. SPALDING, Esq.,

Secretary, Massachusetts Hospital for Dipsomaniacs and Inebriates.

DEAR SIR:— I have your letter of the 30th ult., asking my opinion upon the question whether the trustees have the authority, under the provisions of St. 1897, c. 474, "to finally discharge" a patient who is in fact absent from the hospital on a permit to be at liberty, issued in accordance with the provisions of St. 1889, c. 414, § 8, or who is absent by elopement.

I see no reason why a final discharge may not be issued to a patient who has been committed or admitted to the hospital, and whose connection with such hospital has not been formally terminated, whether he is in fact at the hospital at the time of the final discharge or not.

Yours very truly,

Commissioners of Prisons. — Vacancy. — Parole.

Pub. Sts., c. 219, § 1, provides that there shall be five Commissioners of Prisons; but if for any reason a vacancy occurs, it is still a lawful Board, and has a right to parole a prisoner from the State Prison, under St. 1897, c. 206, § 1.

Oct. 4, 1897.

HERBERT D. WARD, Esq., Commissioner of Prisons.

DEAR SIR:—Your letter of the 2d inst. requests my opinion upon the question whether the present Board has the right to parole a prisoner from the State Prison, under the provisions of St. 1897, c. 206, § 1, there being a vacancy in the Board.

Under the provisions of St. 1894, c. 440, as amended by St. 1895, c. 252, a prisoner in the State Prison could be paroled by the Commissioners of Prisons. Unanimous action by the Board was not in terms required, but it was necessary to have the approval of the Governor and Council thereto.

The existing statute (St. 1897, c. 206, § 1) dispenses with the approval of the Governor and Council, and in place thereof requires that the parole be granted “by the unanimous vote of all the members of the Board.”

The Board at present consists of but four members. It is still, however, the Board of Prison Commissioners, and has all the rights, powers and duties of the Board of Prison Commissioners. It may, therefore, by a “unanimous vote of all the members of the Board” issue a parole to a prisoner in the State Prison. Pub. Sts., c. 219, § 1, provides, it is true, that there shall be five Commissioners of Prisons. This, however, is a directory provision merely; and if for any reason the Board is composed of four, it is still a lawful Board of Prison Commissioners. The act of all the present members of the board is the unanimous act of the Board and of all its members, as required by the statute.

Massachusetts Highway Commission. — Saugus River. — Bridge.

The Saugus River being navigable tide water, the Massachusetts Highway Commission has no authority to construct a bridge over it without special authority from the Legislature.

Oct. 5, 1897.

A. B. FLETCHER, Esq., Secretary, Massachusetts Highway Commission.

DEAR SIR:—Your letter of September 24 requires my opinion upon the following question: “Has the Highway Commission, under the authority given it in general statute law, the right to construct a bridge across the Saugus River below the lower bridge already existing there, with or without permission from the Harbor and Land Commissioners, or is a special act of the Legislature necessary before the commission can build such bridge?"

The Saugus River, being navigable tide water, is a public highway, subject to the public right of navigation. This right is not to be taken away or diminished without clear legislative authority. A bridge may be built over tide water above an existing bridge by license from the Harbor Commissioners, under certain conditions; but there is no general law specifically authorizing the construction of a bridge over navigable waters below the limit of existing encumbrances.

The authority of your commission to lay out and construct public highways (St. 1894, c. 497), does not give your Board broader powers than those already delegated to county and municipal boards. It has been held that such boards are not authorized to lay out a way across a navigable river. Boston v. Brookline, 156 Mass. 172, 175; Com. v. Coombs, 2 Mass. 488. In the latter case it was held that the general authority given to the court of general sessions to lay out highways does not extend to the laying out of a highway over a navigable river, so as to obstruct the same by a bridge; and that a general authority to lay out a new highway is not to be extended so as to give the power to obstruct an open highway already in the use of the public. Vid. also Arundel v. McCulloch, 10 Mass. 70; Kean v. Stetson, 5 Pick. 492.

I am of opinion, therefore, that your commission has not the authority to construct the bridge in question without special authority from the Legislature.

Yours very truly,

HOSEA M. KNOWLTON, Attorney-General.

Street Railways. — State highways. — Construction.

Municipal boards have the discretion of determining, under Pub. Sts., c. 118, §§ 7, 21 and 22, whether public convenience requires the construction of street railways in State highways; but under St. 1897, c. 355, their grants are subject to the veto of the Massachusetts Highway Commission.

Oct. 5, 1897.

A. B. FLETCHER, Esq., Secretary, Massachusetts Highway Commission.

DEAR SIR: — In your letter of September 24 you require my opinion as to how far St. 1897, c. 355, amending St. 1894, c. 497, § 2, affects the opinion heretofore given to the Board, dated Nov. 16, 1896.

In that communication, and for reasons therein set forth, I stated it to be my opinion that the statutes authorizing the construction of State highways did not operate to repeal the provisions of Pub. Sts., c. 113, §§ 7, 21 and 22. These sections delegated to municipal boards the discretion of determining, after due notice and hearing, whether necessity and public convenience requires the construction of street railways in highways. I do not think this jurisdiction is affected by St. 1897, c. 355.

In my former opinion, however, I suggested, without deciding, that it would probably be necessary to obtain not only a grant from the municipal board, but a permit from the Massachusetts Highway Commission, before constructing street railways in the State highways or altering tracks therein. The effect of St. 1897, c. 355, is to remove all doubt upon that subject, and to require the approval of and a permit from your commission before constructing or altering a street railway in a State highway. The authority, powers and duties of municipal boards in respect to street railways remain unchanged, but their grants are subject to the veto of your Board.

Yours very truly,

HOSEA M. KNOWLTON, Attorney-General.

Insane paupers. — Transfer. — Regularity of commitment papers.

The State Board of Lunacy and Charity has authority to transfer pauper inmates from any institution devoted to the care of insane persons to any other of like character.

Under St. 1895, c. 286, superintendents or other officers of insane hospitals have no authority to pass upon the regularity of commitment papers which accompany the order of commitment issued by the court; that is a question for the courts alone.

OCT. 15, 1897.

CHARLES E. WOODBURY, M.D., Inspector of Institutions.

DEAR SIR:—Your letter of the 4th inst. requires my opinion upon two questions, to wit:—

First.—Has the Board (of Lunacy and Charity) authority to transfer insane paupers from the State Asylum for Insane Criminals at Bridgewater to the Medfield Insane Asylum?

Among the powers originally given to the Board of State Charities, which was created by St. 1863, c. 240, was that of transferring pauper inmates “from one charitable institution or lunatic hospital to another.” The Board of State Charities was superseded in 1879 (St. 1879, c. 201) by the Board of Health, Lunacy and Charity; and in 1886, when the State Board of Health was re-established, the name of the Board was changed, and was thereafterwards denominated the State Board of Lunacy and Charity. But the right of transfer of pauper inmates of charitable institutions and lunatic hospitals has been continued in the same terms until the present time.

At the time of the original enactment (St. 1863, c. 240) there were but three receptacles provided by the State for the reception of insane persons, all of which were called lunatic hospitals. The term "lunatic hospital," therefore, as originally used was intended to cover all receptacles for the insane under the State's charge. It was undoubtedly the intention of the Legislature, in creating the Board of State Charities, to give full authority to the Board to classify, divide and separate paupers, whether insane or not, under the control of the State, wherever they were kept or maintained. Since the first use of the words "lunatic hospital" in connection with the right conferred upon the Board as to transfer of paupers, other institutions for the reception of insane persons have been created, some of which are not called lunatic hospitals, to wit, the Worcester Insane Asylum, the Medfield Insane Asylum and the State Asylum for Insane Criminals. But all of these are institutions established for the care and maintenance of insane persons; and I am unable to discover any essential distinction, so far as this question is concerned, between those State institutions which are called lunatic hospitals and those which are called insane hospitals, insane asylums and asylums for insane criminals. All of them are charitable institutions, and are alike under the supervision of the State Board.

I am of opinion, therefore, that the provisions of Pub. Sts., c. 79, § 9, authorizing the transfer of pauper inmates by the State Board from one charitable institution or lunatic hospital to another, are intended to be general in their nature, applicable to all the institutions under the State Board, and to authorize the transfer of pauper inmates from any institution devoted to the care of insane persons to another of like character.

The foregoing considerations dispose of the question submitted, unless there is something in the statutes specially relating to the Medfield Insane Asylum or to the State Asylum for Insane Criminals, which limits this general authority. The charter of the Medfield Insane Asylum (St. 1892, c. 425, § 4) provides that "all the laws relative to State lunatic hospitals, and to persons committed thereto on the ground of insanity, so far as they may be applicable, shall apply to said asylum and to the persons committed thereto: provided, that no patient shall be admitted to said asylum except as transferred thereto by the State Board of Lunacy and Charity from one of the State lunatic hospitals or the Worcester Insane Asylum." These provisions clearly put the Medfield Insane Asylum into the class of existing lunatic hospitals, excepting that it is not intended as a place of original commitment, but only of transfer from other institutions. The provision in relation to such transfer was not intended to be a limitation of the powers of transfer already existing in the State Board, but rather a confirmation and extension of them to the asylum thus created.

The act establishing the State Asylum for Insane Criminals (St. 1895, c. 890) contains sundry provisions relating to the commitment and transfer of insane criminals to said asylum; but there is nothing in the act which seems intended to limit the general authority already existing in the State Board to transfer insane paupers from one charitable institution or lunatic hospital to another.

I am of opinion, therefore, that the State Board has authority to transfer insane paupers from the State Asylum for Insane Criminals to the Medfield Insane Asylum.

Second. — How far have officers of insane hospitals the authority to pass upon the regularity of commitment papers, particularly the physicians' certificates which accompany the order of commitment issued by the court?

St. 1895, c. 286, regulates the commitment of persons to lunatic hospitals. It provides that no one shall make a certificate to the court of the insanity of a person unless he shall state under oath that he is a graduate of a legally chartered school, that he has been in practice for three years, and that he is duly registered. The physician making the certificate must have examined the person alleged to be insane within five days of his signing the certificate, and shall state in the certificate that in his opinion said person is insane, and shall specify the facts on which his opinion is founded. It is further provided that a copy of this certificate, attested by the judge, shall be delivered by the officer making the commitment to the superintendent of the hospital, to be filed with the order of commitment. The statute further provides a form of certificate which "shall be deemed sufficient if substantially followed;" but it does not prohibit the use of other suitable forms containing the required statements of fact.

These provisions are intended for the guidance and control of the committing magistrate. They specify and limit the character of the evidence to be submitted for his adjudication. His determination of the sufficiency of the evidence or the certificate submitted is final and binding upon committing officers and keepers of State institutions, to whom his precepts are directed. They are not called upon, nor have they the right, to question his adjudication in the matter. They are not judicial officers.

The provisions requiring a copy of the certificate to be filed are obviously for the benefit of the person committed, and are not intended to require the determination of the superintendent as to its sufficiency before obeying the order of commitment.

Yours very truly,

HOSEA M. KNOWLTON, Attorney-General.

Veterans' bounties. — Promises of towns and cities to pay bounties during the war. — St. 1897, c. 179.

Sts. 1897, c. 179, applies only to such promises of bounty as were made to induce enlistment, and which in fact wholly or in part did induce enlistment; it, therefore, does not apply to drafted men or their substitutes.

It is immaterial whether the promise to pay a bounty in consideration of enlistment was for a cash payment at the beginning or at the end of the service, or whether it was the promise of monthly or periodical payment, or was a valid promise in law when made or not.

Oct. 20, 1897.

EDWIN B. ROBBINS, Esq., Secretary.

DEAR SIR: — Your letter of September 9 requires my opinion as to the construction of St. 1897, c. 179, entitled "An act to provide for the payment of bounties to Massachusetts soldiers from the treasury of the Commonwealth in certain cases." The specific questions submitted can better be answered by a consideration of the scope and purpose of the act.

The duty of the commission is to investigate claims for unpaid bounties presented by veterans of the late war for the suppression of the rebellion. The act provides that when the commission finds that the veteran in whose name the claim is presented "was promised a bounty for military or naval service by any city or town in this Commonwealth, that said veteran afterwards duly complied with the conditions under which said bounty was to be paid, and that said bounty has not been paid," it may certify the claim for payment from the treasury of the Commonwealth.

The language quoted defines and limits the class of claims included within the provisions of the act. They are claims in which (1) the veteran was promised a bounty by a city or town in the Commonwealth, (2) the promise was made in consideration of military or naval service, (3) the service was rendered in consideration of which the bounty was promised, and (4) the bounty has not been paid.

The statute intended to include cases only in which the promise of bounty was made in consideration of military or naval service to be rendered by the person to whom the bounty was promised. The word "consideration" is not used; but a promise of a bounty "for military or naval service" is a promise in consideration of such service. In the recent case of Brown v. Russell, 166 Mass. 14, Article VI of the Declaration of Rights, which provides that "No man, nor corporation, or association of men, have any other title to obtain advantages . . . distinct from those of the community, than from what arises from the consideration of services rendered to the public," was considered by the court; and it was held that the words "consideration of services rendered to the public" did not mean or include services which had been rendered to the public in the past, but services to be rendered. I think a similar interpretation is to be given to the words of the act in question, and that a promise of a bounty for military or naval service, in the absence of any explicit declaration to the contrary, is to be taken to mean a promise in consideration of military or naval service to be rendered. This view is strengthened by the subsequent expression in the statute, to wit, "that said veteran afterwards duly complied with the conditions under which said bounty was to be paid." The word "afterwards," taken in connection with all of the words used, makes it plain that the Legislature had in mind only such promises of bounty as were made to induce enlistment, and which in fact wholly or in part induced such enlistment.

The act expresses the purpose of the Commonwealth to fulfil such promises as were made by the cities and towns of the State to induce persons to enter the service of the United States; but which promises, for any reason, have not been fulfilled. Cases where the promise was not the consideration of entering the service are not included within the provisions of the act. It cannot properly be said that a soldier, to whom a bounty was voted by a city or town after his enlistment, made a contract with a town under which he went into service, or that any promise was made him as a consideration of such service. The language used points clearly to a promise made upon consideration of service to be performed, and not to a gratuity voted or promised which was not an inducement to the soldier or sailor to enter the service.

This being so, it is the duty of the commission to disallow all claims for bounty where the vote of the town was not the inducement to service. The promise of a bounty to a man already in the field, and not in consideration of enlistment, or made after the expiration of service, is not such a promise as is included in the meaning of the act.

The foregoing conclusions are reached without considering whether it would be constitutional for the Commonwealth to assume the payment of bounties not promised as a consideration for enlistment, but voted as a gratuity to men in the service. Brown v. Russell, 166 Mass. 14; Mead v. Acton, 139 Mass. 341. It is not necessary to determine how far, in view of the decision of the court in Brown v. Russell, ubi supra, the Legislature may constitutionally go in the way of gratuities to men who have served honorably the State, but whose service has long since ended; for by this act, in my opinion, for the reasons stated above, the Legislature did not intend the payment of such gratuities, but rather the fulfilment of executory promises, which, for any cause, have not been performed.

For the same reasons I am of opinion that a vote of a town to pay a bounty to men drafted into the service and credited to the town, or to those whom they should employ as substitutes, is not within the intent of the act. A conscript could not make a contract for service with the town. He served, or furnished a substitute, because he was compelled to by reason of the draft made upon him, and any promise in consideration of such service to be rendered was without consideration. It cannot be said that one who was drafted rendered military or naval service in consideration of a promise made by the city or town to which he was credited that he should be paid a bounty. The language of the act in question does not include this class of persons. The same is true of substitutes. His contract was with the man whose place he filled. He was hired to take the place of a man who could make no contract with the town, and he could not stand in any better situation than the man whom he represented.

The word "bounty" has been defined by Chief Justice Bigelow, in Fowler v. Danvers, 8 Allen 80, 84, as signifying "money paid or a premium offered to encourage or promote an object, or procure a particular act or thing to be done." This definition agrees with the meaning given to the word in dictionaries of approved authority. There is nothing in the history of the legislation relating to bounties, or in the act now under consideration, tending to show that this is not the meaning to be given to the word in this statute. It is immaterial whether bounty promised in consideration of enlistment was in the nature of a cash payment at the beginning or at the end of the service, or whether it was a monthly gratuity in the form of wages. If the city or town, not being under obligation to pay wages, promised as a consideration for enlistment that it would pay a monthly sum either to the soldier or to his family, in addition to the wages paid him by the government of the United States, and this promise was made as a consideration of and before enlistment, and the enlistment was induced wholly or in part by such promise, the monthly or periodical payment so promised must be regarded as a bounty within the meaning of the act.

In James v. Scituate, 11 Allen 93, a promise made by the town "to pay to each volunteer soldier raised in this town and being an inhabitant therein and mustered into the service of the United States, . . . and having a family, fifteen dollars per month in addition to the sum allowed by the United States per month and during such service, and to each soldier not having a family the sum of ten dollars per month for like service," was held by the court to be a bounty. Mr. Justice Gray, in delivering the opinion, speaking of this promise, said: "The town offered him a bounty if he would volunteer and be mustered in. He accepted the offer by entering into an organization of militia which was liable to be called into the national service."

I am of opinion that, whenever a volunteer was promised, as an inducement to his enlistment, a gratuity of a fixed sum per month, during his service, or for any other time, such promise was the promise of a bounty, and is within the spirit of the act in question.

Whether the promise of a bounty referred to in the act is intended to include every promise made by a town or city, even though unlawful, or is limited only to such promises as the town had the right under existing laws to make, or which were ratified by subsequent legislation, is a question of much difficulty. In some cases promises were made by towns without authority, or even against express prohibition by the Commonwealth. Promises to pay monthly wages during the term of service were by subsequent legislation ratified for a period of ninety days, and declared to terminate at the end of that period. St. 1861, c. 222, § 2. If the intention of the Legislature in passing the act in question was to obligate the Commonwealth to the fulfilment of such void or prohibited promise, it is unfortunate that such intention was not more clearly expressed, for ordinarily the word "promise" used in a statute would be taken to mean only a lawful promise.

On the other hand, it is not to be presumed that the cities and towns were not ready to fulfil, and did not when requested fulfil, all promises for bounty which they had lawfully made. I am not informed that any such attempt at repudiation was made by any of the municipalities in the Commonwealth. Indeed, if it had been attempted, the promises made might have been enforced in the courts. It had been repeatedly held that a lawful promise to pay a bounty could be enforced in an action of contract against the town. Grover v. Inhabitants of Pembroke, 11 Allen 88; Carr v. Warren, 98 Mass. 329.

If, therefore, the scope of the act be limited only to such promises as the town could lawfully make, or which were ratified by subsequent legislation, the number of persons benefited under the act would be very limited. It would include only those who had for any reason failed to seasonably present their claim. Such a construction of the statute would practically make it merely an act for the relief of veterans whose claims are barred by the statutes of limitations. Such a narrow and limited construction is not to be presumed, unless clearly made necessary.

On the contrary, the history of legislation upon the matter of unpaid bounties points to a more liberal construction of the act. From time to time special acts have been passed giving bounties to certain soldiers whose claims against their towns or cities were for any reason void. For example, in Marsh v. Scituate, 153 Mass. 34, judgment was rendered for the defendant upon four actions to recover bounty money, upon the ground that the promise of the town relied upon was void. Thereupon, by Res. 1895, c. 125, the plaintiffs in said suits, together with twenty-three other persons, were voted a sum to be paid out of the treasury of the Commonwealth equivalent to the bounty promised them by the vote of the town, which had been adjudged illegal. There are many similar resolves upon the statute books. Vid. Res. 1895, cc. 123, 124, 126; Res. 1896, cc. 108, 104, 106, 107, 108, 109, 110, 115, 117. Many, if not all, of these special resolves were for the payment of bounties to soldiers, promised by votes of cities or towns which were void under the statutes of the Commonwealth. Other like claims were presented to the Legislature of 1897, which passed the act in question.

It is to be presumed that the Legislature, in the enactment of a general law providing for the payment of bounties from the treasury of the Commonwealth to veterans who had enlisted under promises made by towns and cities, had in mind the numerous special acts upon the same subject which had been passed by previous Legislatures, and the petitions for further grants of the same character which were then pending before it. It is a familiar principle of the construction of statutes that the history and general system of legislation upon any given subject may be taken into consideration in order to aid the construction of a statute relating to the same subject. Church v. Crocker, 3 Mass. 21. In view of the numerous special acts granting bounties to veterans of the civil war in cases where promises made to them by the towns were unauthorized and therefore void, it is beyond doubt that the purpose of the act in question was to pass a general law covering the whole subject matter by the appointment of a commission to adjudicate and pass upon all such claims.

I am of opinion, therefore, that it is not the duty of your commission to determine whether the promises of the towns were valid in law, or not. If a bounty was promised by a town or city, and the service was performed in consideration of such promise, the veteran is entitled to be reimbursed from the Commonwealth, if for any reason the bounty has not been paid by the town.

Yours very truly,

Registered pharmacist. — Selling liquor. — Plea of guilty. — Conviction.

A plea of guilty in the superior court by a registered pharmacist charged with selling liquor in violation of the terms of his license is a "conviction" within the meaning of St. 1896, c. 897, § 9, and the Board of Registration in Pharmacy has authority to revoke or suspend his license after due hearing.

Nov. 10, 1897.

H. M. WHITNEY, President, Board of Registration in Pharmacy.

DEAR SIR:—St. 1896, c. 897, provides, in section 7, that your Board shall hear all complaints made to them against any person registered as a pharmacist, charging him with suffering or permitting the use of his name or certificate of registration in the conduct of the business of pharmacy when he himself is not the owner and actively engaged in such business; or engaging in, aiding or abetting the violation, or, in his business as a pharmacist, violating any of the laws of the Commonwealth now under the supervision of the Board of Registration in Pharmacy, and especially the laws relating to the sale of intoxicating liquor. Section 9 provides that, if the Board find the person complained against to be guilty of the charges, they may suspend or revoke his registration, "but the license or certificate of registration of a registered pharmacist shall not be suspended or revoked for a cause punishable by law until after conviction by a court of competent jurisdiction."

The question stated in your letter of October 28 is whether a plea of guilty made by a person complained against in the superior court is a "conviction," within the meaning of that word as used in section 9, the material words of which are quoted above.

It is well settled that in its ordinary legal sense of the word "conviction," as used in the statutes of the Commonwealth, signifies that the defendant has pleaded guilty, or has been found guilty by the verdict of a jury. The exhaustive opinion of Chief Justice Gray, in Com. v. Lockwood, 109 Mass. 323, leaves no doubt that such was the meaning of the word "conviction," not only in the common law, but as it was used in the Constitution, and, for the most part, in the statutes of the Commonwealth. Moreover, it is expressly provided, in Pub. Sts., c. 200, § 5, that "No person indicted for an offence shall be convicted thereof, unless by confessing his guilt in open court, by admitting the truth of the charge against him by his plea or demurrer, or by the verdict of the jury accepted and recorded by the court."

In some statutes, however, the word is used as implying the judgment and sentence of the court upon a verdict or confession of guilt. For example, the provisions of the statutes (Pub. Sts., c. 169, § 19), that the conviction of a witness of crime may be shown to affect his credibility, has been held to be limited to cases where final judgment has been entered upon the verdict. Com. v. Gorham, 99 Mass. 420. So also in case of the plea of autrefois convict. Com. v. Lockwood, 109 Mass. 323, 329. These and other cases in which the word "conviction" is used in a more comprehensive sense as implying a judgment may be regarded, however, as exceptions to the general rule, arising in most instances from the fact that the record of the judgment is to be used as evidence in some other proceeding.

If in the statute under consideration the word "conviction" is to be taken to mean final judgment, it must be because of some special reason taking the case out of the general rule, as above stated. Elsewhere in the statute (section 16) the word "conviction" is used in its ordinary signification; and it is not to be presumed that the same word would be used in two senses in the same statute, unless there is some manifest reason therefor.

The purpose of the Legislature in the provision under consideration is not wholly clear. The conviction itself is not made evidence for the consideration of the Board, as in the case in Pub. Sts., c. 100, § 18, where the conviction operates as a forfeiture of license, and where, presumably, the word is used in the more comprehensive sense. The provision in question was probably intended to prevent the Board from trying the question of the guilt of the person complained of before he had had opportunity to defend himself before a jury. If this is so, there is no reason why the Board should be required to wait until judgment be entered before taking jurisdiction. If a person has confessed guilt in open court, or has been found guilty by a jury, it cannot properly be said that the Board are prejudicing his right to a fair trial in court by proceeding to try a complaint pending before them charging the same offence as that to which he has pleaded guilty, or upon which he has been found guilty by a jury. If it were otherwise, it would be in the power of the court or the district attorney to prevent indefinitely the revocation of the license of one who has violated the provisions of the statute. This, obviously, the Legislature did not contemplate, for the sole jurisdiction over pharmacists' licenses, and over the granting and revoking of them, is in the Board.

It is to be observed that the statute does not make the conviction of the person complained of a conclusive or adequate cause for revocation of his license by the Board, as doubtless would have been the case if the word "conviction" implied a final judgment. Notwithstanding the proceedings in court, the Board must still proceed to hear the case, and find for themselves, upon the evidence before them, that "the person is guilty of the acts charged against him."

I am of opinion, therefore, that after plea or verdict of guilty rendered against the complainant the Board have jurisdiction to suspend or revoke the license of the person complained against, upon due hearing as provided in the statutes.

Yours very truly,

HOSEA M. KNOWLTON, Attorney-General.

Member of Legislature.—Contract in which State is interested.—Payment.

A contract made by the trustees of the Massachusetts Hospital for Epileptics with a member of the Legislature for the installation of a boiler and other heating apparatus in the hospital subjects the member to a fine, under Pub. Sts., c. 205, § 12, is illegal, and the member cannot recover upon it in an action at law; yet, the work under it having been nearly completed before either party knew of the provision of the statute forbidding the member from making it, the trustees may waive the right to insist upon the defence of illegality, and pay to the contractor the amount they find equitably due him on the contract.

Nov. 17, 1897.

WILLIAM N. BULLARD, M.D.,

Chairman of Trustees of Massachusetts Hospital for Epileptics.

DEAR SIR:—Your letter of November 11 discloses the following facts. Acting under the authority of St. 1895, c. 483, § 2, the trustees of the Massachusetts Hospital for Epileptics, having duly advertised for proposals, made a contract with the lowest responsible bidder for the installation of a boiler and other heating apparatus for the hospital being erected under the supervision of the Board, the contract price being about $1,600. The contract was awarded to the lowest responsible bidder, after due investigation of his ability. He has practically completed the work in accordance with the terms of the contract, and to the satisfaction of the Board. It thus appears that all the requirements of the statute binding upon the trustees have been complied with, and that the contractor would be entitled to receive his money unless prevented by the following facts.

The contractor is a member of the Legislature of 1897, and under the provisions of Pub. Sts., c. 205, § 12, the making of such a contract was prohibited to him. The section substantially provides that if a member of the Legislature is personally interested in a contract in which the State is a party interested, which is made by a State commission or by authority derived therefrom, he is liable to punishment by fine or imprisonment. I am informed that when the contract was signed, and until within a short time before the completion of the work, neither the contractor nor the trustees were aware of this provision; and that when the matter was called to the contractor's attention he immediately ceased work. This, however, was not until the contract was substantially performed.

It is well settled that no recovery can be had in law upon an illegal contract. Miller v. Post, 1 Allen 434; Goddard v. Rawson, 130 Mass. 97. This is true not only in a suit upon the contract, but also upon open account for the value of services or materials furnished. In other words, the contractor or purchaser may retain the proceeds of an illegal contract, and cannot be sued for the price thereof by a person who in making the contract was guilty of a violation of law. One who is benefited by a contract made upon the Lord's day could not be held liable in a suit brought upon such contract, even though the fruits of the contract remained in his hands. Ladd v. Rogers, 11 Allen, 209; Cardoze v. Swift, 113 Mass. 250. The trustees, therefore, may retain the results of the work done under the contract, and defend the Commonwealth against any suit brought therefor in whatever form by the contractor.

But this is a matter of defence only. The trustees have committed no offence, the prohibition being against a member of the Legislature only. It is not illegal for one who has received the proceeds of a contract which is so prohibited to pay the price agreed upon. He may waive his rights in law, and treat the contract as subsisting. For example, one who buys coal which was not duly weighed by a sworn weigher, might, prior to a statute altering the principles of the common law, keep the coal and successfully defend a suit for the price of the same. But if the person receiving the benefit of such a prohibited or illegal contract sees fit to pay the price of what he has received, he commits no offence, and is not guilty of violating any statute.

The trustees, having complied with all the provisions of the statute applicable to them, have the right in their discretion to pay to the contractor the amount which they find equitably due him thereon, waiving their right to insist upon any defences that would be open to them by reason of the illegality of the contract on his part.

Yours very truly,

Foreign insurance company. — Reinsurance of Massachusetts risks.

An insurance company organized under the laws of another state or government, and admitted to do business in this Commonwealth, has no authority to effect reinsurance on risks taken by it in Massachusetts in companies not authorized to do business in this Commonwealth.

DEC. 1, 1897.

HON. FREDERICK L. CUTTING, Insurance Commissioner.

DEAR SIR:—Your letter of Nov. 4, 1897, requires my opinion upon the following question: Have insurance corporations, organized under the laws of another state or government, and duly admitted to do business in this state, authority to effect reinsurance on Massachusetts risks in corporations not authorized to do business in this Commonwealth?

St. 1894. c. 522, § 84, provides in terms that “no company of another state or government shall directly or indirectly contract for or effect reinsurance on any risk in Massachusetts with any company not authorized to do business therein.” If this provision is not modified by any other statute, it furnishes a conclusive answer to your question.

It is probable that your question was suggested by the apparently contradictory provision of section 20 of the same statute from which the above provision is quoted. That section is as follows: “If any company authorized to transact the business of insurance in this Commonwealth shall directly or indirectly contract for or effect any reinsurance of any risk or part thereof taken by it, it shall make a sworn report thereof to the Insurance Commissioner at the time of filing its annual statement, or at such other time as he may request; and such reinsurance, except so far as it is in companies authorized to do business in this Commonwealth, shall not reduce the reserve required of it or the taxes to be paid by it, or increase the amount it is authorized to have at risk in any town or fire insurance district." Inasmuch as this provision seems to recognize reinsurance with companies not authorized to do business in this Commonwealth, there is an apparent contradiction between the two provisions.

It is to be observed, however, that the section last quoted is not limited to insurance in Massachusetts. I am of opinion, therefore, that the provision in section 84 above quoted is to be construed as a proviso or limitation of the general provisions in section 20. Taking the two sections thus together, they amount to a requirement that in all cases of reinsurance by a company of any risk, whether within or without the Commonwealth, a sworn report thereof shall be made to the Insurance Commissioner; and that such reinsurance (excepting in companies authorized to do business in the Commonwealth) shall not reduce the reserve required or the taxes to be paid; provided, that no reinsurance by a foreign insurance company of any risk in Massachusetts shall be made with any company not authorized to do business in the Commonwealth. Thus construed, the provisions are not inconsistent.

Your question is, therefore, to be answered in the negative.

Yours very truly,

HOSEA M. KNOWLTON, Attorney-General.

Assessment Insurance. — Sick-benefit business. — St. 1890, c. 421.

St. 1890, c. 421, does not allow the Berkshire Health and Accident Association, an assessment insurance company, to continue to contract to pay benefits for disability caused by illness, although its charter and previous statutes did allow it to make such contracts.

DEC. 4, 1897.

HON. FREDERICK L. CUTTING, Insurance Commissioner.

DEAR SIR: — Your letter of the 1st inst., requires my opinion upon the question whether the Berkshire Health and Accident Association, a Massachusetts corporation, is authorized to contract for the paying of weekly benefits for disability caused by illness.

The Berkshire Health and Accident Association was incorporated Jan. 18, 1885, under the provisions of Pub. Sts., c. 115, as amended and enlarged by St. 1882, c. 195. The purpose of the organization as set forth in its articles of association was the "providing a weekly benefit for its members in case of total disability from accident or illness." This purpose was a legal one under the provisions of statutes then in force, and under which it was incorporated.

By St. 1885, c. 183, assessment insurance was defined and regulated, and all companies carrying on the business of assessment insurance were declared to be subject to the provisions of that statute, excepting only the so-called fraternal beneficiary corporations. This corporation is not, and never was, a fraternal beneficiary corporation. The statute of 1885, c. 183, in section 1 provided that "Every contract whereby a benefit is to accrue to a party or parties named therein upon the death or physical disability of a person, which benefit is in any degree or manner conditioned upon the collection of an assessment upon persons holding similar contracts, shall be deemed a contract of insurance on the assessment plan." The act further provided that the business involving the issuance of such contracts should be carried on only by duly organized corporations, subject to the provisions and requirements of said act. The same section further provided as follows: "If the benefit is to accrue through the death of the insured person, the contract shall be of life insurance; if through the accidental death only, or the physical disability from accident or sickness of the insured, it shall be casualty insurance." Under these provisions the corporation in question could lawfully provide for the payment of benefits to persons disabled by illness.

St. 1890, c. 421, was another general law relating to assessment insurance superseding the statutes of 1885, and all other laws, theretofore passed upon the subject of assessment insurance. This statute, which is practically the existing law relating to assessment insurance, contained an important modification of the provisions of the previous law upon the subject (St. 1885, c. 183), the provisions of which I have quoted above. This modification consisted in the elimination of contracts for benefits to be paid in consequence of physical disability arising from sickness. The exact words of section 1 are as follows: "If the benefit is to accrue through the death of the insured person, the contract shall be of life insurance; if through the accidental death only, or the physical disability from accident of the insured, it shall be of casualty insurance." The words "or sickness" contained in the statute of 1885 are omitted in the statute of 1890. The omission of these words plainly indicated that the Legislature did not intend longer to authorize the making of contracts of insurance providing for the payment of benefits to persons disabled by illness. The reasons for thus omitting what are commonly called "sick benefits" it is not necessary now to consider, although they seem sufficiently obvious.

It remains to consider whether the statute of 1890 has made any exceptions in favor of existing companies like the one in question, which by their original charters were authorized to pay benefits to persons disabled by illness. Upon this question the provisions of St. of 1890 seem to be sufficiently explicit. Section 1, after defining assessment insurance, provides in terms that "the business involving the issuance of such contracts (to wit, contracts of insurance upon the assessment plan) shall be carried on in this Commonwealth only by duly organized corporations subject to the provisions and requirements of this act." Then, after providing for two forms of contracts, to wit: first, where benefit accrues from the death of the insured person, and: second, where it accrues through accidental death or disability from accident of the insured, the section provides that "such business shall be lawful only as defined and permitted by this act." The eight following sections provide for the formation of corporations to transact the business of life or casualty insurance, arising from accident or death, on the assessment plan; and section 9 provides that "Corporations so organized may transact the business of life or casualty insurance arising from accident, or both, on the assessment plan." Section 25 of the same act is as follows: "Any corporation existing under the laws of this Commonwealth and now engaged in transacting the business of insurance on the assessment plan, may re-incorporate under the provisions of this act: provided, that nothing in this act contained shall be construed as requiring or making it obligatory upon any such corporation to re-incorporate, and any such corporation may continue to exercise all the rights, powers and privileges conferred by this act, or its articles of incorporation not inconsistent herewith, and shall be subject to the requirements and penalties of this act the same as if re-incorporated hereunder."

Taking these and the other provisions of St. 1890 together, it is plain that the Legislature intended to authorize the business of assessment insurance to be carried on only in the two ways specified in section 1, viz., life insurance and casualty insurance; meaning by casualty insurance contracts for the payment of benefits in cases of accidental death, or of disability arising from accident. No other forms of assessment insurance were intended to be recognized or authorized. Corporations thereafterwards organized could carry on either or both of the specified classes of assessment insurance. Corporations already in existence and carrying on assessment insurance business of any kind could reincorporate under the act, or could continue their business, exercising all the rights conferred by their articles of incorporation not inconsistent with the provisions of the statutes of 1890.

While it is undoubtedly true that the purpose of the Legislature to prohibit the business carried on under the common designation of "sick benefits" could have been more plainly expressed, its purpose, upon consideration of all the provisions of the act, is sufficiently clear and unmistakable.

I am of opinion, therefore, that the corporation in question may not make contracts providing for the paying of benefits for disability caused by illness.

Yours very truly,

HOSEA M. KNOWLTON, Attorney-General.

Armories. — Use. — Fair for charity.

Armories provided for the militia under St. 1888, c. 384, may not be used by a regiment for the purpose of holding a fair for the benefit of a charitable society.

Dec. 6. 1897.

Maj.-Gen. SAMUEL DALTON, Adjutant-General.

DEAR SIR:—Your letter of the 3d requires my opinion upon the question whether troops located in armories provided under St. 1888, c. 384, may "use the armories for the benefit of outside charities." Your letter further states that in the specific case upon which the question arises it is proposed by a regiment of volunteer militia to hold a fair for the benefit of a charitable society, to wit: the Home for Consumptives.

St. 1895, c. 465, § 5, provides as follows: "Armories provided for the militia under the provisions of chapter three hundred and eighty-four of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and eighty-eight shall not be used except by the active militia of this Commonwealth, and they shall not be loaned or let to any one except for a proper military purpose, and then only when the application is approved by the commander-in-chief and intermediate commanders."

The plain purpose of this statute is to forbid the use of armories provided for the militia excepting by the active militia, and for proper military purposes. Your question must be answered in the negative.

Expenses of jails. — Appropriation. — County treasurer. — St. 1897, c. 153, § 10.

Salaries of jailers, masters and assistants, and expenses incurred for the support of prisoners in jails and houses of correction, are expenditures "required by law," and the appropriation for them having been used before the end of the financial year, the county treasurer may pay them for the remainder of the year, under St. 1897, c. 153, § 10, out of any money in the county treasury.

CHARLES R. PRESCOTT, Esq., Controller of County Accounts.

DEAR SIR: — St. 1897, c. 153, § 10, is adapted to meet the difficulties suggested in your letter of December 6. The facts you state are that, in the county in question, the appropriations have proved not to be sufficient to pay the expenses incurred for "salaries of jailers, masters and assistants, and the support of prisoners in jails and houses of correction;" and that the amount, owing to unforeseen contingencies, was all expended in eleven months of the financial year.

The expenditures referred to are "required by law," and are therefore within the provisions of section 10, above referred to, which provides in terms that "Whenever the appropriation for any purpose is insufficient to meet any expenditure required by law the county treasurer may, on the order of the county commissioners, make payment for such legally required purpose out of any money in the county treasury." The salaries of the persons named are fixed by law, and the prisoners must be supported. It is not always possible to foresee the amount required for such purposes, particularly the support of prisoners. It was the obvious intention of the Legislature to provide for just such contingencies by the section referred to.

Yours very truly,

HOSEA M. KNOWLTON, Attorney-General.

Tender. — Surety. — St. 1897, c. 438. — St. 1890, c. 215.

Moneys paid to clerks of municipal or district courts as "tender" and as "surety" in lieu of bond on appeal, in civil cases, are included in the provisions of St. 1887, c. 438, §§ 3, 4 and 6, and the Controller of County Accounts has the right to require an accounting of them.

The same moneys, if, for any reason, they remain in the hands of clerks, come within the provisions of St. 1890, c. 215, and should be deposited in a national bank.

DEC. 20, 1897.

CHARLES R. PRESCOTT, Controller of County Accounts.

DEAR SIR: — Your letter of November 18 requires my opinion upon the following questions, to wit: —

1. Are moneys paid to the clerk of a municipal or district court as "tender," in civil cases, included in the funds or moneys described in and included in the provisions of St. 1887, c. 438, §§ 3, 4 and 6?

2. Are moneys paid into court as "surety," in lieu of bond on appeal in civil cases, so included?

3. Are the moneys above designated included in and covered by the provisions of St. 1890, c. 215?

The first two questions may be properly considered together.

St. of 1887, c. 438, § 3, provides that the controller "shall visit . . . at least once a year . . . all . . . clerks of police, municipal or district courts . . . and at such times shall make an examination of the books, accounts and vouchers of the aforesaid officers, ascertaining in detail the various items of receipts and expenditures; and said controller shall ascertain the actual amount of cash or money on hand in any of the aforesaid departments or with any of said officers." Section 4 of the same chapter provides that it shall be "the duty of all such officers . . . to make returns and exhibits under oath to said controller in such form and at such time or times as he shall prescribe." Section 6 provides that the said officers shall "keep an accurate record of . . . all sums of money which have in any way been charged or received by them or to their use by reason or on account of their offices or in their official capacity."

By St. 1890, c. 216, § 2, it is further provided that the officers named in section 3 (above quoted) who "shall neglect or refuse to record or cause to be recorded in the cash book prescribed by the controller of county accounts an accurate classification of all moneys received and expended or paid out by them in their official capacity, or by reason or on account of the same," shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

I understand that it is claimed by some of the clerks of such courts that moneys paid as "tender" or "surety" are not within the provisions of the above statutes, and therefore are not included in the funds which the clerks are required to keep an account of, subject to the examination of the controller; and that consequently the controller cannot by right demand to see the accounts or statements of receipts and disbursements of money so derived, nor to see vouchers of payments so made, nor to know or verify the actual balance on hand belonging to either account. This contention is based upon the fact that moneys paid as "tender" and as "surety" are not public funds. They are moneys in which neither the county nor the municipality is interested, but only the parties to the suit. The controller, being a public officer, is not concerned, it is claimed, in such moneys, and consequently has no right to examine the accounts of them.

The difficulty with this contention lies in the fact that the language of the statute is explicit and comprehensive. Money paid as "tender" or as "surety," though not paid for the use of the public, is, nevertheless, paid to the clerk as a public officer, and received, held and paid out by him as such. The statute expressly includes "all moneys which have in any way been charged or received by them or to their use by reason or on account of their said offices or in their official capacity." I am of opinion that this language cannot be so limited as to exclude money received or paid for any purpose by clerks in their official capacity.

The purpose of the statute, moreover, clearly looks to an examination of all funds received by such officers, whether on public or on private account. If a clerk had money in his hands as clerk, which he was not required to keep and exhibit an account of to the controller, that officer would be unable to verify his accounts accurately, or to know with the certainty which the statute intends, the actual state of his cash. Money not required to be kept in the accounts exhibited to the controller could be transferred to the moneys so required to be kept in such a way that the accounts would appear to be correct, even when there was in fact an actual deficit. The only way in which the controller can keep fully informed of the facts is by requiring accounts to be kept of all moneys received by clerks in their official capacity. If that is done, the controller can check up the items of receipts and payments, and ascertain if the cash on hand corresponds thereto.

St. 1888, c. 275, which, in reference to the duties of the controller, uses the expression "public funds," does not, in my opinion, affect the question. That statute provides that the controller shall in his annual report make such suggestions and recommendations to the General Court as, in his judgment, will tend to simple, uniform and economical method of accounting for public funds. Whatever that statute may mean, it relates to the duties of the controller, but does not modify the provisions of the statutes fixing the duties of clerks.

I am of opinion, therefore, that the first two questions must be answered in the affirmative.

The third question is, whether moneys paid to a clerk as "tender" or as "surety" are included in the provisions of St. 1890, c. 215. That statute provides that "clerks of police, district and municipal courts, having cash funds in their hands as such officers beyond what is required for immediate use, shall make deposit thereof as trustees in some national bank located in the county in which said officers serve."

I am of opinion that the reasons stated above, which require an affirmative answer to your first two questions, are as well applicable to the determination of this question. Both classes of funds referred to by your question are in the hands of the clerks as public officers, and are not required for immediate use. If they are deposited as required by this statute, the controller is enabled, as already stated, to check up and verify the accounts of the clerks.

It has been claimed that money paid as "tender" should be kept in specie, for the reason that it is said to be important for the parties to know whether the tender to the defendant by the plaintiff was made in lawful money. But the fact that lawful money is paid to the clerk is not evidence that money of that character was originally tendered. Bad money might have been offered to the plaintiff, and good money brought into court.

It is of no consequence what sort of money is paid to the clerk, if he accepts it for the amount intended to be paid. Many technicalities surrounded the subject of tender under the common law; among them that only certain classes of money, to wit, gold and silver, or paper money declared by the government to be legal tender, should be used, thus excluding even bills of national banks. There could be no tender at common law after suit brought. This was cured by statute; and it is provided (Pub. Sts., c. 168, § 24, et seq.) that a tender may be made, in certain cases, after action brought, and be availed of in defence if the amount tendered be paid into court. The words of the statute are, "bringing into court the amount so tendered for costs, as well as for the debt or damage." It is not the "money" tendered that must be delivered to the clerk, but the "amount." There is, therefore, no obligation on the part of the clerk to keep it separate. It follows that the amount so paid becomes funds in his hands as a public officer, and subject to the provisions of the statute referred to.

Money paid as "surety" stands upon the same principle. The statute makes it the duty of clerks of inferior courts receiving money in lieu of bond to "transmit the same with the papers to the clerk of the superior court to which the appeal is taken." If the money received is transmitted forthwith, there is of course no reason for depositing it in a national bank; but if for any reason it remains in the hands of the clerk, it comes within the provisions of the statute.

Yours very truly,

OPINIONS UPON APPLICATIONS FOR LEAVE TO FILE
INFORMATIONS IN THE NAME OF THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

· ATTORNEY-GENERAL v. SELECTMEN OF WELLESLEY.

An information for a writ of mandamus will not be signed by the attorney-general when upon the facts shown it is clear that the duty for the neglect of which mandamus is sought will be performed by the respondents before the case can be heard by the court.

Oct. 29, 1897.

This was an application by the Democratic committee of the town of Wellesley for an information against the selectmen of that town.

The information set forth that John H. Sheridan and Charles M. Eaton, who were appointed upon the board of registrars of said town of Wellesley as Democrats, had ceased to act with the Democratic party, and were not entitled to serve as the Democratic members of the board of registration; that the town committee had notified the selectmen that Sheridan and Eaton had so ceased to act with the Democratic party; and that on the eleventh day of October they filed with the selectmen a written complaint setting forth the facts, and requesting the removal of Sheridan and Eaton.

The prayer of the information was for a writ of mandamus to the selectmen, commanding them to remove the said Sheridan and Eaton from their offices as registrars of voters, and to appoint members of the Democratic party in their places.

St. 1883, c. 417, after providing for a board of registration, which shall represent the two leading political parties, further provides, in section 29, that "Whenever, upon written complaint . . . to the selectmen of a town, and after notice and hearing, it shall appear that a registrar of voters, other than the . . . town clerk, has ceased to act with the political party which he was appointed to represent, the . . . selectmen . . . shall remove such registrar from office." Under this statute the jurisdiction of determining whether a registrar "has ceased to act with the political party which he was appointed to represent" is given to the selectmen. It is the duty of that board, when complaint is made, to give notice to the party complained against, and to hear and determine the question. If they refuse to give such a hearing, mandamus lies to compel them so to do. If, therefore, there were no other facts than those stated in the petition, I should deem it my duty to sign the information, to the end that the complaint of the Democratic town committee might be duly heard and determined.

But it appeared at the hearing before me that about the time the information was presented in this office the selectmen had ordered a hearing upon the complaint of the Democratic committee, to be had November 16. The only result, therefore, which could come from the filing of this petition, would be a writ of mandamus to compel the board to perform a duty which will have been performed before the case can be heard by the court. Under these circumstances, I am of opinion that the use of the name of the Attorney-General should not be granted to the information.

It was strenuously urged at the hearing that by reason of the neglect of the selectmen the party which the petitioners represent has lost the right of being represented in the registration for the pending election. Whether this is so or not it is not necessary to determine, for, even if it be so, mandamus will not remedy the wrong. If through any neglect or failure of duty on the part of the selectmen the petitioners have lost rights, their remedy is by indictment. Mandamus does not lie to punish violations of the criminal law.

HOSEA M. KNOWLTON, Attorney-General.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL ex rel v. RICHARD BRAY.

AN information in the nature of quo warranto will not be signed by the attorney-general excepting in cases where the question of the construction of a law affecting the Commonwealth generally is involved, or when the Commonwealth as such is for any reason interested in the doctrine of the question, or where no other remedy is open to the relator. When the question involved is purely local, and one in which the Commonwealth has no interest, mandamus is the more proper remedy.

DEC. 20, 1897.

This was an application to the Attorney-General for the filing of an information in the nature of quo warranto against the respondent to try his title to the office of superintendent of public buildings in Lowell. At the hearing it appeared that the respondent was holding the office lawfully, unless he had been removed therefrom by the election of the relator. The relator had been elected to the office by the common council, and the question upon concurring in the election came before the board of aldermen in due course. A dispute occurred between the mayor, who presided at the meeting of the board of aldermen, and one of the board, as to the proper disposition of certain alleged dilatory motions. Finally one of the aldermen assumed charge of the meeting, entertained and put certain motions, which resulted in the election of the relator. The mayor and a minority of the board denied the right of the alderman in question so to do. The sole question raised by the information is whether the proceedings in the board of aldermen, by which it is alleged that the relator was elected to the office, were legally conducted.

There is no question of the power of the Attorney-General to file an information in the nature of quo warranto against a person intruding upon a public office. This proceeding is a proper remedy to try the title between rival claimants to such office. 1 Spilling's Extraordinary Relief, § 620; 2 Spilling's Extraordinary Relief, § 1374. If, therefore, the position of superintendent of public buildings in Lowell is a public office, the Attorney-General may bring an information against the person usurping the office.

I do not deem it necessary, however, to determine the question whether the office of superintendent of public buildings is a public office, being of the opinion, upon other grounds, that it is my duty to refuse to sign the information.

The case in question presents no question of the consideration of a law of the Commonwealth. If a public office, it is not one which is of importance to the citizens of the Commonwealth generally. It has no connection with any department of the Commonwealth, nor with the expenditure of its money. It is a purely local question. While, technically, assuming it to be a public office, it is one the wrongful holding of which may be inquired into upon information by the Attorney-General representing the public, it is obviously not one of the class of cases for which the remedy of quo warranto was principally designed.

If an information by the Attorney-General were the only remedy open to the relator, the case might stand differently; but the Supreme Judicial Court has declared, in express terms, in a case similar in all respects to this, that a writ of mandamus "affords the speediest and best method of settling the dispute of rival claimants to a municipal office." Keough v. Holyoke, 156 Mass. 403. Vid. also Russell v. Wellington, 157 Mass. 100, 106. This remedy, which has thus been approved by the judgment of the Supreme Judicial Court, is open to the relator.

The practice of this office in respect to the filing of informations in the nature of quo warranto has not been uniform, even during the administration of the present incumbent. In view, however, of the increasing frequency of such applications, in cases where only minor or purely municipal officers are involved, I am of opinion that a definite rule should be adopted in the matter, and that the use of the name of the Attorney-General should be invoked only in cases of the character I have indicated. When a question of the construction of a law affecting the Commonwealth generally is involved, or when the Commonwealth, as such, is, for any reason, interested in the determination of the question, the information may, with propriety, be filed by the Attorney-General, regardless of the importance of the office. But when the question is purely local, and one in which the Commonwealth is in no way interested, excepting so far as the issue involved is technically, only, a public one, I am of opinion that the parties should be relegated to the use of the writ of mandamus, if that remedy be open to them.

For the foregoing reasons I decline to sign the information.

RULES OF PRACTICE IN INTERSTATE RENDITION.

Every application to the governor for a requisition upon the executive authority of any other State or Territory, for the delivery up and return of any offender who has fled from the justice of this Commonwealth, must be made by the district or prosecuting attorney for the county or district in which the offence was committed, and must be in duplicate original papers, or certified copies thereof.

The following must appear by the certificate of the district or prosecuting attorney : —

(a) The full name of the person for whom extradition is asked, together with the name of the agent proposed, to be properly spelled.

(b) That, in his opinion, the ends of public justice require that the alleged criminal be brought to this Commonwealth for trial, at the public expense.

(c) That he believes he has sufficient evidence to secure the conviction of the fugitive.

(d) That the person named as agent is a proper person, and that he has no private interest in the arrest of the fugitive.

(e) If there has been any former application for a requisition for the same person, growing out of the same transaction, it must be so stated, with an explanation of the reasons for a second request, together with the date of such application, as near as may be.

(f) If the fugitive is known to be under either civil or criminal arrest in the State or Territory to which he is alleged to have fled, the fact of such arrest and the nature of the proceedings on which it is based must be stated.

(g) That the application is not made for the purpose of enforcing the collection of a debt, or for any private purpose whatever; and that, if the requisition applied for be granted, the criminal proceedings shall not be used for any of said objects.
